Odd Ground for Lawsuit

Samuel Davis, court stenographer of the Second circuit, says that an Irishman who several years ago tried to engage the legal services of his father had the oddest ground for a lawsuit he has ever heard of. The Irishman wanted to sue his landlady for $15. He explained that he made a contract to pay her $3 a week for board, but she was to deduct 25 cents for every meal he missed. Having got the contract duly signed, Pat began to board elsewhere and charged the lady with whom he had contracted 25 cents for every meal he missed. He figured that by managing this way he missed $5.25 worth of meals each week, for which his contract required him to pay only $3, so that by staying away he made $2.25 clear. The landlady refused to pay him his "profits," and he wanted Mr. Davis to bring suit against her for him. "Father laughed at him a bit," Mr. Davis says,

"and he got indignant. 'A contract is a contract,' said Pat, 'and she ought to be made to live up to her'n just as well as me to mine.' There were several other lawyers in town, and some of them were pretty hard up for cases, but I don't know of anybody that took that one after father turned it down."—Kansas City Journal.

 "Of what, dear?"
 "Telling the naked truth!"—Princeton Tiger.

Encourage Lavish Attire

Is it within the remotest bounds of probability that the charge (of extravagance in dress) brought against us would gain a hearing in a season which we have every reason to expect will be the most brilliant that has been known for many years? Apart from their duties as hostesses, women can do nothing better in this direction than to make themselves as dazzling as possible, and, if needs be, spend lavishly both time and money upon their personal adornment. —London Lady's Pictorial.

Needs of Femininity

"Yes, ladies," announced the physical culturist, "you will be surprised at the miracles my system can work. It can increase your shoulder measurement several inches, add to your stature and grace give you—"
 "But," interrupts a fair pupil, "our dressmakers can do all that for us in no time. What we want to know is how to get a twenty-three-inch waist into a sixteen-inch bodice and a No. 5 foot into a No. 2 shoe without taking chloroform."—Life.
