NEW YORK, July 1 -R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade tomorrow will

A new fiscal year has commenced un-der more favorable auspices than appeared possible a short time ago, the improve-ment being due in no small measure to the greater conservatism that was an out-growth of unsettled conditions. Beasonable weather has also contributed to the better distribution of merchandise.

works. Foot wear signufacturers in New Eng-land have received liberal supplementary orders for fall shoes from easiern jobbers in addition to a fair supply of contracts aiready on hand.

In andition to a far supply of contracts already on hand. A quiet season in the leather market has produced small concessions in prices of hemiock sole and oak beiting butts, while harness leather is now the most active fea-ture. Both domestic and foreign hides av-erage a small fraction lower for the week, with a large transaction in goods damaged by floods the top feature. Slight advances are recorded in some di-visions of the cotton market, but the changes are practically nominal.

TRADE OUTLOOK IMPROVES.

Bradstreet Says Warm Weather Makes Brisker Sales of Summer Goods.

NEW YORK, July 1 .- Bradstreet's tomorrow will say: Warm forcing weather has been the key-note of the situation this week, inducing ravorable conditions for the winter wheat harvest, special progress by corn and cot-ton, enlargement in retail trade in summer goods, heretofore backward, and what is most important of all, bringing about a much more cheerful feeling as to the future outlook for business generally. Additional reports as to the past six months are guite favorable, despite earlier unfavorable con-ditions. morrow will say:

The declines were on the near positions, with August showing the greatest weakness on the better cables, accompanied by reports that short nolices were pressing on the market in Liverpool. This brought out considerable selling and shortly a decline of 20 points was apparent on August, with the late months showing comparative steadhness in spite of the fine weather as a result of uncertainty over in August, with the late months showing comparative steadhness in spite of the fine weather as a result of uncertainty over in a decline of 20 points was apparent on August, with the late months showing comparative steadhness in spite of the fine weather as a result of uncertainty over in a dightly from the lowest point by the cov-ering and when the government report. Just before midday the market was rallied alightly from the lowest point by the cov-ering and when the government report ar-rived September was selling at 11.52c and October at 10.36c, while August had recov-ered to 12.5kc. When the government ag-ures were announced placing the average for the entire bell at 77.1, against 74.1 the preceding month, there was great excite-ment and considerable activity. The figures were just about an average of popular opinion and consequently two factions were disappointed, with the result that early buyers on expectation of condition around 75. AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA Nine-Mill Levy in Prospect on Eighteen Million Dollar Valuation. CITY TO ISSUE $70,000 FUNDING BONDS Quiet Fourth is Anticipated-J. J. 62% 62% Pairidge Resigns from Swift's-Gossip of the Magie City. Tax Commissioner Fitzgerald and his deputies worked all day yesterday and far into the night making totals in the 1902 tax books in order that a completed report may be sent to the city council Monday night. It will take the commissloner up to Monday afternoon to complete his returns. When this is done the council will be in a position to go ahead and make the annual appropriation and the levy.

NO 5 5215 Those who have been figuring on the valuation at $15,000,000 are confident that the city can get along this year with a 9 mill levy. This will be a slight reduction from the levy of last year.

The issuing of $70,000 refunding bonds will cut down the interest account considerably, but at the same time provision will have to be made for taking care of a number of outstanding bonds, which will fall due this year. Then there is the bill of the Omaha Water company, which amounts to over $12,000. Officials of the company assert that this bill must be paid Some sales are undoubtedly the close of last week, while in full before any more fire hydrants will quarter lower. In most cases be located. If it is possible more money has been the greatest on the will be provided for the water and lighttill very little doing in feeders. The light and so also is the delice funds will be taken care of out of the coming bond issue, but even with these funds free from debt the Fire and Police board requests a lovy sufficient to give $38,000 for the maintenance of the two departments. With a lovy of 9 mills and the provision made for the overlap the city will be in good financial condition and may possibly be able to get through the fiscal year without an overlap in any of the funds.

Advertising Bonds.

City Clerk Shrigley placed in the Omaha Daily Bee yesterday an advertisement for bids on $70,000 refunding bonds. Proposals will be received by the clerk up to 8 p. m. on July 13. All bids must be in writing and must be unconditional. A certified check for $3,000 must accompany all bids as an evidence of good faith. In case a bld is accepted payment in full must be made within twenty days from the date of sale. The city reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

Quiet Fourth Promised. Ther will be no market at the stock yards today, and although all stock arriving will be yarded and fed, only a few men will be kept on duty. At the packing houses only enough men will be retained to keep the ice machines going. All of the banks and the city offices will be closed all day and there will be only one delivery of mail, As no arrangements have been made for a celebration here, it is thought that the majority of citizens will seek some of the resorts. A number of fishing parties left last night to camp out until Monday but the common and medium kinds were slow sale, the same as they have been all the week. As compared with the close of last week, the choice grades of cornfed cows and heifers are not a great deal lower, but all others have suffered con-siderably. As a general thing the decline is put at right around a quarter, with extreme cases a little more. It has been a very uneven market all the week and the prices secured for grassers and medium cornfeds have been largely a matter of luck. Canners especially have been hard to dispose of, but they are not a great deal lower for the week, as they have been low sellers for some little time. They sell mostly from $1.76 to $2.50, fair to good grass cows go from $3.76 to $3.00 and good to choice mostly from $3.00 to $3.25, with fancy grades from that up. Fair to good good : choice from $3.75 to $4.25, with fancy grades from that up. Good fat buils have heen mary steady all the week, but stock buils have been

Good fat buils have held nearly steady all the week, but stock buils have been dull and lower. Veal calves are about for lower. Good veals are now selling around $5.00 and $5.25. There were not enough stock cattle on sale today to talk about. The tendency of prices has been downward this week, as the demand from the country has been very limited. The most of them have sold logistic lower than last week. Representa-tive sales:
