EVANSVILLE, Ind., July 6.-Following four days of rioting and general lawlessness, this city tonight saw the most terrible of its experiences with rioters. Seven persons are dead and fourteen are known to be injured and at least that number more are thought to be hurt.

At 10:30 tonight the members of Company A. First regiment Indiana National Guard, after a day's vigilance guarding the county jail and 100 deputy sheriffs under Sheriff. Chris Kratz, fired point blank into a mob of 1,000 men gathered in Fourth, Division and Vine streets, surrounding the Vanderburg county jail, and attempting its cap-

From 7 a. m. to the hour of tonight's catastrophe, the crowd surged about the jail, calling the militiamen vile names, asmailing them with stones and berating the deputy sheriffs who guarded the jail. The mob had gradually become more and more excited, and its manifestations of uneasiness more frequent, till at 10 it was seen that nothing could prevent an assault on

At 10:30 the rioters pressed forward with determination. They forced the crowd back toward the jail until the alleyway between Division street and the stone building was reached.

Bicycle Screens Attack.

Then the leaders with a bicycle in front as a shield against the soldiers' bayonets, attempted to enter the alley and storm the entrance.

Captain Blum of the National Guard ordered a charge. Gradually the crowd was forced back, the soldiers using their bayonets and the butts of their guns. Suddenly a rioter fell. A soldier tried to drag him to his feet, but before he sould do so was assaulted by a rioter. Stones and boulders flew through the air. A soldier was struck with a rock and fell. A rioter was knocked down with a gun butt, and then a shot was fired. The one shot started a fusillade of musketry and shotgun fire from the defenders of the jail and a scattered return fire from the rioters. Fully 300 shots were fired from the jail windows, the court house steps immediately opposite and by the soldiers in the

No one knows who fired the first shot The soldiers say it was the rioters.

Governor Durbin is said to have in structed the authorities not to jeopardize the safety of the jail with half-way measures. The soldiers and deputies fired into the retreating mob of men who ran into Division street. For fifteen minutes the firing continued. In front of the staggering band of fifty-eight soldiers lay the dead and wounded.

All over the street, crawling and moaning, wounded rioters and onlookers tried to ease their pain and escape from the On the street, lying between her griefstricken father and mother, the ittie Allaman girl was dead with her breast torn away by a buckshot charge. She was out driving with her parents, who stopped a few minutes to watch the excitement. In the yard of the court house wounded eters lay, and back of the line of soldiers fro of the militiamen had failen.

Orders Militia to Stay Fight. On the jall steps stood Sheriff Kratz. At his side was Colonel McCoy of the First regiment. Around them stood a few doc tors and reporters. When the firing ceased Captain Blum re-formed his men and gave them orders: "Keep that mob back, call on them to halt; if they don't halt, shoot them down. We cannot take any more chances. Men, be careful, but for God's sake keep a close watch," shouted the captain, and his men prepared for another struggle. It did not come. The rioters scattered quickly, fearing that another charge would be made. They stood in knots around the corners in the vicinity uttering dire threats against the officers and the militia. Many rioters tried to change their post-tions and were greeted with cries of "Halt!" accompanied by the clicking of rifles. Within half an hour things had become so quiet that care had been taken of the dead and Inside the jail forty-three prisoners were

LATEST FROM POPE'S BEDSIDE.

At 7:42 a. m. a bulletin was issued stating that the pope had taken nourishment four times during the night. His pulse shows slight im-provement. At 6:30 he left his bed for an armchair. It is stated that he will probably through the day.

Reports from the bedside earlier in the evening were to the effect that the pope, while still conscious, was gradually growing weaker and was being kept alive solely by artificial means, such as the administration of powerful stimulants.

During the morning hours Monday the pope insisted upon sitting up and one report states that he even walked around the room, but later in the afternoon and during the evening his vitality gradually sank. The patient remained conscious, however, and inquired anxiously about what reports were coming from the capitals of the world and expressed especial pleasure at the news from France.

One report current early in the evening was to the effect that rigor mortis had set in and that the demise of the pope was a question of a few hours at the most and possibly of minutes. The statement of Dr. Laponni, issued later, appears to contradict this, but gives absolutely no hope of ultimate recovery or even that life may be prolonged longer than the morning hours. It is at this time that human vitality is always at the lowest ebb and in the weakened condition of the patient it appears hardly likely that he can survive this period.

Telegrams of condolence and of inquiry concerning the condition of the patient are pouring into the Vatican from all quarters of the globe from all classes of people, from rulers of nations, churchmen of high and low degree and men prominent in civil life.
