MAY SHUT-OUT SOUTH OMAHA

Omaha May Not Have Right to Supply it with Water.

SERIOUS PROBLEM FACING MAGIC CITY

Whether it Would Be Advisable from Business Viewpoint and Probable Effect on Annexation Discussed—Other Towns Interested.

One of the questions which is slowly turning gray the half of city officials who have been taking an active interest in the water works requirement is: "What are we to do about South Omaha?"

As heretofore stated, Omaha is proceeding at this time to acquire the water works plant under the provisions of the contract-ordinance, a right which the city could exercise even if the bill creating a water board, etc., had not been passed by the last legislature...

ENFORCE THE MOVING ORDER

Police Arrest Proprietors of Immoral Houses Outside Proscribed District.

WOMEN ARE HELD TO DISTRICT COURT

Captain Hase Says Arrests Will Be Made in All Cases Where Women Refuse to Move Inside the Lines.

The first vigorous blow toward "cleaning up" the city was struck Thursday night, when Sergeants Rentrow and Cook and Officers Shields and Ring, under instructions, arrested Nellie Jackson and Cora Daniels, 1213 and 1215 Capitol avenue. They were charged with keeping disorderly houses, under the state law, and Judge Berka yesterday held them to the district court under bonds of $300. Ruth Mitchell, an inmate, was fined $5 and costs, which was paid. She promised to look after the effects of the two incarcerated women in case they did not get bondsmen.

WEST WANTS TO COLLECT FEE

Starts After German Savings Bank Stockholders for Twenty-Eight Thousand.

Joel W. West has started proceedings since the stockholders of the defunct German Savings bank to recover $28,000 for attorney's fees. In a previous suit he recovered a judgment against the bank for the amount of the claim and yesterday caused execution to be issued. This is a necessary step before starting proceedings against the stockholders.

FLORENCE HAS A SENSATION

Mrs. Breeden Accuses John F. Flack of Interfering with Her Property Rights.

The increased interest in Florence property since the construction of the street car line to that old town is responsible for a sensational suit filed in the district court by Anna E. and Richard P. Breeden against John F. Flack and the Florence company. In her petition Mrs. Breeden says she has for a long time been the owner of certain lots and blocks in the town of Florence which she secured by purchase many years ago, and has been in undisturbed possession of the same for more than ten years; that during the present month John F. Flack, personally and as an officer of the Florence company, has endeavored to secure possession of the land owned by her, and that in pursuance of this plan has attempted to destroy the crops which she has planted on the ground and to remove fences and other structures; that in order to secure possession he caused the plaintiff's arrest on a criminal charge and had her brought to Omaha so that he or the company would not be obstructed in their operations.

STOP TO LOOK OVER OMAHA

Business Men from Michigan and Wisconsin Spend Day in This City.

A party of twenty-five business men of Michigan and Wisconsin, stockholders in the Mexican King Gold and Copper Mining company of Milwaukee, were in the city while on their way home after visiting the mines in the vicinity of Tres Piedras, N. M. They arrived on the Rock Island yesterday morning early and registered at the Scullin hotel and, after taking in the principal features of the city, went out at 5:30 o'clock in the evening for the Northwestern. This is the first excursion of the company, which each year takes a party of its stockholders to view the properties. The party left Milwaukee July 7 and has visited points of interest in Colorado. E. F. Metz, in charge of the party, said they had found the territory in fine condition with every prospect for a rapid growth along all lines. The members of the party were also pleased with the excursion.

WOULD HELP THE FIREMEN

Chief Salter Discusses Proposed New Inspectors for the City.

SAYS THEY WOULD REDUCE FIRE LOSSES

Oils and Other Explosives and Combustibles Are Sometimes Carelessly Stored in Omaha, According to the Chief.

In the opinion of Fire Chief Salter there is ample necessity for the creation of the offices of both inspector of explosives and combustibles and of fire coroner. Whether the public should be confined any of the limitations of the duties to be performed has no decided views, but he asserts that officers invested with the fire department authority can materially assist the fire department and greatly reduce the chances for serious blazes in Omaha. "The public has no idea of the constant danger lurking in oils of various kinds, such as kerosene, gasoline and the like, and in powder and cartridges and supplies for engineering work and blasting," says the chief. "Immense quantities of these goods are handled in Omaha every day and I am free to state that many times not even ordinary precaution and care is used against ignition and explosion. Large and small dealers who handle oils often leave them in exposed places, surrounded by piles of rubbish and dirt which become soaked with the fluids and highly inflammable. A clear stump or a lighted match would be sufficient to touch off many a big fire with great loss."

Powder in Basements.

"Powder arriving in Omaha sometimes is not moved out to the magazines promptly, owing to the lateness of the hour of arrival or some other reason. It is stored in basements and the disastrous results can be imagined if a fire should start in the building or in the immediate vicinity. Besides the loss of property, it would almost certainly result in loss of life."

FOR HORTICULTURAL DISPLAY

State Society Wants St. Louis Fair Commission to Allow It Seven Thousand Dollars.

The president and three members of the State Horticultural society called on the president and secretary of the Louisiana Purchase exposition commission Thursday afternoon for the purpose of arranging for a display of fruit in the Nebraska display at the exposition. The discussion did not reach the stage of outlining the nature and scope of the display, but was more on the question of finances. The Horticultural society wants from the commission at least $7,000 for the purpose of the fruit display, and the application for funds is under consideration.

Suggest that License Fee Ordinance for Benefit of School Fund Be Repealed—Income Last Year.

Walter Jardine of the Omaha Merchants Express and Transfer company was a very busy man yesterday when a representative of The Bee asked him for an opinion on the "occupation tax" ordinance introduced at the city council meeting. Just then another team got tangled up and the blockade was worse than ever. Still, Mr. Jardine was equal to the occasion, and said: "First they come around and tax our teams and wagons as personal property. Then they come around and collect $5 per year for every wagon as a license. Now they are going to put an occupation-license tax on every wagon. Say, you tell them to get all their old taxes and what ever else they have and come down here and take the whole blessed outfit!"
