Grand View Wants Few

If They Had Trolleys and Lights They'd Be Satisfied with Life.
 IMPROVERS DEBATE THEIR NECESSITIES
 Street Car Extension on Sixth Street to Center and a Light at Fifth and Hickory are Imperative.

The Grand View Improvement club met last evening with a good attendance at its rooms near Fourth and Lincoln streets with Chairman Sunblad presiding. The question of uniting with the central organization of the improvement clubs of the city at the court house Tuesday evening was discussed and decided upon. Mr. Cook moved the appointment of a committee of five with Chairman Sunblad as a member ex-officio to attend the meeting. The following were named as such committee: H. F. Cook, Frank Ellison, C. Paach, A. Green and P. Christensen.

The street car committee made a verbal report to the effect that it had conferred with the street car officials, but nothing definite had been decided upon by the street car company. The proposal to raise a sufficient fund to employ an attorney to assist the club in pushing the matter and to look into its legal aspects was discussed and was deferred to the next meeting of the club for further consideration. It was brought out during the discussion that Councilman Bach is opposed to the extension of the street car line to Center street as generally desired by the club, but that he is not averse to the line going out south to Bancroft street. The reasons for his objection to the center street extension was stated. It was held by some of the club that Sixth street had been graded to Center street for the ostensible purpose of extending the Harney street line to Center, and that if the proper coercive measures were taken under the law, the much desired line would soon be in operation. The residents of that section now have no street car accommodations nearer than Tenth street. The committee will have another meeting with the street car officials and hopes in spite of Mr. Bach's opposition to secure the extension to Center street on Sixth. It is admitted that Sixth street south of Center is in bad condition and that a further extension of the line than Center on Sixth would be impracticable.

GOLF AT THE COUNTRY CLUB

Field Club Players Pay Day's Visit and Take Defeat Home.
 ARE NOT FAMILIAR WITH THE COURSE
 Every Member of the Country Club Team of Fifteen is Up at the Finish of the Day's Sport.

The Country club defeated the Omaha Field Club yesterday in a team match on the golf course at the Country club by a score of 151 down. The teams were composed of fifteen men each and played thirty-six holes in the morning and the same in the afternoon, making the entire course seventy-two holes. Every member of the Country club team was up at the close of the match. The Field club men were not familiar with the course and part of their defeat can be laid to this unfamiliarity, although they did not show any great improvement on their play in the succeeding rounds. The score:

NEWSPAPER FOR CATHOLICS

"The True Voice," Charles Curtis Hahn, Editor, Makes Its First Weekly Appearance.

"The True Voice," a weekly newspaper devoted to the interests of Catholics and especially to the interests of Catholics in the diocese of Omaha, has made its first appearance. Charles Curtis Hahn, an Omaha poet and writer, is the editor, and the Western Catholic Publishing Company, with office in the Brown block, is the proprietor. The periodical is in the regulation weekly size and has sixteen pages. A half-tone portrait of Bishop Sheen is on the cover of number 1, and throughout the typographical arrangement and execution is admirable.

Attention is called to the fact that there is no Catholic newspaper between Des Moines and Denver, and that the diocese of Omaha has 6,500 souls. Among the features is the first installment of a serial, "The Organist of St. Mary's," by the editor, and an account of St. Mary Magdalene's parish and its pastor, Father Glauber. A view of the new church at Nineteenth and Dodge streets and a photograph of Father Glauber are given.

CANNOT SAVE THE FOREST

Officials of Geographical Survey Cannot Act on Dr. Kerr's Suggestion.

Senator Millard has received a communication from the officials of the Geographical Survey saying that they can take no action in the matter of the protest forwarded from Dr. David R. Kerr against the destruction of the native forest along the river bank between Omaha and Bellevue. Some days ago the senator sent the letter from the president of Bellevue college, who was led to make the protest because of the rapid destruction of the timber caused by the operations of a saw mill. The officials of the Geographical Survey say the same point has been raised in the southern Appalachia states, which passed laws memorializing the national government to pass the necessary legislation. This has been done and as the timber which led to Dr. Kerr's protest is on private land nothing can be done except it be purchased by the state.

TO NAME DELEGATES ONLY

County Convention of Democratic Party Will Be Held on August 22.

At a harmonious meeting of the democratic county committee yesterday afternoon it was decided to hold a convention at 2 p. m., August 22, for the purpose of selecting delegates to the state and judicial conventions. The delegates to the convention will be named by the committeemen in the various wards and precincts and will be apportioned as follows: Each Omaha ward, 11; each South Omaha ward, 7; each county precinct, 5. This will make a convention of 111 delegates and they must be reported to Secretary Farquhar by noon next Saturday. The only dissolution at the meeting yesterday was over the apportionment, twelve of the thirty-six members present believing that the vote cast for W. H. Thompson for governor should be the basis. The resignation of Vice

PRISONERS WORK ON STREETS

Full Fine Weeds from the Gutters and Some People Complain About It.

City prisoners during the past week have finished the job of pulling the weeds, fine weeds out of the gutters on St. Mary's Avenue from Seventeenth to Twenty-seventh, and will be moved to some other street the coming week. Several complaints have reached the city hall regarding city prisoners doing this work, some of them based on the disinclination of residents to having petty criminals exposed on the public thoroughfares, or having them in their neighborhoods, and others on the ground that the work should be done by honest men who need it.

So far as the prisoners are concerned they would rather spend their time in nice easy jobs like pulling weeds than in the cells at the municipal bastille, and incidentally eat that which they work they get more to eat. So far as the work is concerned, it is stated at the city hall that if the prisoners do not do it it will not be done at all, so that honest men are not being deprived of the work.

The unswept streets have been rounded up and put in good condition the past week: Templeton, Twenty-fourth to Twenty-seventh; Pratt, Twenty-fourth to Twenty-seventh; Manderson, Sixteenth to Twenty-fourth; Tenth, Union to Bancroft; Bancroft, Fifth to Sixth; Sixth, Castellar to Bancroft. A new span, requiring 2,000 feet of lumber has been put in the city bridge at Eighth and Burt streets.

TAKE LOOK AT GREAT WEST

Many Christian Endeavor Convention Delegates on Side Trips from Denver.

Reports from Denver state that the Christian Endeavorers, who were there in convention, availed themselves of the opportunity to visit the Yellowstone and the west as no party of excursionists has ever done before. More than 15,000 persons came in on an excursion ticket, and it is estimated that two-thirds of them took side trips from Denver. The bulk of the travel was out to Salt Lake City, around the loop, up to Silver Plume and other well worn excursion points. Better than trips the Yellowstone ranked next as a point of interest, and fully 1,500 went into the park. All of the roads were cramped for facilities for handling the business to the park as parties of as high as seventy-seven people went together, and the entire 1,500 entered the park within a week's time.

Death Due to Heart Disease

The verdict of the jury in the coroner's inquest over the remains of John H. Spanglin, the colored man who died so suddenly early Saturday morning, was "That he came to his death as the result of heart failure aggravated by the excessive heat." The autopsy revealed a diseased condition of the heart, but as an analysis of the contents of the stomach was not completed when the inquest was held, it is not known whether it contained poison.

ARMY OFFICERS GO HIGHER

Many of Those Promoted Are Well Known in Omaha.
 S. S. SUMNER BECOMES MAJOR GENERAL
 Colonel Carr of Fourth Cavalry and Colonel Miller of Twenty-Second Infantry Are Among New Brigadier Generals.

The list of army promotions announced from Washington yesterday includes a number of the officers of the Department of the Missouri. Chief among them is the promotion of Brigadier General S. S. Sumner, the commander of the Department of the Missouri, to be major general. This permanently establishes the rank of this department as a major general's post, which has hitherto, with the exception of Major General Bates, now transferred to the command of the Department of the Lakes, been commanded by brigadier generals.

Among the officers of this department, and those formerly well known in Omaha, are Colonel Canfield C. Carr of the Fourth Cavalry, at Fort Riley, who becomes a brigadier general and is retained in the service. He will be assigned to command the cavalry and field artillery school at Fort Riley. General Bates was temporarily in command of the Department of the Missouri for a short time in 1902, during the absence of General Bates.

Among the colonels promoted to brigadier generals and retired with that rank are Colonel Charles W. Miller, Sixth Infantry, at Fort Leavenworth, and Colonel James Miller, Twenty-second Infantry, Fort Crook. Colonel Miller has served for many years in this department as a captain of the Second Infantry in 1860 and stationed at Fort Omaha for nearly ten years. Colonel Alpheus H. Bowman, Twenty-first Infantry, at Fort Niobrara, formerly a captain in the Ninth Infantry, stationed at Fort Omaha for many years, is also made brigadier general. The promotion of Colonel Bowman advances Major Daniel H. Brush, now inspector general of the Department of the Missouri, to the rank of lieutenant colonel.

Colonel Pullman Advanced.

Lieutenant Colonel J. W. Pullman, formerly chief quartermaster of this department, is advanced to the second in rank of lieutenant colonel in the quartermaster's department.

Lieutenant Colonel Henry Wylant of the Sixth Infantry becomes a full colonel. Major Richard Yeastman of the Twenty-second becomes a lieutenant colonel, as does Major R. H. R. Loughborough of the Sixth Infantry.

Colonel John Simpson of the quartermaster's department, who also gets a brigadier's star, was in command of the quartermaster's depot in this city for many years prior to 1882. A like promotion is conferred upon Colonel Daniel H. Wheeler of the quartermaster's department, who was in charge of the quartermaster's depot here in 1886 and 1888 and afterwards chief quartermaster of this department. Colonel John A. Kress of the ordnance department, who also becomes a brigadier, will be remembered by old time Omahans as being connected with the Department of the Platte some years ago.

The promotions also affect many of the line officers of this department. All of the majors at department headquarters, including Major E. J. McClernand, adjutant general, and Major W. H. Bean, chief commissary, are advanced from two to three grades. Fifteen captains throughout the army become majors, among them a number of the Department of the Missouri.

MOTHER TRIES TO FIND SON

W. S. Batty is the Name of the Young Man Who is Being Sought.

W. S. Batty, who is supposed to be living on a farm near Omaha, is the cause of much distress on the part of his mother, who lives near St. James, Mo. She has not heard from her son for a long time and is greatly worried about him. Victor William Reitz, an insurance and real estate man of St. James, has written to Chief of Police the Donahue asking him to direct efforts toward locating the young man. Quartermaster Legaspi of the Department of Luison, P. I., contributes the last information concerning Batty in a letter to the chief quartermaster, in which he states that Batty has returned to the states and is in the vicinity of Omaha.

Boy Dies from Injuries

The verdict returned by the coroner's jury in the case of David Johnson, the 15-year-old boy who died Thursday morning as the result of injuries sustained in an accident on the Cut-off lake bridge, was "That he came to his death on account of an accident on the Cut-off lake bridge, the Illinois Central railway, and from the evidence we see, the jury attach no blame to the railroad company. The boy's funeral will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon from the residence of his father at 1350 North Nineteenth street. The interment will be at Forest Lawn cemetery.

BIG SUNDAY SCHOOL PICNIC

Children of Kountze Memorial Church Spend Day at Fairmount Park.

The picnic of the Sunday school pupils of Kountze Memorial church at Fairmount park, Council Bluffs, yesterday, was one of the largest affairs ever sent from Omaha. At 10 in the morning two special cars took the first party to the grounds. There cars were crowded with nearly 200 children. There was a marked absence of adults in these first cars, but later in the day a large number went over on the regular trains.

The attractive feature of the assembly at the church in the morning was an express wagon, filled with baskets, boxes and packages, each one containing luncheon for one of the children. The picnic was held in a large number of tents, but later in the day the combined contents formed a spread for those attending the picnic. There were a base ball game, running races and other contests for the members of the school.

Briefs from the Courts

Margaret M. Halsey sues the city for $10.00 for personal injuries received by falling into a hole in the sidewalk on Canton street. Thirteenth and Fourteenth streets, May 2.

Judge Blinn has decided the case of Green against Evans in favor of the defendant. In this case W. H. Green sought to recover on a bond signed by J. H. Evans in a case appealed to the supreme court.

George Easton pleaded guilty to daylight breaking and entering before Judge East Saturday afternoon and was sentenced to three months in the county jail and a fine of $1. He entered the home of Joseph Hebers July 2, but secured nothing.

Andrew E. Walkup is permitted to see his daughter Marie, now in the custody of her mother, Jesse A. Walkup, once a month, and then in the presence of Rev. Melkie, pastor of the Tenth Street Methodist church, an order having been issued by Judge Day to this effect. He can spend one hour with the child one Sunday during the month.

The city of Omaha has sued Hugh Murphy and his bondsmen to recover $1,000 which the city was compelled to pay for $5. Duty for injuries received by being injured by a water hydrant erected by the city on Sherman avenue in 1887, when Murphy was paying that thoroughfare. The suit was given to keep the city harmless from such suits.
