Omaha's Smart Folks Avoid Exertion and Evade the Heat.

DEATH OF DICK BERLIN A DISTINCT LOSS

His Personality Will Be Keenly Missed Among the People to Whom He Had Been Guide and Friend.

She Goes, He Goes It.

She's gone away, my darling Joe...

At the clubs things have been busy, indeed, because a crowd out that made the members appreciate the wisdom of the board of directors in establishing limitations, even if by doing they did set the busybodies to talking. Yet, even the fashionables have their troubles.

Wednesday evening being guest night at the Field club, there was a crowd out that made the members appreciate the wisdom of the board of directors in establishing limitations, even if by doing they did set the busybodies to talking. Yet, even the fashionables have their troubles.

And then there has been no end of fun among the younger set, that is, the set that is at home for the summer, and while no one has been especially invited or entertained, there have been little impromptu sailing parties, bowling parties, picnics and like that which have been altogether enjoyable, and that is what society wants chiefly nowadays.

While there has been a noticeable inclination toward athletics among women of late, Omaha girls have been slow to take up that very practical fact that the women of the east are most enthusiastic about swimming. Almost all the college girls have come home with great tales of the swimming tank and the queer duds that it devotes have adopted. To be sure they were not of the choice, that is, not at first, but rather because the swimming teacher ruled that they had to be worn and after that the bathing suit was abandoned from choice. The accepted suit resembles more than anything else a little boy's overall, the waist being loose and the sleeves short, the trousers cut about the knee and admitting of the free use of the limbs. During the past fortnight a number of society women have become quite enthused and several classes are being organized, under the direction of one of the girls just back from Saragena. These classes are to meet at Courtland Beach early in the morning when nobody else will be about.

Poor "Uncle Dick." For everybody called him "Uncle Dick," although his card always bore the inscription "Richard S. Berlin," engraved in the newest lettering. He will be missed more, now that he has gone, than would any other man who has figured in Omaha society—perhaps because he had been a society man longer than any of the others, but more probably because he was such a name imperturbable, accommodating, polite, sociable companion, despite up and down in other fields. "Uncle Dick," as long as memory runs back, had been the column of smoke by day and the pillar of fire by night for the society phalanx. Whenever a new visiting girl came to town, "Uncle Dick" was the first to be asked to entertain her, and he responded with energetic alacrity. Whenever a dinner was to be filled out or a theater party made up, "Uncle Dick" was the handy man, and even if the invitation arrived as an eleventh hour bid his sense of social duty would always overcome the "only" personal selfishness. "I know I'm only here because they couldn't get anyone else," he would say in his joking way, when he knew, and his hosts knew, that without him the company would have been stale and flat. "Uncle Dick" never married—the reason will be in his eyes—but he took special interest in helping along the love affairs of his friends and his help in smoothing over rough places will be remembered by many members of the married set. He took particular pride in the wedding of Mr. "Jack" Cudahy and Miss Edna Cowie, regarding that alliance as his chef d'oeuvre of match making. Wonder too, what will become of that wonderful "toast book" compiled by him with wonderful persistence, which has done service on so many, many occasions for more wittier performers on the after dinner speech making program. "Uncle Dick" surely will be missed.

The dinner list at the Country club Saturday evening included Mr. C. B. Keller, who entertained eight guests; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. McCord, four; Mrs. George E. Frey, ten; Mr. W. M. Clarke, eight; Mrs. F. Kirkendall, six; Mr. T. Austin, four; Mrs. W. M. Burgess, six; Mrs. Charles T. Kountze, four; Mrs. Harry Williams, five; Mrs. W. A. Ayer, four; Mrs. E. M. SUTPHEN CASE IS ON TRIAL

Judge Estelle Hears Evidence in Cadet's Suit to Obtain a Diploma.

At the conclusion of the evidence in the case of Joy Sutphen against the Board of Education for the purpose of securing a diploma from the high school, C. E. Harting, attorney for the board, moved that the action be dismissed upon the evidence offered by the plaintiff. This motion was passed for argument until Tuesday morning.

At the hearing Saturday morning the witnesses for the plaintiff included Principal Waterhouse of the high school, who had charge of the markings in trigonometry. The latter identified a record which showed that in this branch of study Sutphen had been marked 74, which mark had been cancelled and the marking of 82 substituted. He said that the record was dated June 19, but that it was prepared before that time and that members of the high school cadet battalion had been allowed their daily average in this study for the days they were attending the school.

Another matter upon which Mrs. Fox touched that is of especial local interest is that of limiting the number of debaters. She said that a knowledge of parliamentary rule is as essential to a member of an organization as the knowledge of the rules of any game in which they would successfully participate, and she advised that all debaters be limited to three minutes if not two, as she considered that ample time for any one person to present her argument. She advised that the business hour be shortened by limiting debate. There has been considerable complaint in the local club during the last two or three years that the business hour is too long and not enough time is allowed for programs, and this advice from the recognized parliamentarian of the General Federation will doubtless have much weight in effecting a remedy of this matter.

The Federal Women's Equality association, which enrolls among its membership the foremost women thinkers and workers of the country, and that has recently gained several radical concessions to women through its intelligent action, has determined upon another and even more radical step that promises, no matter what its own result, to mark an epoch in the advancement of the cause of women. The following protest and pledge has been issued by the association with the request that women circulate and sign it:

"We, as paying women of —, hereby agree to do what we can, by protest, argument, without representation is tyranny for American women as it was for the American colonies in 1776. And we also pledge ourselves that when 10,000 or more women in this United States shall have similarly enrolled we will simultaneously take action, either by refusal to pay taxes or by united suit to recover taxes or by whatever method may seem best in accordance with official advice of the Federal Women's Equality association, to the end that public attention may be thoroughly attracted to our wrongs and the injury done to women by violating the fundamental principles of our republic in the taxation of women without their consent in saying how their money shall be applied.

Blankets for signatures are to be supplied later to those who wish them, but in the meantime women wishing to circulate and sign the protest and petition will be allowed to copy it and use it as a heading, provided care is taken to give the post-office address, town, county and state of every signer. The copy and circulation of the protest and petition is especially advised at headquarters by November 1 and copies furnished to all such organizations as care to use them in influencing state legislation this winter.

JENNIE DUSENBERRY IS HERE

Says She Has Not Heard From nor Seen the Suspected Murderer.

Jennie Dusenberry, the former Omaha girl whose name was involved in the Knight murder case last spring, is in Omaha for a few days. She married a railroad man named Cramer at Cheyenne and the two are on their wedding tour to St. Louis. Mrs. Cramer called upon the police officers yesterday and was interviewed concerning what knowledge she might have of the whereabouts of Knight. She asserted that she had neither seen nor heard of him since he visited her at Cheyenne shortly after he left Omaha. The police say they believe her statements, as they have checked and verified some of them and are satisfied that she has had nothing to do with Knight since he left Omaha. She has not been given up and he is likely to be taken at any time.

Money for the Auditorium.

Secretary Gillan announces a $500 subscription to the Auditorium building from the Chicago Lumber company, which had been made in the past week and there is $1700 on hand. The iron rods supports for the building were raised at the south side of the building.

SEASONABLE FASHIONS

Plain Shirt Waists. 447—To be made with or without the fitted lining. Plain shirt waists are always in demand, let the season bring forth as many novelties as it may. This shirt waists are made with the various whole range of waisting materials and can be trimmed in various ways, but as shown, is of embroidered muslin with a stock which combines it with lace.

The waist pattern 447 is adapted to the of the lining, the front and back of the waist and the sleeves. The lining is smooth fitted, but the waist is gathered slightly at the neck edge in front and at the waist line in both front and back. The waist is completed by means of shoulder and under-arm seams. The sleeves are set above the elbows, but full, and form soft puffs below and are gathered into cuffs at the wrists. The stock is novel and includes a plain foundation with the fancy turn-over portions.

The quantity of material required for the medium size is 3/4 yards 23 inches wide, 3 yards 27 inches wide, 3 yards 23 inches wide or 1 1/2 yards 44 inches wide.

The waist pattern 447 is adapted to sizes for a 24, 26, 28 and 40-inch bust measure.

For the accommodation of The Bee readers these patterns, which usually retail at from 25 to 50 cents, will be furnished at a nominal price, 10 cents, which covers all expense. In order to get a pattern enclosed 30 cents, give number and name of pattern.

WOMAN IN CLUB AND CHARITY

Nut a little importance may be attached to the statement of Mrs. Emma Fox, second vice president of the General Federation of Women's clubs, made in her address to the gathering given in her honor Monday evening in the rooms of the Omaha Woman's club, in speaking of the work of the General Federation. Mrs. Fox said that in her opinion the Mormon question was the next great matter for the federation to take up and it should be the subject of chief consideration by the St. Louis biennial. She spoke of the extension of Mormonism and the methods by which it is being accomplished, of the election of Reed Smoot to the United States senate and of the fact that the Mormon question had already crept into the General Federation inasmuch as one Mormon club already holds membership in the Federation.
