DEATH OF POPE LEO.

The world was prepared for the death of Pope Leo, universally esteemed the greatest of Roman pontiffs, but everywhere there will be profound regret at the passing away of this remarkable man, whose wisdom, piety and extraordinary administrative ability gave him unequalled influence in the Christian world.

The record made by Leo unquestionably places him in the very front rank, if not at the head, of the list of Roman pontiffs. In the college of cardinals from which a successor will be chosen there are men of learning and ability, profoundly devoted to the church but it may be doubted if there is one who in all respects measures up to the standard of the dead pontiff, who, with no less learning, piety and devotion possesses also the diplomatic and statesmanlike qualities that distinguished Leo.

CALL FOR REORGANIZATION. There is a very plain call for reorganization of some of the business methods of the Postoffice department and it is more than likely that in other departments there is need of change.

Such disclosures suggest that congress may find it expedient to institute an inquiry of a general character, in regard to the business methods of the executive departments of the government. It is quite possible that these can be much improved and in any event a general investigation of them could do no harm.

IN FINANCIAL CIRCLES THE QUESTION OF commanding interest is that of currency legislation and there is diversity of opinion in regard to it, some prominent financiers insisting that no legislation relating to the currency is either necessary or expedient at this time and that it would be much better if congress would await a more convenient season before undertaking to modify the banking and currency laws.

FOR NEBRASKA DEMOCRATS.

Edgar Howard Tells What the Platform Would Say if He Wrote It. Columbus Telegram. The editors of the leading eastern newspapers are becoming interested in the probable action of the Nebraska democratic state convention in the making of a platform.

THE DEMOCRATIC MACHINE. In view of the constant effort of our friends, the enemy, to decry republican politics in Omaha and Douglas county as machine made, it would hardly be proper to let pass without notice the exhibition which the local democratic machine is just now making of its self-acting and self-perpetuating perfection.

THE DEMOCRATIC MACHINE. Under the call for a democratic state convention, the usual quota of delegates has been apportioned to Douglas county and it has become necessary for the democrats of this district to be represented in that gathering.

SPORTS AFIELD.

Will it be the fisherman against the hunter in the next presidential campaign? Cincinnati Enquirer. Philadelphia Inquirer. It is safe to predict that east of Kansas City nobody but the coroner will take any interest in the 16 to 1 issue next year.

PLACE FOR OUR DAVE. Washington Post. Colonel "Pete" Hepburn's son-in-law has formally refused a life position in the government service at $7,000 a year, but it is believed that "Dave" Mercer may be induced to accept it.

MYSTERY OF EMOTION. New York World. Down in Kentucky they have just lynched a white murderer who was already in prison for life. Why is it so hard to get twelve Americans to vote in a jury room for hanging a prisoner by law and so easy to get a thousand to pull on the rope that hangs him against the law?

A BUSINESS NECESSITY. New York Mail and Express. Current events is a business necessity. Its accomplishment is for the benefit of no section or class. It is for the convenience and aid of the farmer, the tradesman and the local banks of the west, as well as for the easy adjustment of rates of interest to legitimate demands of business in the larger financial centers.

PROMPTED BY MEMORY. Philadelphia Record. When ever a candidate for vice president is mentioned in the frequent conferences at Oyster Bay President Roosevelt promptly starts all discussion by declaring that this must be left to the delegates to the republican national convention. It is evident from this that he still retains a lively recollection of the way in which his own nomination for vice president was made.

MAY BE A "SERIOUS JOKE." Philadelphia North American. The movement to make Grover Cleveland the democratic candidate for president strikes Mr. Bryan as a joke, but he admits that the humorous aspect of the matter would not survive the capture of the conclave by the republican democrats.

GRAFT OF THE GRASSHOPPER. Philadelphia Press. A dispatch from Guthrie, Okl., says that a bill will be presented in congress for speculative purposes. But the rights of the Indians and various other considerations have to be weighed by congress.

NO RACE IN NECESSITY. Indianapolis News. Colored ministers of Evansville have united in resolutions condemning the idle and vicious negroes of that town, and calling on the police to enforce the law and close up the dens of vice.

JUDGES AND EDITORS. Punishment for "Contempt" that Smacks of Tyranny. Detroit Free Press. Two editors in Missouri recently took exception to the action of the supreme court in reversing a decision which awarded damages to a citizen against a powerful railroad corporation.

BITS OF WASHINGTON LIFE.

Matters that Rattle the Currents at the Nation's Capital. Dr. L. O. Howard, the government entomologist, says that the ravages of the mosquito this year along the Atlantic coast, particularly in the neighborhood of Orange, N. J., Connecticut, Massachusetts Bay and Boston, were attributable to the enormous quantity of rain that has fallen this spring and summer.

LEADER OF LABOR. Secret of the Greatness of the Late P. M. Arthur. The sudden death of P. M. Arthur, grand chief engineer of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, removes from the ranks of organized labor one who has held power for many years, and has always wielded it conservatively and to the good of the organization of which he was the head.

SUMMER SMILES. She—Who rocks the cradle rules the world—remember that. He—Then—ah—you come in and rule the world. I'm tired—Stray Stories. Mother (indignantly)—The idea of your permitting such a vulgar remark to be called me when he attempted to kiss me. Daughter (innocently)—Why, mamma, I didn't know you didn't have a kiss—Chicago News.

EARLY RISING. John G. Saxe. "God bless the man who first invented sleep." So says Panza and, so say I. And bless him, also, that he didn't keep his great discovery to himself, nor try to make a fortune out of it. A close monopoly by patent right!

PERSONAL AND GENERAL. London's lord mayor declares that he likes all Americans. But he hasn't seen all of them. The Philippine officer who is coming over to study war has not decided whether he will locate in Kentucky or Indiana.

THE POPE AS A POET.

Stirling Instance of an Intellect Creatively Active at 90. Boston Herald. Leo XIII is a genuine poet. It is seldom that the intellect remains creatively active at the age of 90 years, as attested by the pope's ode in welcome to the twentieth century, called "A Prayer to Jesus Christ for the Coming Century."
