lyfe of Postmaster is Accused of Having Terribly Abused Her Stepdaughter-Warrant for Her Arrest.

Incensed over tales of how Mrs. Lillie Kirschner, wife of Postmaster D. H. Kirschner, had mistreated her 14-year-old stepdaughter, part of the population of Bennington threatened to humiliate the people of the place became desperate over the condition of things and feared that the child might have been killed and her body secreted. As the residents were on the point of violence the girl was found at the home eight miles from Omaha.

Friday afternoon Mrs. Kirschner first wife, the mother of the girl. Besides closer affiliation of the young people and the fearful abuse which the woman is said the introduction of the work throughout to have inflicted upon the girl, it is asserted the Episcopal church. Ran Away from Home. Etta ran away from home and the Kirschner family kept the matter quiet for a few days. Eventually the neighbors learned the girl was not about the place and began to make inquiries. The answers they received came far from satisfying them, and as the week passed and Etts did not appear their curiosity grew into anger against both Mrs. Kirschner and her husband. The latter had been making a quiet search for Etta, but the clamor of the population became so great that Constable Schneider took up the matter, The stepmother and the officer finally found the child at the home of Gaybrock, a section foreman, whose wife is related to the Kirschner family. POLICE HAVE A WOLF HUNT Animal Takes Refuge Under Porch and Chase is Called Off for Day.

While the citizens of Omaha were peace fully sleeping last night there was a wolf hunt in progress in the northern part of the city. Mrs. Harry Hood, living at 2631 Patrick avenue, was the possessor of a pet wolf. The family went away yesterday to be gone some time and the wolf was turned loose in the yard. Several children found good sport to tease th eanimal, which finally became enraged and snapped at sevsral of its tormentors. As it is a well known fact that wolves are prone to bydrophobia the people living in the vicinity became alarmed lest the animal would bite some one. The police were notified and an officer was dispatched to kill the beast.

As soon as they return the wolf will be dislodged and slain. Captain Mostyn says he will kill it if it requires the whole po lice department to do the job.

Detectives Drummy and Mitchell arrested William Watson yesterday and locked him up, charged with larceny. According to the story told the police Watson has been acting in the capacity of porter in a saloon and the saloonist believes that he has been making away with some of his cigars. Watson had been stopping at the Elkhorn Valley house, and when the officers called there to see what they could find out about him they were informed that he was in the habit of placing a package in the icebox every day when he went to work. The package being then on ice it was brought out and found to centain an optum layout.

Not Much Interest in London, LONDON, July 35.-Comparatively little nterest is taken in financial circles here in the liquidation in the New York market, phere. The American holdings of the British people are insignificant and, as a matter of fact, there has been much selling recently, and profits were realized from the failing process in New York. A strong feeling prevails that the low level of prices has better tone of the market. At the opening | 000 the general average of prices was a dollar above parity, with some trading on New Isaac Seligman said:

The market here has been regulated by New York. As an indication of the importance of the New York market, the fact may be cited, which I strongly believe, that nearly all the European financial markets are regulated by the tone of New York. New York is rapidly becoming the financial center of the world. For all that, I am afraid they have been overdoing it.

Result of Overspeculation.

Result of Overspeculation,

The tone of the market is the natural result of overspeculation and the over financing of the inst three years. It is very difficult to say when the bottom will be reached, but if it was known exactly how many weak pools or "liques still exist it would be possible to prophesy with more assurance. We will have a series of fluctuations yet. I think.

The situation here is quite sound, but the market is also suffering from the losses in mining ventures and from the effect of the three years. African war, from which it has not yet recuperated. Now there is a new agitation, the tariff question, which tends to unsettle business people's minds.

MARSHALL FIELD IS HOPEFUL Sees No Cause for Alarm Over the Present Flurry in Wall Street.

(Copyright, 1903, by Press Publishing Co.) LONDON, July 25 .- (New York World Cablegram - Special Telegram.)-Marshall Field of Chicago, interviewed today concerning the Wall street failures, said:

"I do not apprehend they will have serius results beyond the interests immediately concerned. That there was undue inflation of prices is undoubtedly true. On the other hand, it is equally certain that the recent disastrous fall in prices has equally unjustified. The inherent value of stocks that have gone to such an abnormally low figure is considerably higher than the prices that have prevalled and their value is sure to be reasserted. Already, I see, the London and the New York markets have strengthened and I am convinced the worst is now over. In all probability matters will steadily improve. I regard the outlook as hopeful."
