Health Commissioner Ralph Comments of Dr. Geerge L. Miller's Letter.

THREE ALTERNATIVES GIVEN DOG OWNERS

Chief Donahue Declares All Canines of Which "Victors" Complaints Are Filed Must Be Killed, Chained Up or Mussled.

Health Commissioner Ralph said yester day morning:

"Every man, whatever his station in life, is entitled to his own opinion, and on matters of disease members of the medical profession certainly have a right to exgiven consideration. Therefore Dr. George present time. DR. L. A. MERRIAM. L. Miller's article on hydrophobiasis entitled to attention. Dr. Miller does not deny the existence of hydrophobis, though declaring it, which is undoubtedly true, a very rare disease. It is very probably true that not more than one dog in a number of a person or another animal. But I look upon the muzzling of dogs as I do upon vaccination. It may not be necessary in dogs will prevent one case of hydrophobia then the dogs should be muzzled. The consensus of opinion of medical writers with definite symptoms, which we call hydrophobia, and that preventive measures are advisable Several Physicians in Case.

"So far as the case reported from the north end of town is concerned I cannot speak from personal knowledge, but Mrs. Stover was attended and seen by several reputable physicians who pronounced it i case of hydrophobia, which I think is sufficient. No physician can state without seeing a person whether or not they are suffering from hydrophobia-in this case those who did see the person so pronounced

Chief Donahue, who is also in favor of having all dogs muzzled, has received a number of complaints of victous dogs during the past week, and in response has sent officers to the owners of them with an elive in each spoon. The woman who day to spend the summer at his old home in three alternatives: To have the dog killed at once; to chain them up and keep them chained up; or to have them muzzled. One old man who called on him, Chief Donahue said, was so nervous that even if the dog had not been mad the old man would have been so worried, if he had not succeeded in fighting it off until the owners appeared that he would have died as the result of what might ordinarily have been a harmless bite or wound.

If the ordinance regarding muzzling is passed both Commissioner Ralph and Chief Donahue will endeavor to see that humane and sanitary muzzles are used. The old style strap muzzle may be prohibited and owners be required to use the cage muzzles, which the dogs can wear constantly, and which allows them to eat and drink freely while at the same time preventing the Mr. and Mr and sanitary muzzles are used. The old while at the same time preventing the biting of persons or other animals.

Dog Days a Delusion. OMAHA, July E .- To the Editor of The Bee: As soon as the warm days of summer come in some towns and cities laws are enacted, or enforced, requiring that all dogs found at large unmuzzled shall be killed, but as soon as the frosts of autumn appear the dogs are permitted to roam unmuzzled, unmolested. This muzzling of dogs in hot weather is supposed by many intelligent persons to be a protection of the people from the terrible disease, hydrophobia. It is, however, a superstition, born of an ignorant age, and kept alive by the ignorance and credulity of the masses, for the dog days of summer have absolutely no relation to mad dogs or the development of hydrophobia.

Strius, or the "dog star," the most brilliant of the fixed stars and the largest in the constellation of Canis Major, or the "Great Dog," received its name from Siris, one of the Egyptian appellations of the River Nile, because its heliacal rising (i. e., just before sunrise) gave warning that the overflow of the river was about to commence, and the so-called "dog days" of summer, as reckoned by the ancients, were forty in number, twenty before and twenty after the heliacal rising of the Dog Star, iting Miss Mary Ella Logan at 1117 South The rising of the Dog Star was ignorantly supposed to be the occasion of the extreme heat, and of the diseases incidental to these days. It was by mere accident that the rising of the star coincided with the have gone to Rockford and Dixon, Ili., to hottest season of the year, in times and countries of the old astronomers. in January, instead of August. About Hydrophobia. Hydrophobia is a disease of the nervous system of man, induced by a poison from some member of the canine or feline family, as the dog, fox, wolf, jackal cat or skunk, and some others, which may or may alto sol not have rables at the time. Mr. Mason's D. J. O'Donahoe of the Bennett company, brindle terrier, Prince, did not develop rables, though McCormick died of hydrophobia from his bite in New York in 1874. The licking of a sore on a lady's face by Dr. Frederick Lake and Miss Katherine tion time has been visiting in northern her lap dog has caused hydrophobia from which the lady died, but the dog had no rables. There is abundant evidence showing that these animals do not need to be While the bite of a rabid animal is more poisonous, the facts are that of twenty persons bitten, even by a rabid animal. only one on the average develops hydrophobia. Hence the reputation of the doubt the intended muzzling of some dogs and the destruction of all vagrant dogs during hot weather is meant for the people's good, but it will be quite temporary in its operation, and during the remainder of the year leave the community unpro tected. It would create a false sense of ecurity, and perhaps on that account might even be injurious. More efficient protection would probably be afforded by some method, which should be in constant and regular operation throughout the year. especially if based upon a reasonable knowl. edge of the disease and its symptoms. The principal danger of infection by an animal consists in the fact that no one can tell whether the animal be capable of infecting or not, and also that people in general do not know a rabid dog when they see one, for they mistake other affections, as epi lepsy, etc., which are comparatively harmless, for rables, but the true rables they do not recognise because their diagnosis rests on their erroneous ideas, viz.: First, that a mad dog is only to be met with in tank containing but four feet of water. hot weather, whereas abundant evidence shows more dogs have rables in winter than in summer. Second, that the rabid dog is afraid of water and will not drink, This is erroneous, for the rabid dog is not as popular as they have in the past. The afraid of water and will frequently drink when he has the opportunity, and will, as dogs usually do, go into a pond or stream and swim about and lap the water. Third, that the rabid dog is ferocious and ag-Monday for a month's visit with friends at edy drama "In Old Vermont." It will run gressive. A picnic party comprising the families of Mr. Elmer Thomas, Mr. Noah Perry, Mr. William R. Leghton and Mr. S. R. Rush which may make vagrant dogs develop rables.

What then shall be done? Let all worth ess dogs be destroyed, and the few valuable ones that remain have their tusks, canine and incisor teeth filed down from a point to a flat surface, so that they will not penetrate the unbroken skin. This is easily done, does not harm the dog nor unfit him for any useful purpose. While not an infallible protection this is the best press their opinions, and they should be expedient known to scientific men at the

ECHOES OF THE ANTE ROOM

"When the eastern people want rest they must crawl into a hole," said a returned Shriner last week, "for as Saratoga must be something strenuous." This was ception of Past Imperial Potentate Akin, have returned from the east, and, accorda three days' journey as that which they put in between Omaha and Saratoga Springs. With receptions, banquets and sight-seeing, first under the management Moslem temple at Detroit, Ishmalia temple at Buffalo and Ziyara temple at Utica, to be thrown upon the mercy of the Troy temple at the place of the council, was something which only strong constitutions and good-fellowship could stand. It was a great trip and the Omaha Shriners had an excellent opportunity to receive a return for the treatment accorded visitors a few years ago, when Tangler temple entertained the imperial council. Saratoga did itself proud and the only complain that the visitors had was that the members of the order in that part of the state never know when bedtime comes, and expect ordinary western people to conform with their ways immediately.

One of the interesting features of the council was the action of the delegates from St. Louis. The membership desired to go to that city for the next meeting. but those men from Missouri got up and Educational association who predict that raised a howl which could be heard clear it is but a question of time until the Nayear, and it was to give the representatives of St. Louis a chance to secure quietness for a few days that the council de cided to hold its next meeting at Atlantic City, N. J.

This week is to be a lively one in local odge circles. The first event will be the visit of the members of the order of the Knights of Pythias to Plattsmouth tomorrow night. There will be about 100 mem bers who will visit the Plattsmouth lodge on a fraternal visit and the men at the mouth of the Platte have made arrangements to give them a rousing reception. A special train over the Burlington will carry them there and back at the close of the meeting.

The second local event is the carnival of the Woodmen of the World, which, opening Monday evening, will continue for a week. This carnival will, if promises are fulfilled, be one of the most interesting of any of the lodge events of the city. A special program will be rendered on and Friday, the former being for members of the society in Omaha, South Omaha and Council Bluffs, and the second for visitors from other parts of the country. A special train will be run on the second day from he southern counties, bringing members of the order from the Kansas line, while trains from other parts of the state.

Clap Gordon No. 63, Order of Scottish Clans, held its regular meeting Tuesday evening in the Continental building. One new name was acted on and it was decided that Krug Park was all right for the fifteenth annual picnic on August 8, when a big crowd is looked for. A number of imortant matters were discussed and disposed of, and next meeting night all clansmen are expected to be present, that per fect picnic arrangements may be made.

Omaha tent No. 75, Knights of the Macce bees, met in regular weekly review last Thursday evening and despite the picnic of the day before and the circus a large number of the sir knights were in attendance, and an exceptionally good meeting resulted. Seven applicants were elected to membership and two candidates-the smallest number of any meeting this year-were initiated. A proposition was submitted to the tent for the purchase of a hall and discussed by the members and every member was very enthusiastic. The purchase will be consummated at the next review and every member is urged to be present. State Commander Dopkins was present and addressed the sir knights on the success of the order in general. Short addresses were made by Deputy State Commander George A. Ostrom and visiting sir knights from Council Bluffs, after which the meeting closed without form.

The useful members, much to the regret of the older leaders in class work, often incline to embroidery rather than to the more useful arts of sewing, cooking and house-Springs is said to be one of their resorts keeping. However, curiously enough, many for that tired feeling their ordinary life girls who begin with fancy work next take up plain sewing. The younger members said after several days at home, the most also take kindly to talks on art and travel, of the time being devoted to sleep. Again, through the club abuses in many factories have been righted. In New York state the clubs maintain a mutual benefit fund, an alli-Medinah temple at Chicago, then with ance employment bureau and a vacation house. In Pennsylvania rest rooms, lunch rooms and boarding homes have grown out of the working girls' clubs.

Through the efforts of Mrs. E. O. Bartlett of St. Paul, vice president of the Sixth district of Nebraska, a new club has been organized at North Loup, with Mrs. Kate True as president, Mrs. Della Chase vice president, Miss Fannie McClelland recording secretary, Mrs. A. B. Prentice corresponding secretary and Mrs. Guy Daun treasurer. The Nolo Study club is to be its name and American history has been taken up as the study for the first year. It is hoped that another club will be organized at Scotts Bluff.

It is said that the influence of the National Federation of Teachers was felt more this year than ever before, and there are some members of the National to the Missouri river. They loved the tional Educational association will become oys, but desired to have a rest some time subordinate to the younger and more agfuring the piping times of the exposition gressive organizations from the west. For the first time in the history of the National Educational association a grade teacher was elected last year as a director of the association. This was Miss Catherine Groggin of Chicago. This year she was re-elected and four other women were elected directors-Miss May L. Scott of Idaho, Miss Lydia A. Yates of North Carolina, Miss Lucy Robinson of West Virginia and Miss Estelle Reel of Wyoming.

The following officers were elected at the closing session of the Lake Placid conference on Home Economics, held in Boston last week: Chairman, Mrs. Ellen H. Richards, Boston; vice chairmen, Mrs. Mary Hinman Abel, Baltimore; Miss Abble L. Marlett, Providence, R. I.; secretary and treasurer, Miss Grace Godfrey, Simmons college; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Melvil Dewey, Albany, N. Y. A resolution was passed to co-operate with the New England Educational league to have home economics made an elective study in the public schools.

While the program for the Frement meeting of the Nebraska Federation is still incomplete, the partial outline, as announced by Mrs. W. E. Page, at Beatrice on Monday, is very promising. The session will open on Tuesday, October 6 and continue through Wednesday and Thursday. many visitors will come on the regular The meeting of the Nebraska Library asociation is to be held in Fremont We day and Thursday of the same week and it has been arranged that Thursday evening ows will take place at Arlington. Already the shadow of the next blennial of the General Federation of Clubs is casting its shadow over the affairs of the Nebraska Federation. The meeting at St. Louis will not only be one of the most important ever held, but it also bids fair to be one of the most pleasant. Coming as it does in conjunction with the great Louisiana Purchase exposition, the women of St. Louis have long been laying the foundation for preparations to entertain the General Federation in a manner such as never has been attempted before. This in itself is enough to fire the seal of any ambitious woman who may be eligible as a probable delegate, but the matters that are to come before the sessions of the General Federation are of such importance that they also afford an excellent reason for aspiring women to attend if possible. In Nebraska it was an all but established ustom to give each president of the state federation two terms, a rule first broken two years ago, when Mrs. Apperson was turned down and Mrs. Smith was elected. It would very likely be unfair to suggest that the approach of the Los Angeles biennial had anything to do with this. Now. however, a whisper has it that a move is on foot to deny Mrs. Page a second term, Mrs. Lobingier of Omaha is to be the beneficiary of a boom that has its stariing point at Frement. There has been some little misapprehension among some of the club women who are also Daughters of the American Re olution regarding the coming of M s. Demies T. S. Denison, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, and Mrs. Fairbanks, president general of the Daughters of the American Revolution, not a few being of the impression that their dates in Omaha will conflict. Mrs. Denison will address the club on Monday, October 12, which is also the regular meeting day of the Daughters, but Mrs. Fairbanks will not be in Omaha until October 21. that being the date of the state meeting of the Daughters of the American Revolution or Monday Night with Long List of High Class Attractions.

To the booming of the big brass drum, the whirr of the merry-go-round, the whizz of the loop-the-loop, the song of the spieler and divers and sundry other sounds, more or less pleasing, but all vociferous, the big Woodmen of the World carnival will be opened at 7 o'clock tomorrow evening. It will continue for the succeeding five afternoons and evenings, the hours being from to 6 and from 7 to 11 p. m., and if any visitor fails to get his or her money's worth during the intervening hours they will be given "A Trip to the Moon" or some other equally valuable prize by the carnival committee.

Not only will what are known as the Musical Festival grounds be used but the lots to the north, facing on Davenport street, have been graded down and enclosed, as well as the sidewalks on Fourteenth, Fifteenth and Davenport streets and Capitol avenue. The main entrance will be at Fifteenth and Capitol avenue and either a silver dime or two good nickels will admit one person to the grounds and about a dozen high-class "free" shows. Among them will be Mile. Fravialo, who does a thrilling loop-the-loop act in a big sphere, the Splash Brothers, who dive from an 80foot high platform, the Bellare troupe of acrobats, Calvert on the high wire, and the airship. In the list of shows to which a small admission fee will be charged will he found "Midnight in Chinatown," "Cycle Whirl," "Dog and Monkey Circus" and "A Trip to the Moon." There will also be a Ferris wheel, an up-to-date merry-go-round and a plentiful supply of refreshment Confetti will be allowed on the booths. gounds and there will be several, pitched battles. The two Woodmen of the World drill teams, headed by the C. C. C. band, will parade the down town streets previous to the opening tomorrow night.
