Oregiin is Kept Busy.

In the meanwhile the camerlengo, Cardinal Oreglia, had been performing another ceremony in the Sistine chapel, with the aid of the subdean of the Sacred college, Cardinal Scraffino Vannuctelli. Seating themselves in two immense chairs, with their backs to the altars and flanked by Swiss guards, the two curdinals administered the oaths to the conclavists, who knelt and swore not to reveal anything they might hear in the conclave and to put no obstacles in the way of the election of the new pope. The con clayfate then kissed the cardinals' hands and retired. After the mass of the Holy Ghost the cardinals assembled, as usual, in congregation, in the Hall of the Consistory, where contrary to usage, the rules of the conclave were read and each cardinal took the oath to obey them. This ceromony generally occurred in the Sistine chapel in the evening, just before shutting up the dardinals for the conclave.
