Ames Man is Promoted.

AMES, Ia., July 31.—Prof. John Craig, who was at the head of the horticultural department of the Iowa state college from 1887 to 1890, has recently been named professor of horticulture in Cornell university, Ithaca, N. Y., to succeed Prof. L. H. Bailey, who has been made dean of the College of Agriculture and director of the experiment station. Prof. Craig graduated from Ames in 1887 and for ten years was horticulturist of the Central experiment station, Ottawa, Can. During the time that he was at the head of the horticultural department at Ames he did much to arouse interest in the horticultural work of the state and his many papers and lectures have done much to bring the horticulturist to the attention of the public. When Prof. Craig resigned to go to Cornell university he was succeeded by Prof. H. C. Price. Prof. Price has now resigned to accept the position of dean of the College of Agriculture and Domestic Science of the Ohio State university.

Rush Work on Federal Building.

CRESTON, Ia., July 31.—(Special.)—Work on the new government building is progressing rapidly and the structure will be ready for occupancy by September 1, or about two months before the time specified in the contract. Nearly all the plastering has been done, the window and door frames have arrived, and workmen are now engaged in putting the grounds in shape. When completed it will be the finest government building in the United States in a town the size of Creston, and much finer than many in much larger cities.

Cuts Farmer's Harness.

CRESTON, Ia., July 31.—(Special.)—William Reeves of Dodge township is mourning the loss of two sets of double harness and a side saddle, but more than that he is worried to know that he has an enemy who would stoop to such means of satisfying his grudge. Some time Wednesday a party entered his barn, where the harness was hanging, and with a knife or some other sharp instrument cut the harness into threads and ribbons. Mr. Reeves is prominent in his township and was at one time supervisor.

BIG PLANS FOR THE REUNION

National Guardsmen to Camp with Veterans of the Civil War.

PIEDMONT, S. D., July 31.—(Special.)—The soldiers' and sailors' reunion, which will be held here August 29 and 30, promises to be one of the most important events in the history of the Black Hills, and in point of interest unsurpassed. The adjutant general of the state is here arranging for mobilizing the entire state National Guardsmen to camp at the reunion trip for all the troops of the state has been secured over the Northwestern line.

Many noted men will be present, among them Hon. Washington Gardner of Michigan, member of Congress from that state, who as an orator has won national fame. It is confidently expected that the governor and his staff will be present. Senators Gamble and Kittridge have also been invited. Congressman Martin is in correspondence with the War department and hopes to secure at least one troop of cavalry from Fort Meade to lead in the real sham battle, which will be participated in by nearly 1,000 armed men.

Tents, arms and accoutrements for the state guards have been ordered shipped here by the adjutant general, and will soon arrive.

The Rock Island bond issue announcement was without ill effect. Later a better tone was shown by almost the entire list, but at midday the market was almost at a standstill.

PENSION LAW WORKS WELL

Has Tendency to Promote Sobriety Among Inmates of Soldiers' Home

NEW BUILDINGS NEEDED AT INSTITUTION

James Cunningham Dies Without Regaining Consciousness and Mystery Still Surrounds the Affair.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) DES MOINES, July 31.—(Special.)—The biennial report of Commandant C. C. Horton of the Iowa Soldiers' home, makes favorable mention of the new law regarding pensions of the soldiers at the home. In case an occupant of the home is twice convicted of intoxication all right to his pension is taken away and the money is returned quarterly to the commandant to be used for the benefit of the soldier's family or otherwise. There is no exception to the rule and it has been enforced. The result is that whereas there has always been about 8 per cent of the inmates intemperate the percentage has decreased. The commandant recommends that the law be amended so that after a showing of reformation the pension is partially restored to the inmate and later he may be restored to his rights in pension matters on recommendation of the commandant. During the last two years the discipline at the home has been good and cases of insubordination seldom occur. Reference is made to the completion of the buildings authorized by the last legislature. There is need for eighty acres more of land west of the hospital, the kitchen, dining room and not large enough, there should be a barn to take the place of the one burned, there should be an attractive gate and some provision for fire protection. The estimate of things asked for is as follows: Water-works system, $20,000; barn and granaries, $10,000; quarters, heating and sewing rooms, $8,000; kitchen and addition to dining room, $7,000; improvement of grounds, $4,000; coal house, $1,500; greenhouse and heating of same, $1,500. No estimate is placed on cost of the land desired.

The average population of the home during the past year was 780, including those on furlough, and actually present 880. There were on the rolls June 30 last 790, including ninety women. During the period 102 died at the home and twelve were 57 last year and 75 the previous year. The physician predicts that despite the new hospital room there will be crowded conditions again before another two years.

Mystery Closed with Death.

James Cunningham, who ten days ago was found early one morning lying unconscious at the foot of a stairway leading to his apartments, died, at a hospital today. Cunningham never recovered consciousness and never showed any light on the mystery of his injury. Two persons were arrested accused of the crime, but the person who filed the information states that he has no actual knowledge of the facts and only filed the information on the suggestion of others. It is believed there is no evidence against either of the men that they had anything to do with the injury to Cunningham. They will have a preliminary hearing tomorrow and the charge will be changed from attempt at murder to murder, but it is probable they will be freed. The coroner began an investigation today.
