CONDITION OF OMAHA'S TRADE

Volume of Business for July Compares Very Favorably with July a Year Ago.

VERY FEW CHANGES IN RULING PRICES

Outlook for a Prosperous Fall Business Considered Very Encouraging and Wholesalers Expect to Brenk Last Year's Record.

Although July is generally considered one of the dullest months of the year so far as wholesale trade is concerned. Omaha Jobbers make the report that they had a very fair business throughout the month. Their sales run shead of their expectations and also ahead of their expectations and also ahead of the sales made during the month of July a year ago. So long as that is the case they do not feel that they have much cause for complaint. At the present time wholesalers are very busy shipping out their advance orders of fall goods. Owing to the fact that they have tuken more fall orders than ever before has made it necessary for them to begin shipping a little earlier and also to greatly increase their forces. A few fall buyers are beginning to arrive on the market and from this time on a steady increase is expected. A great many merchants have expressed their intention of coming the first part of August and by the middle of the month the rush will be on. Those who went on the trade excursion into western lowa came back greatly encouraged over the prospects for new business in that section. They said that without exception the retailers in the towns visited were very kindly disposed toward Omaha and expressed their intention of visiting this market this fall. It was found that a large proportion of the merchants who still go east do it from habit and because they do not realize the development that has been going on in the wholesale district of Omaha during the last few years. All jobbers ask is that merchants in western fowa make Omaha a call, for if they do that their future patronage is assured.

Prices on most lines of goods are on about the same level they were if they do that their future patronage is assured.

Prices on most lines of goods are on about the same level they were a week ago. There have of course been a few fluctuations up and down, especially in groceries, but the bulk of the goods jobbed out of Omaha are quoted firm. With the outlook favorable for a continued heavy consuming demand throughout the country those best posted look for healthy markets for some time to come.

Sugar Quoted Steady.

sugar market is in just about the anne position it was a week ago. There has been no change on either raws or refined. The demand is reported as being very good for this season of the year and the refineries are still largely oversold. Shipments as a result are coming forward slowly, is cheese market has been holding up The cheese market has been holding up-remarkably well and, in fact, Young Amer-icas show a slight advance. Those well-informed on the situation say that no lower prices than those now in force will be seen this year. Much, however, depends upon the weather conditions experienced in August and September.

The bean market is a trifle easier than it was a week ago, but the demand continues fair. tinues fair.

The movement of canned goods still continues quite satisfactory. The demand covers the entire line, but is particularly heavy on California canned goods, standard tomatoes and vegetables. There have been no changes worthy of notice on the market, but the advances recently quoted on corn, peas and gallon apples are being well sustained.

on corn, peas and gallon apples are being well sustained.

The only change in dried fruits is an advance on prunes amounting to 14 cent per pound. The demand is still very heavy. The rice market is in the same position it was a week ago.

In the line of fish, mackerel is quoted higher with the supply very short. There is now small prospect of a large catch being taken. Other kinds of fish are quoted just about the same as they were a week ago and the demand is very fair.

The market for woodenware remains very firm, and there is a decided improvement noted in the demand for certain lines of baskets. It is now thought that no lower prices for woodenware will prevail for some time to come.

Fancy groceries including such lines as jellies and james are in much better demand than they were a short time ago and the higher classed goods sell to the best advantage. The demand is thought to be owing largely to the light supply of small fruits.

So far as trade conditions are concerned.

So far as trade conditions are concerned local grocery jobbers say that they have been enjoying a very liberal patronage and their sales have gone considerably ahead

Shipping Fall Goods.

Shipping Fall Goods.

Local dry goods jobbers are now devoting a large share of their attention to filing their advance orders for fall goods. They are working the largest forces they have ever had, and besides that they are working them overtime so as to get these orders filled and out of the way before fall buyers begin to arrive very freely. There are, however, quite a few early buyers beginning to come in circady and many more are expected this week. The orders that have been placed so far this year have been very liberal, and from that jobbers judge that they are going to do a nice business throughout the season. Advices from the country indicate that merchants are cleaning out their summer goods in good shape, and if that is the case they will have picnty of money with which to make their fall purchases.

The market is in very much the same position it was a week ago. Cotton goods continue very firm with desirable lines exceedingly scarce and hard to obtain. It becomes more and more evident that these conditions will become more pronounced as the season advances. As a result jobbers are advising their customers to get in their orders for fall goods, especially for cotton lines, as early as possible and in that way be assured of securing desirable lines. So far as can be seen at the present time those posted say there is no prospect of lower prices on dry goods for some time to come and that merchandise at present prices is good property.

Carriage Boits a Little Lower.

satisfactory, as jobbers are enjoying a good steady demand on all seasonable lines and their sales for July show a good increase over those made during the same month Leather Goods Firm and Active.

Leather Goods Firm and Active.

Leather goods jobbers also have a favorable report to make regarding the condition of trade. Their traveling men have been meeting with aurprisingly good results of late and as a result have still farther swelled the increase in sales over last year. It seems that a great many merchants did not place their orders early in the season and it is those merchants that are now buying. Quite a few buyers have been on the market themselves during the last few days and have bought nice bills. Everything in the leather goods line trade seems to point to a continued brisk demand throughout the season.

Wholesale fruit men report the demand for fresh fruits as being very heavy. Callfornia fruits in particular are moving out very nicely. Prices, of course, are gradually getting cheaper, as will be seen from the questions given in another column. The cool weather of the latter part of the week rather cut down the sale of such lines as watermelons and lemons, but that, of course, is but a temporary hill. A few home-grown tematees are beginning to arrive, but as yet the quality is very inferior. In a short time, however, a good supply is expected.

In the line of vegetables potatees are attracting a good deal of attention. It is feared that the dry weather about two weeks ago, together with the wet weather early in the year, has done much to cut down the anticipated yield. It is predicted that there will not be much over half a crop. Owing to these conditions the market is looking upward and the wholesale price has been advanced to copies, per bushel.

The butter market has eased off a little, packing stock now being worth about 12c. Eggs have not shown much change, but the loss off is excessingly heavy, owing to the loss off is excessingly heavy. Fruits and Produce.

and the week before. Spring chickens are also a little lower, but still the price is unusually high for this time of year. It is very evident that there is a marked shortage in the supply of spring chickens this year, owing probably to the cold, wet spring.

The only change in the hardware market of any importance at all is a slight decline in the price of carriage boits. This reduction, however, was no surprise, as the general belief was that they were too high as compared with other similar lines. The general market situation remains the same as it has been for some time past. That is, goods are scare and prices firm. The recent reductions in some lines of raw material have not affected the market for the manufactured articles in the least and no changes are anticipated. The fact is pointed out, that the cost of labor has been going up, and that fully offsats any reduction on the cost of raw material which has taken place.

CHICAGO, Aug. 1—Grain and provisions today showed much improvement, the market ruling strong throughout the session and closing with September wheat 1,401%chigher; corn up %c; oats, %2%c better, while provisions showed a gain throughout the list of from 10012%c.

Wheat was especially strong under the influence of reports of wheat being light in South Dakots and generally discouraging crop advices from the northwest. Buying orders were pientiful from the start and prices grew in strength as the session advanced. The opening was about steady. September being a shade lower, then a shade higher, at 78%78%c, but with a good local demand accompanied by buying orders from St. Louis and the northwest, there was a gradual advance throughout the day with now and then a slight reaction on realizing. Prices took a final spurt upward with the last few minutes of trading and the close was at the top, September being 1%51%c higher at 50%c. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 35%50 bu. Primary receipts were 621,500 bu., against 1.051,402 bu., a year ago. Minneapolis and Duluth reported receipts of 169 cars, which with local receipts of 90 cars, 10 of contract grade, made total receipts for the three points of 149 cars, against 246 cars last week and 459 cars a year ago.

Lumber Plant Changes Hands.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 1.—A deal has been consummated whereby the controlling interest in the West Side Lumber company, whose principal holdings are in Tuolumne county, passed from W. H. Crocker of the Crocker-Woolworth bank to William R. Thorson, a millionaire lumberman of Milwaukee, and several associates. The West Side Lumber company owns one of the largest tracts of sugarpine timber in the state, situated in Tuolumne county and connected with the Sierra Railway company's line by thirty miles of narrow-gauge railroad. It is said the price paid was in the neighborhood of $2,500.000.

Return of Sunshine Brings New Life to Market and Business is Lively.

The spring like air brought a return of life to the market yesterday. Where yesterday the Californians shivered in their private crates and the local vegetables stayed at home writing letters, everybody was out and bargaining with the return of sunshine. But not everyone-for if a groceryman saw a potato crossing the street a block away he set out for it at an eager run. The few spuds who were in were all even to the business situation and closed out at 65 cents, wholesale, which is considerable advantage to themselves. But it has been so muddy and cold that the potatoes who did not have bathrooms in their hills were not able to get market

If the cantaloupes can't elope, they can do the other thing and go away in the regular manner from the wholesale fruiters with the grocery buyers, or even the peddlers. They showed that yesterday when a car and a half got in on a cleanedup market and all got away during the day at a $2 figure. It was lively.

There was an amazed and curious crowd on the market yesterday, rubbering at the new watermelons. They "sure had been working in the sugar camps," every one of them, for they were all fat ladies, at least they were all fat. The museum sort. This car of wonders came in from Hempstead, Tex., and the average weight was fifty pounds. They were selling at 35 cents, but it looks like the wholesalers will have to sell them in ton lots in order to avoid selling one or two at a time, which is retailing, and not the proper thing at The Texas round colonels will not now be coming long, but Missouri will start soon.

Who knows what will happen to the tomatoes. There were first the locals, then Tennessee, Illinoisans and St. Louis reds all competing. The best which were sighted from this state or Missouri sold for as high as 50 cents, and again there were other tomatoes which went away at a 25-cent The official number of cars of stock figure, but these were not the pride of the brought in today by each road was:

Stolen Watch is Returned.

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Aug. 1.-(Special.) -Chief of Police Keith of Mitchell was greatly surprised upon going to the postoffice for his mail by receiving a package which proved to contain a watch. Accompanying it was a note asking him to deliver the watch to a Mr. Zimers, from whom it was asserted by the writer of the note, the watch had been stolen. The reason given for the return of the time-piece was that Zimers had at one time done the 419 thief a favor, and as the latter had plenty of other watches he could spare this one '148 and did not want anyone who had shown him kindness to lose anything through him.

CATTLE—There were no fresh receipts of cattle this morning with which to make a test of the market. For the week receipts show very little change from last week, but as compared with the corresponding week of last year there is an increase of about 1,000 head.

The beef steer market has been in good shape at this point all the week. On Monday, owing to hig receipts at Chicago and a break in prices at that point, the feeling here was a little easier, but since that time trading has been active, with the tendency of prices upward. The loss of the early part of the week has been fully regained and good to choice cattle are if anything a little higher. As high as $5.25 has been paid this week, which is the highest price for some time past. Fuckors have all been anxious for supplies this week, so that each day's offerings have been well cared for. The bulk of the fair to good cattle may be quoted from $4.50 to $5.35. The part fat kinds sell largely from $4 to $4.50.

The cow market followed very much the some course as steers. The first of the week prices cased off a little on good stuff, while the common kinds broke in bad shape. This loss, however, has been practically regained and companion out and inflicting serious and companion out and inflicting serious and permanent injuries.

about the same holdres they series at close of last week. The class of cows selling from $2 to $3 are not in very good demand and sell at very uneven prices, so that some sales look much better than others. Good corn-feds are still selling as high as $4.25, with the better grades of grassers and fair to good corn-feds going largely from $3 to $3.75.

Good buils are about steady for the week, but common kinds have been slow sale at any price. Veal caives are a little lower. The bulk of them sell from $4 to $4.50, with a choice one occasionally going as high as $5.50.

The supply of stock cattle was light all mail.
