ONE THOUSAND AND ONE NOW

King Ak-Sar-Ben's Knightly Retinue Has Reached Goodly Proportions.

HUSTLING COMMITTEE AFTER NEW MARK

Fifteen Hundred the Total Almed at and Extra Sessions to Be Held in Order to Expedite the Work,

"One thousand and one." So spake the Mighty Samson through the voice of the Grand Mutti at ye den of Ak-Sar-Ben close upon the hour of 9 of the last night. Whereat there was loud and long acclaiming.

For so, verily, is expressed the number of the legion of Ak-Sar-Ben dwelling within the Capital City. And they who were present from afar, even from where the Pacific indulgeth in long rolls and from where the Atlantic runneth to chops, did join in the making of sound.

Or, in the language of the unregenerate, it can be stated that there are now 1991 Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben; also that the hustling committee is still at work and alming at the 1,500 mark. At this time last year there were 684 knights, so that the work of the committee shows a gain of 317 to date. Within two weeks, with the active assistance of the over 1,000 present knights, the committee hopes to be close to the goal. Only in the exposition year has the present record been exceeded, and the 1903 program calls for a breaking

In order to expedite the desired breaking the committee will hereafter meet not only on Monday noon, but also on Thursday noon, and every member who has a friend who is not a knight and who should be a knight is expected to send in his name and if possible his application at the earliest possible moment. Before the lunch with which Samson in variably regales his guests immediately previous to their departure from the den the visitors from abroad, as well as the new knights, learned many things. All of them were perfectly willing to admit the No affidavits on this point were asked, but a large number-exactly the number of newly-made knights and visitors—could very easily be obtained. After the lessons in Roman and other history has been duly imparted Dr. M. J. Ford o Omaha formally, also informally, made the welcoming talk. He was followed in turn by Rev. S. P. Long of Mansfield, O., Z. T. Lindsey, John T. Yates and Daniel C. Callahan of Omaha, Fred Sonnenschein of West Point and Hon. Pat Sullivan of nearly all boys, there are now 329,000 boys

Must Let Pole Alone,

The Omaha Electric Light and Power company has secured a temporary restraining order from Judge Day enjoining Hans Farhn from interfering with a pole which the company desires to set at the corner of Militury avenue and Fifty-first street. In the petition upon which the order was based the company alleges that Farhn, with a gun in his hand, threatened injury to any person who should attempt to set the pole in front of his property, and threatened to cut it down should it be set in his absence. The temporary order is made returnable September 12, at which time motion for temporary injunction will be arrued.

WOMAN IN CLUB AND CHARITY

The history of the Utah Assembly o Mothers as given by Mrs. C. M. Allen reporting for the Mothers' Clubs of Utah at the recent National Congress of Mothers is most interesting and valuable as showing the Mormon influence on such movements.

Mrs. Allen says:

Mrs. Allen says:

The move to organize a Utah Mothers' congress was distinctly Gentile, but received the apparent support of prominent Mormons, and the organization was started in the spring of 1896 with great outward enthusiasm. The first gathering was well attended, and much interest was manifested. There practically the whole movement has ended. From that time the Utah Assembly of Mothers has been simply a yeariy gathering at which papers of varying merit are read, neither preceded nor followed by organized effort. We did not meet with success in the formation of mothers' clubs. The Mormon women said: "We do not need such organization, as we do all that kind of work in the relief society." It was soon discovered by the non-Mormon element of Utah that the manifesto of President: Woodruff abolishing polygamy was practically nonenforced, and the election of B. H. Roberts to congress brought the complete downfall to the too credulous Gentiles of all their hopes that conditions were really changed in Utah. The Gentile officers of the Utah Assembly of Mothers were filled with dismay on flading that men and women living openly in polygamy had officiated at our sessions as speakers and even opened our meetings with prayer. We have learned that a polygamours wife was sent to Washington with greetings to the National Mothers' congress. The National Congress of Mothers had put itself on record as opposed to polygamy, and the realigation that Morpolygamous wife was sent to Wagnington with greetings to the National Mothers congress. The National Congress of Mothers had put itself on record as opposed to polygamy, and the realigation that Mormons were still teaching and practicing it caused most of the Gentlies to withdraw from the Utah assembly—a conclusion of the matter which was obviously unavoidable. The Utah Assembly of Mothers as it now exists has ceased to be a member of the national congress, not having paid its dues for several years. In April of last year a few earnest women of Sult Lake City associated to create a nucleus of right thought concerning matters relating to the moral training of the young. This association is called the Home Protective League of Utah. They purpose to disseminate right principles through holding informal neighborhood gatherings in every community in Utah where a circle of conscientious women can be formed, to distribute good literature, and form circulating libraries, which treat of the true principles of marriage and of child culture.

Mrs. Allen pointed out in conclusion that

Mrs. Allen pointed out in conclusion that the new Utah league needs, first of all, literature concerning the evils of polygamy and asked the co-operation of the National congress in issuing such literature. These publications should be circulated whereever Mormon teachings are spread, outside of Utah as well as within the state.

The following statistics were recently presented by Dr. Barnes before the New York Chautauqua in an address on the educational status of women: "In the high schools, which in 1870 had only 50,000 pupils, and 406,000 girls. In the universities and colleges, which in 1870 had scarcely any girls, women now form over one-third of the whole number, with a rapidly increasing percentage. Money is Found.

Birdie Smith, Leo Williams and Carrie Reed were locked up yesterday afternoon because it was believed one of them robbed Frank Marnell of Henderson, Is., of 10. After the arrests were made the 15 was found hid in the room occupied by the Smith woman, 83 Dodge street, by Detectives Donohue and Heiffeld. Marnell, with his wife, was on a visit to Omaha and they were stopping at a down town hotel, where the former left his wife while he went out to see the sights.

Arrested on Suspicion.

Richmond Redmond and Thomas Hines, the former colored, both from Malvern, la., were arrested last night and are charged with being suspicious characters. They claimed to be touring the country together for the purpose of seeing the sights. Redmond had a revolver in his possession when searched at the station.

PROPERTY OWNERS PETITION FOR MOVE

City Engineer Directed to Establish Grade from Madison Street to County Line Without Delny.

At last night's meeting of the city coun cil a petition containing over 100 names was read asking that the city council take steps to have Railroad avenue paved from Q street to the county line. The petitioners are made up largely of business and professional men and the need of a better road to the south is brought forcibly to the minds of the council. Following the reading of the petition Adins moved that the city engineer be directed to establish the grade on Railroad avenue from Madison street to the county ine. This carried without any opposition In another motion, which carried, Adkins had the engineer instructed to estimate the cost of paving Railroad avenue. It is understood that under the new city charter the council may order the pavement of a main thoroughfare and assess the cost against the property without going through the formality of having a majority of the property owners sign a petition.

Broderick brought up the question of having a watchman stationed at the Burlington crossing at Thirty-eighth and L streets. He said that with the switching in the yards there and the heavy runs of family. cattle coming in from the west a watchman was needed. The city clerk was instructed to notify the Burlington managers to station a watchman at this crossing. The claim of Thomas Hoctor for $5,000 for njuries alleged to have been received by falling on a sidewalk at Twenty-sixth and F streets was read again and also a report from City Attorney Murdock. The attorney suggested that no attention be paid to the claim as notice had been filed after the limit of time allowed by the charter George M. Johnson, one of the patrolmer removed by the Fire and Police Board, sent in a communication asking that he be allowed pay for the twenty-one days he was laid off in May pending a trial before the board. The communication was sent to the finance committee.

The new plat of Drews' Hill addition was approved by the council. Five ordinances on first reading went to the judiciary committee. These pertained to the setting of curb lines on H street from Twentieth to Twenty-fourth streets and to the grading of certain streets and alleys in the eastern portion of the city. The protest of the Omaha Cattle Loan company against its assessment of $150,000 by the tax commissioner was overruled on the suggestion of City Attorney Murdock. This company alleged that it was incorporated under the laws of Kansas and there fore not taxable here. Murdock held that as the main offices of the company are in South Omaha and the business was trans acted here it should be taxed. The council thought the same and the assessment will not be changed.

The council will meet Wednesday fore noon to transact some special business.

Board Elects Teachers.

Last night the Board of Education elected eleven teachers to serve for the school Ewing, Eunice Ensor, Vera Barden, Maud Carter, Bertha Meth, Leone Eller and Mary Moore. This makes 117 teachers elected so far.

Authority was given the president and secretary to employ special counsel to assist Attorney Pancoast in prosecuting L. A. Davis. The majority in the board assert that Davis should pay back into the school treasury $1,900 which he was paid for plans for a high school building. It is further asserted that Davis should return to the board other moneys obtained while he was architect for the school district. Claims and salaries amounting to $1,076 were ordered paid. The buildings and grounds committee will advertise for bids for the steam heating plant at Highland school. Adjourned for one week.

Three Missing Persons.

Mrs. Belt called at police headquarters last night and said that her husband had been gone for two weeks. She left a description and asked the police to assist her in the search for her husband. Belt is a packing house employe, about 30 years old and is supposed to be in Iowa.

Matthew Puschle, who lives at 4021 Cum ing street, is also missing. He is 14 years old and is employed at Swift's. The father of the youngster could not find him at the Swift plant yesterday afternoon and last night left a description at the city jail with a view to having the police locate him.

Improving Milk Supply.

Since Inspector Jones commenced making daily tests of milk there has been a marked change in the grade of milk furnished by dairymen to customers in this city. Inspector Jones said last night that he proosed keeping up his milk tests and the inspection of dairies for two or three months in order to prevent the selling of adulter ated milk during the hot weather. One milkman whose product was found to be below the standard was notified to show an improvement at once or else he would be arrested. An improvement in the quality of milk has been made. In order to prevent an imposition on him Inspector Jones now visits private families and secures a small sample of milk to test.
