Returns Send Corn Up.

There was a moderate trade in corn and There was a moderate trade in corn and prices were easier at the opening, due to further rains in the west. September was sold quite freely early in the day and this selling pressure depressed the more distant months, but later a good demand for May developed which caused a rally. The chief bull factor was the Missouri crop report, although the late strength in wheat was also a factor. The close was strong, with September ½0% chigher at 52% follow, after selling between 51c and 52% c. Local re-ceipts were 305 cars, with 29 of contract grade.

Disappointing thrashing returns Disappointing threasing returns were largely responsible for the firmness in oats, although the scarcity of offerings helped prices. While trading was not on a large scale, there was a fairly good demand throughout the day. After ranging between 33% c and 34% c, September closed % @% c higher at 34% c. dates of the republican party have set a number of politicans to figuring as to the representation each of the wards and precincts would be entitled to have under the plan. One of them went to the office of the county clerk and did a little figuring. The figures are not absolutely correct for the reason that two wards have been added to South Omaha since the last presidential election and the representation from that city, would be somewhat differently divided as to wards and precincts. The table based upon the vote received by Wallace R. Barton, the presidential elector in the campaign of 1900 receiving the highest vote in the county, is as follows:

The cow market showed little if any change from that of yesterday. The better grades of either cornfeds or grassers are selling fully steady, with the inferior of-ferings selling at more or less uneven fig-ures, according to the supply and demand. Odds and ends of all kinds, buils, veal caives, stags, etc., were quotably un-changed. The market for feeders was moderately supplied, with the demand from dealers of fair proportion. Well bred grades are free sellers, in fact the market all around ruled fairly active at fully steady prices. Repre-sentative sales:

LITTAUER IN OMAHA TANNERY RAILROAD TO BE ASSESSED Topp's Defunct Scheme Supposed to San Francisco Corporation Must Pay

Tax on Property and Franchise.

BACRAMENTO, Cal., Aug. 4 .- The State Board of Equalization has assessed the United Railway of San Francisco at $20,-150,000 on roadbed, ralls, rolling stock and franchise. The assessor of the city and county of San Francisco will also assess the machinery, buildings, fixtures and all other property.

As the superior court decided in effect that the State Board of Equalization must assess the United railroad, which operates its lines in more than one county, the board stood by its previously announced intentions to assess the roadbed, etc., notwithstanding the declaration of Assessor Dodge that he would also assess the road.
