Agitation for the Establishment of One in Omaha is Still On.

MACHINERY BUYING WAVE STRIKES CITY

Proprietors of Leading Job Shops Refuse to Consolidate-Duplication in Plants-Why Work Goes to Smaller Cities.

Whether there will be a printers' printing house established in Omaha is still being discussed by the prominent job printers of the city, and some express the belief that even though all the original plans are not carried out the agitation will result in several "reforms" in the business. F. H. Johnson, secretary and treasurer of the Omaha Printing company, is credited is admitted, but the proprietors of the five with being the father of the present agitation. The plan originally proposed was that three or four of the largest printing establishments in the city be combined and a strong and fully equipped company be organized to do all classes of work. Owing to some proprietors of shops declaring that they preferred to continue going it alone this plan was dropped, at least temporarily, and it was proposed that instead a printers' printing house be established.

An entirely new company, under the sec ond plan, was to be organized, the stockholders to be proprietors of job printing houses, but the new company to do work for outsiders as well as for stockholders and all at the same price. The new company was to be equipped with Mergenthaler linotypes, Lanston monotypes and such other machines as were found advisable, and all the straight composition, table work and other work which can be done by machines was to be turned over to it by the stockholders. Wave of Machinery Buying.

While this plan has not yet been carried out, and possibly may not be, the agitation regarding it is credited with causing the wave of machinery buying which has struck the Omaha job printers. The first roll of the wave was the buying of a monetype plant, consisting of three punching and two type-casting machines by the Omaha Printing company and the Klopp & Bartlett company, the two companies having equal shares in it. It is located in the basement of the Klopp & Bartlett establishment, and so far has satisfactorily done all the straight work of the two companies, and while outside work has not been solicited, some of it could be done.

The Rees Printing company followed suit by purchasing a Simplex type-setting machine, but has just disposed of it, not finding it what was wanted. Other machinery will, however, probably be secured by the company in the near future. The Burkley Printing company has ordered a Mergenthaler and A. I. Root has within a few days

More than usual interest attaches to the meeting of the republican county committee called for Saturday afternoon at Washington hall and a practically full attendance is expected. The proposed new rules to govern prinary election and nominating conventions will draw out a sharp line-up between those who favor them and those who oppose them. It is understood that the most strenuous opposition will come from the county members, who naturally object to any plan that would reduce their strength in conventions and committee organization. The announcement that the democratic judicial committee will meet Saturday to consider the question of a judicial convention is causing much interest in democratic circles. Some efforts have been made to induce the chairman to indicate his desires in the matter, but with his usual modesty Mr. Smith says that he prefers to have the members of the committee decide the question for themselves. The persons opposed to the assumption of power by the county committeemen are using every effort to have the judicial convenwhen it meets.

> CAN'T HELP IT Coffee Nerves Always on Edge,

The easy way to get rid of coffee nerves on edge is to quit the coffee and drink well made Postum Food Coffee in its place. When the Postum is thoroughly boiled it furnishes a rich tasting food drink and it is then easy and pleasant to shift from the drug to the food coffee. A Washington lady says: "For a long time I suffered from nervous headachs and was so weak and worn out all the time that I was hardly able to do my housework. Every little thing worried me so, and the noise of my two little children almost drove me wild. I tried my best to be kind and patient with them, but it seemed the harder I tried the crossser I grew until I was discouraged almost to despair. I had been using coffee three times a day for about twelve years. Several months ago I read an article in a religious paper telling about Postum Food Coffee and I made up "So I shut down on the coffee, which was easy when I used Postum. My headaches surprised at this and was determined to let offee alone and give Postum a fair trial. In a few days Postum had driven most of altogether, and for the past three months l have been a different person. The headaches are all gone, my strength is coming back, nerves are steady and I feel rested in place of tired all the time.
