

for-ritched glance, whispering to Dr. Lapponi: "Shall I ever be able to go through with it?"

The people in the basilica had in the meantime become impatient, and when the gleaming cross which preceded the procession was seen it was greeted with applause. On the appearance of the pontiff himself it seemed as though the people would like to carry him in their arms, so great was their enthusiasm. Cries of "Plus, our pope and father," and "Long live Pius X." were raised, notwithstanding the large placards distributed all about saying, "Acclamations are forbidden."

Blence was obtained when the choir announced its entrance with the resounding notes of "Ecce sacerdos magnus," which were accompanied by the sweet notes of the silver trumpets.

Burrounding Pius were the noble guard in new uniforms and gleaming helmets, carrying dark swords, while in front marched the cardinals, a gorgeous bit of color, with many handsome faces among them, the cardinal bishops in their robes, the cardinal priests wearing chasubles and the cardinal deacons in their demure.

Another figure which evoked murmurs of admiration and craning of necks, was the chaplain in his crimson robe, proudly bearing the cushion on which reposed the famous triple crown. He was accompanied by the pontifical jeweler and a special detachment of the gendarmes, and was followed by the choir of theistine chapel, which sang as it went along.

Before leaving the vatican the pope went to theistine chapel to worship before the sacrament exposed there, thence passing through the Sala Regia and the Constantinian atrium to the porch of the basilica. He then seated himself on a throne erected directly before the holy door and surrounded with seats for the members of the sacred college, the chapter of St. Peter's and the papal court.

At the right of the throne stood Prince Orsini, the assistant to the papal throne, who withdrew his seat to make room in order to participate at the function. Immediately beside the pope were the major domo, Mgr. Cagliano; the master of the chamber, Mgr. Biletti; the master of ceremonies, Mgr. Riggi, and Dr. Lapponi.

The pontiff was exceedingly pale, but composed. The low, plaintive, and an exquisite echo of the "Tu es Petrus," sung by theistine choir, whose voices were heard outside in the piazza of St. Peter's, Cardinal Rampolla advanced with dignity, knelt and kissed the pontiff's foot. Then he proffered in a firm voice the wishes and sentiments of the chapter of St. Peter's, saying: "I offer an act of obedience to your holiness and wish you a prosperous and glorious pontificate."

The cardinal recalled that the bodies of the first pope and of St. Paul rested in the basilica, which he said was a good augury for the work of the new pope of the Catholic church.

The pontiff was visibly touched, and, answering in a trembling voice, warmly thanked the chapter for their good wishes.

Symbolical Ceremony Complete. A quaint ceremony was then carried out. The master of the ceremonies knelt three times before the pontiff, each time lighting a handful of hemp which surmounted a silver torch and as the flame flashed and then died out he chanted: "Holy father, thus passes away the glory of the world."

The procession then proceeded, the pope's face meanwhile illuminated by a smile. At the chapel of the sacrament there was another halt, and his holiness left the sedan chair and bowed at the altar.

On again entering the chair he was carried to the chapel of St. Gregory, where he officiated at a mass, being assisted by Cardinals Macchi, Di Pietro, Segna and Vannutelli. Then all the cardinals donned their silver copes and white mantles and the pope was borne to the throne amid renewed acclamations and waving handkerchiefs, fans and hats.

The scene presented on his mounting the throne was magnificent. The central figure was the venerable pontiff seated on the throne. Two lines of cardinals clad in silver and red, reached to the high altar with its burden of burning censers and sacred vessels, while around stood the papal guards, the pontifical court, monks and officials.

Rope and Pallium Bestowed. From the throne Pius X, surrounded by his suite, walked to the right altar, standing over the crypt of St. Peter, into which meanwhile Cardinal Macchi descended to pray. The altar was surmounted by a baldachin supported by four historic bronze pillars taken from the Parthenon.

The appearance of the pope in that elevated position called for another burst of enthusiasm. Then the pope blessed the altar and after saying the "Indulgentiam," the mantle, a symbol of the cord with which Christ was bound on his capture, was placed with great ceremony on the pope's arm. At the same time prayers for the coronation were recited by Cardinals Vannutelli, Mocenni, Agliardi and Satali.

Returning from the crypt Cardinal Macchi placed on the shoulders of the pope the pontifical palladium and attached it with the golden jeweled pins, saying: "Receive this mantle as a symbol of the fullness of the pontifical office in honor of Almighty God, the most glorious Virgin Mary, His mother, the blessed apostles, St. Peter and St. Paul, and the holy Roman church."

Mass was then celebrated with great pomp and ceremony, the voice of the pope becoming firmer and more sonorous, until it was audible even in the furthest corner of the immense church. Following this, Cardinal Macchi performed the rite of incensing the pope, whom he subsequently kissed three times on the cheek and chest, as did Cardinals Segna and Vannutelli.

Cardinals Offer Obedience. On the pope's return to the throne the cardinals offered their last obedience, kissing his hands and feet and receiving an embrace by him twice in turn. The bishops and archbishops kissed his foot and right knee while the abbots kissed only his foot. The holy father then walked to the shrine of St. Peter for the customary rite of the extremely fatiguing ceremony.

dicted the pater noster, and offered the following prayer:

Omnipotent and ever eternal God, dignify my gran. Thy servant, Pius X, elected fruitfully by thee. Thy church so that he, who by Thy clemency becomes and is crowned king and victor and victor of all the faithful, through Thy wise disposition may govern well.

"Amen," was uttered from all the corners of the cathedral, from the choir, the people, the clergy, and the patricians.

Mitre and Crowns Bestowed. Cardinal Delgan then presented the pontifical mitre, and Senior Cardinal Deacon Macchi placed on the white head the triple crown. At this moment the church was filled with the ringing of bells, the blowing of silver trumpets, the triumphant strains of the choir, and the acclamations of the multitude, which could no longer be repressed.

When comparative silence had been restored Cardinal Macchi addresses the pope in Latin, as follows:

Receive the tiara ornamented with three crowns. Remember, O father of princes and kings, the rector of the world, the vicar on earth of our Savior Jesus Christ, the honor and the glory of all centuries.

"Amen," again burst forth from the choralists. Pius was almost overcome, and had scarcely strength left to impart the apostolic benediction. Cardinals Macchi and Segna granted a plenary indulgence to all present, and the procession then re-formed and left the basilica in the same form as it came.

The pope was visibly fatigued, and his right hand shook as he raised it time after time to bestow his blessing. When the ceremony was over all the exits to the basilica were opened, and within less than an hour the vast cathedral was empty.

Cardinal Gibbons, after participating in the coronation ceremony, started for the villa of the American college at Castle Galdolfo, accompanied by Mgr. Kennedy, rector of the college. The cardinal will spend a few days resting.

Strong as Pius X is physically, he supported the ordeal today with peculiar ease. He was crowned, although Leo was merely a shadow of a man, he possessed a will nothing could break. This evening, when the pontiff received the duke of Parma, he said to him: "Not counting the election, today was the most tremendous experience of my life. I must find a way to stop the noise in the church. It is an offense against religion."

No Accidents Occur. Although there was a tremendous crowd at St. Peter's today, not a single untoward incident occurred, and the perfect order is attributed to the good organization of the military and the police.

Premier Zanardelli, although not well, remained in a firm voice to direct the policy of the government. He left immediately after the coronation, saying: "Rome and Italy have given proof to the world of the freedom of the church."

The officers of the Vatican refused diplomatic accreditation to the Quirinal today, and the American college party, the archbishop of Manila, Mgr. O'Connell, rector of Washington university, and Very Rev. Charles P. Granahan of the same institution; Father Wall and Father John F. Burke of New York; Father E. W. Fowler of St. Louis; and Father Thomas B. Donovan of Montgomery, Ala.

The only member of the pope's family present was his nephew, Patroli, who is a parish priest.

Tonight all the churches and religious institutions accredited to the Quirinal are illuminated in honor of the occasion. The pontiff was so fatigued by the ceremony that the meeting of the consistory, which was to be held tomorrow, has been postponed.

PRESIDENT READS FAKE ATTACK Learns from Papers that He Prevented Children's Outing on White House Grounds.

OSTYER BAY, Aug. 9.—President Roosevelt passed the day quietly at Sagamore Hill with Baron von Sternberg and members of his family. Mrs. Roosevelt and the children attended services at Christ church in the morning.

The president read in the newspapers today that he had prevented several hundred children from having an outing in the White House grounds at Washington, because the color line had been drawn by the managers of the affair. It was said an appeal had been made to him to withdraw his objections to the use of the grounds for the picnic, but he had paid attention to it. As a matter of fact, the president knows nothing of the affair, except what he has read in today's newspapers, and had not heard of it before.

As a matter of custom the White House grounds are not opened for children's outings except on Easter Monday, when the president usually occurs. If an application were made at any other time it would probably not reach the president in any event. It did not reach him in this case.

It is understood the president may soon appoint Charles McClelland, a senator of the Twenty-second New York district, to a position on the board of general appraisers. Under the law the appointee must be a democrat. Senator McClelland has influential support for the appointment.

REBELS CRY FINISH FIGHT

Macedonians Declare Revolt Can Only Be Quelled by Turkey Granting Demands.

BULGARIA CALLS ON POWERS TO HELP Promises to Suppress Disorder When Possible, but Denies Use of Force Against Insurgents.

SOFIA, Bulgaria, Aug. 9.—"Nothing can end the present revolution in Macedonia until our national aspirations are satisfied or those fighting to attain them exterminated." This was the concluding sentence of a speech made yesterday by the Macedonian committee at the revolutionary headquarters here.

Boris Sarafoff, the head and front of the movement, is with the insurgents in Macedonia. His representatives here believe the desired result will be speeded through the present movement.

Seek Safety for Christians. A Macedonian committee man thus explained the rising: "We are trying to win reform which will assure to the Christian population of Macedonia security for their lives and property and the right to participate in the administration of the country."

The present revolutionary organization came into existence some years ago when the persecution of the Bulgarian population in Bulgaria became aggravated. Today all Macedonia is embraced in the movement and, although it was not intended to strike so soon, the preparations were not sufficiently completed, the recent outrages of the Turks, the massacres of the innocent, the flight of the population with the peaceful rural population and the torturing of the innocent, all these under various pretexts so exaggerated that the insurrection was decided on, no matter what might be the outcome.

The fighting area is widening and will gradually embrace every village in Macedonia until the autonomy of the country is secured. The government's preparations were not sufficiently completed, the recent outrages of the Turks, the massacres of the innocent, the flight of the population with the peaceful rural population and the torturing of the innocent, all these under various pretexts so exaggerated that the insurrection was decided on, no matter what might be the outcome.

Bulgarian Government Moves. The Bulgarian minister is clearly watching the situation in Macedonia and has decided to increase the frontier forces. Orders have been telegraphed to the frontier authorities to redouble their vigilance and prevent all unauthorized individuals and unauthorized bands from crossing the Turkish frontier.

The foreign minister has informed the representatives of the powers that the government will use its utmost endeavors to quell all unrest in Bulgaria occasioned by the events in Macedonia, but the powers must do their part and take the necessary steps to induce the ports to stop the persecution of the innocent and the employment of Bashli Bazuks in suppressing the revolution.

The massacres likely to follow it, the Bashli Bazuks, are turned loose, added the minister, "are intended to precipitate a movement in Bulgaria in favor of the revolution, and thus force the hand of the government."

Say Rebels Murder Women. CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 9.—Late dispatches from Himi Pasha, inspector general of the reform movement, announces that the insurgents in large numbers attacked Djivarick, near Kastoria, and massacred the inhabitants including women and children, and then furiously attacked neighboring villages, taking many captives, some of whom were burned alive.

Some Greek peasants were also killed in the village of Monastir, and the village of Ohrida, which likewise attacked some Muslem villages.

They everywhere displayed rage and ferocity and the Muslem inhabitants were greatly terrorized.

The government is taking every measure possible to suppress the rising. Eight more battalions have been ordered to the village of Monastir. M. Maurocordato, the Greek minister, has made representations to the porte on behalf of Greek subjects.

Mail Guard is Murdered. M. Postkovski, the Russian consul at Monastir, it is said, was murdered on Saturday morning by a Zamboni, who was on duty outside the consulate. The assassin was arrested. Said Pasha, the grand vizier, and Tewfik Pasha, minister of foreign affairs, called on the Russian ambassador, M. Zinovief, and expressed the government's deep regret at the occurrence.

Rebels Battle Hard. LONDON, Aug. 10.—The Times this morning prints a dispatch from Sofia dated yesterday saying the insurgents held Krushovo, 23 miles northwest of Monastir, for two days and only withdrew after severe fighting with the Turks in which 160 were killed on both sides.

The correspondent says that statistics of the revolutionary committee forbid the revolutionists to touch peaceful Mohammedans of either sex, and therefore the report emanating from the Turkish government that they killed Mohammedan women and children in the Kastoria district are untrue.

The coroner and police officials decided today to permit the playing of scheduled games. The left field "bleachers" will be roped off and the spectators will be allowed to occupy only the seats in the right field.

Thousands of thousands of people today visited the baseball park and the hospitals were thronged with friends and relatives of the injured.

JUDGE LYNCH AN ANARCHIST

Durbia Blames People. INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 9.—When seen at his residence tonight regarding the letter from President Roosevelt, Governor Durbia said:

I naturally feel gratified over the commendation which the chief executive of the country has seen fit to bestow on my administration in connection with the trouble at Evansville and I certainly regard it as a great compliment to have his approval. I am not prepared to say that it was a war on the colored race, but rather an evidence of a general contempt for the orderly way of enforcing the law.

SIX BREAK JAIL IN MONTANA

One Feigns Sickness, Overpowers Guard and Releases His Companions.

BUTTE, Mont., Aug. 9.—Six men escaped from the county jail here shortly after 6 this evening. Charles Lenox and James Martin, convicted of murder; L. L. Felker, who escaped once before and has been tried twice for murder; J. R. Woods and Patrick Rogers, held for robbery; and Frank Cretzoff, wanted in Cheyenne for holding up a stage coach.

Cretzoff and Rogers, who had planned the outbreak, were caught within an hour. Cretzoff complained of being sick and was taken to the hospital, while Rogers, through the door and forced the jailer at the point of a revolver to deliver the keys, with which they opened the cells of the other prisoners.

Cretzoff and Rogers were run down by a horseman and brought back to jail. Two more battalions have been ordered to the village of Monastir. M. Maurocordato, the Greek minister, has made representations to the porte on behalf of Greek subjects.

The Union Veteran legion and members of the Grand Army of the Republic were at the station in large numbers, and the crowd which gathered to greet the South Cumberland band played national airs.

General Thomas R. Scott of Baltimore made a short speech, referring to General Miles as "the greatest living soldier," and invited the assembled multitude to form in line and shake the hand of the retiring general of the United States army.

Valentine Declines Nomination. WEST POINT, Neb., Aug. 9.—(Special.)—E. K. Valentine has written an open letter to the voters of the Eighth judicial district declining the proffered nomination for judge and giving his reasons for this action. The judge objects to the delegation from this county to the judicial convention at Wakefield being chosen by the county central committee and thinks a convention should have been called and the delegates elected, thereby getting more accurately at the will of the republicans of the county.

This action on the part of the judge has caused great regret to the party here, as he was considered a strong candidate, his ability as a jurist, his personal popularity and his past good record on the bench being all in his favor.

Cum gratia material for the judgeship, ex-Senator O'Brien of Winnebago and McLaughlin present county attorney, being both strong men. For sixteen years the Elkhorn valley has been studiously ignored in the judicial conventions, the plum during that time being given to men in the northern portion of the district.

The safe, a fireproof affair, was totally wrecked, nitroglycerine being used. The explosion occurred at about 3:30 this morning and was heard by many citizens. There is no clue to the burglars.

School House Site Settled. FREMONT, Neb., Aug. 9.—(Special.)—The fight over the relocation of the school house in district No. 73 of this county has finally been amicably settled out of court. The parties finally agreed to leave it to Superintendent Arnot to decide the center of the district and he located it at a point about half a mile from where the movers left it. The parties agreed to the dissolution of the injunction and peace once more reigns in the district, though at the hearing yesterday morning both sides were anxious to fight the case to a finish.

HAIL MOWS DOWN CORN CROP

Webster City, Iowa, Visited by Worst Storm of the Year.

OKLAHOMA RIVERS THREATEN TROUBLE Oklahoma Also Swept by Wind and Rain Which Do Much Damage to Farm Property in Territory.

WEBSTER CITY, Ia., Aug. 9.—(Special Telegram.)—A terrific storm of hail and wind visited this section last night. The farming section immediately east of the city was in the direct path of the storm, and was severely damaged, corn particularly being badly stripped.

Many farmers who were working in the fields were unable to hold their teams, and many runways are reported, although no serious injury to persons occurred. It was the worst hailstorm of the season. The extent of damage to crops cannot be estimated, as the hail was much more severe in some localities than in others. It will, however, be considerable.

Sioux City in Storm's Path. SIOUX CITY, Ia., Aug. 9.—A terrific hail storm visited northwestern Iowa about 4 this afternoon, extending as far east as Hamilton county, and doing almost untold damage in some localities.

Corn was stripped and beaten to the ground, some livestock was killed. In Sioux City the mischief done by hail and wind was almost unprecedented, chunks of ice fell as big as a man's fist, and thousands of individual stones were as large as walnuts. Plate glass windows were broken, screens and awning torn and tin roofs were ruined. Many fine shade trees were ruined.

Kansas Rivers Rising. TOPEKA, Kan., Aug. 9.—Heavy rains today throughout the eastern and central portions of the state have caused all the streams to rise. The Smoky Hill, Blue and Solomon rivers all are high. Yesterday the Kansas river had commenced to fall, but tonight there is high water all along the line.

Many persons in North Topeka are moving out of their homes, although there seems to be little danger. There is a lake in the west portion of town formed by the May flood which has not overflowed into the streets. High water has also almost completely encompassed the north side again. This bed of water is two miles long and has a depth of twelve feet. Two other lakes near the reform school cover 200 acres each. All these are overflowing as a result of the rains and this causes some alarm. (While damage is being done no reputation of the May flood is feared.)

CHICKASHA, I. T., Aug. 8.—During a heavy thunderstorm last night a meteor fell in the north part of the city with a sound like a cannon. The meteor was about 100 feet long and a shower of sparks which blazed up the country for miles around. The aerolite struck the earth in the back yard of Mrs. Sarah Sibley. Mrs. Sibley was stunned. A terrific explosion occurred at the time and fragments fell in all directions. The telephone service was wrecked.

Three Killed in Carolina. CHARLESTON, S. C., Aug. 9.—This city and district were visited tonight by a severe electric storm. A negro woman was killed in the street and at Ten Mile Hill J. B. Brittendorf and his wife were killed by lightning and their home burned. The electric motive power of the street car system was burned out and all cars stopped.

One Dies at Albemarle. RALEIGH, Aug. 9.—A disastrous rain and electric storm did great damage near Albemarle today. Four tenement houses were damaged by lightning and one girl was killed by lightning.
