Nervous from Memories of May Disaster. TOPEKA, Kan., Aug. 10 .- Kansas received heavy rains this morning, with additional showers today. The Kansas river has risen almost 4 feet since Sunday afternoon and a still greater rise is expected. Drift wood and trees coming down indicate the rise above. Packing companies near the river are mloading dirt at their plants today and clearing the basements of goods, to be ready for an emergency. Most of these companies suffered during the May flood.
