that fully $50,000 will be taken in at gate. "Jeffries will neither spar nor indulge in road work." said his trainer today. "He is fast as he can be, his wind is perfect, his condition is the finest it ever was, and if Corbett whips him he will be the wonder of the age. Jeffries himself figures that he will take the measure of the Olympian in about ten rounds. In his opinion the mill may go fifteen, but not ore than that."

Jeffries is heavier than he has ever been at the close of training for any of his former engagements, and to the men who handle him this condition seems to be most pleasing.

When seen today at his training quarters in Alameda, Corbett said: "I would be willing to lose one of my arms if I can defeat Jeffries."

"I know that Jeffries is a big, toggh fellow," he added, "but nothing can discourage me. If the betting were 100 to 1 in favor of Jeffries it would make no difference. I have been doing everything that mortal man could do for fifteen months to get into condition for this fight and now that I have about finished my work I am satisfied. I am fit to make the fight of my life tomorrow night and if I don't win I never could or never can win against the man. Win or lose, I will say the same thing after the fight that I say now." Jeffrics' weight, as indicated by the marker on scales of the Reliance club today, was 216 pounds, and he says that is his best fighting weight. For his contest with Gus Ruhlin he tipped the beam at 207 pounds. He weighed 211 when he put Corbett out before and his weight in the recent engagement with Fitzsimmons 213 pounds.
