WHITMORE FOR THE REGENCY

Douglas County to Present Him for Place on State Ticket.

WEBSTER ON RESOLUTIONS COMMITTEE

Members of the Delegation Have Already Agreed on the Various Matters of Its Own Organization.

The Douglas county delegation to the republican state convention at Lincoln next Tuesday will present the name of H. N. Whitmore for Valley for the nomination for regent of the state university. Mr. Whitmore has been considering the question of his candidacy for some time at the solicitation of friends and has finally concluded to accept the position if it is tendered to him. Mr. Whitmore is well known as a successful farmer and stock raiser and has been in public life as a member of the state legislature. He also stood for the position of university regent as the nominee of the republicans in 1896, although on that occasion none of the candidates on the ticket were successful. A large majority of the delegates to the coming state convention have indicated their desire to support Mr. Whitmore for this place and he has also been assured of support from other counties. The delegates have practically agreed, in addition, to an organization of the delegation with W. W. Bingham as chairman and Hon. John L. Webster as member of the resolutions committee for this district. The members of the state committee whose terms expire are: Victor Row-water, Charles E. Morgan and B. E. Wilson. The last two are not asking to be re-elected, so the choice has been expressed for committeesmen for Douglas county Victor Row-water, Charles W. Fear and Joseph Koutsky.

tion is partially estimated, because the ward and precinct lines there have been changed since the 1898 election, the apportionment being based on the vote for president in that year.

"Why, no, I had never thought of it and would not have it if tendered me," said General Charles F. Manderson when asked if he would become a candidate for vice president of the United States, for which the Sixth Ward Republican club has endorsed him. "I had not known of the endorsement of the Sixth Ward Republican club at its recent meeting, so I have been out of the city and only returned last evening," he continued. "I appreciate the kindness of the Sixth Ward club, as that is my old ward. But I am not a candidate, nor would I accept the nomination. I am out of politics. I had twelve years of it at Washington and have no further aspirations for political life. There is too little domesticity to be enjoyed there, and I am a home man. I really had not given the matter much thought, being occupied with other business, but I am free to say very emphatically that the vice presidency should come to the west by all means. "You may certainly say for me that even were the matter of my being a vice presidential possibility taken seriously, that I would not consider it for a moment. There is plenty of good material in the west, and the greatest kindness my friends can do me is to let me live in political obscurity. They have honored me sufficiently, and I am sincerely grateful to them, and my gratitude will be increased by their permitting me to continue with them as a private citizen."

John N. Westberg is back in Omaha with the declaration that he intends to put in his time "making it hot for Roosevelt." Westberg went out to Calaveras county, California, shortly after failing to receive the republican nomination for comptroller last spring. He has been investigating a gold mine proposition and returns with the report that the property has not come up to expectations. Instead of yielding $11 worth of metal per ton, the ore developed but $2.50.

W. G. Shriver has decided to try for the republican nomination for the new office of county assessor and is the first candidate for any office to announce the fact. He has had cards printed and his friends have been distributing them broadcast. The impression that Shriver was out of the race came from a chance remark he made concerning the expensive filing fees required under the new primary rules.

The county convention of the socialist party of Douglas county will be held at socialist headquarters, 519 North Sixteenth street, Friday, September 4, for the nomination of candidates for county judge, sheriff, coroner, county treasurer, county clerk, county surveyor, superintendent of schools, county commissioners, clerk of the district court, county assessor, police judge and such other officers as are not herein named, and for the transaction of general miscellaneous business. All members of socialist party in the county in good standing are entitled to participate in the proceedings. The call is signed by Parker S. Condit, chairman, and J. J. Condon, secretary, of the socialist county central committee.

At a meeting held in the office of Chairman Goss the executive committee of the republican county central committee decided to issue at once the call for the republican primaries to be held October 6 and the convention to be held October 16. The meeting was called to correct some clerical errors in the primary rules and to make some additions that had been overlooked by the county committee. The county central committee will meet September 12 to name judges of the election and to select polling places. The committee added to the list of offices that of police magistrate, whose fee will be $5; coroner, $5; and road supervisors, $5. Justices of the peace in the country were added, but no fee was attached for becoming candidates. The remainder of the changes in the rules were merely clerical. The committee decided to have the new rules printed and distributed and this will be done at once. The committee expects to get busy now in preparing registration rolls by precincts, this being necessary owing to the fact that precinct primaries will be held.

The populist county central committee got together in the office of Deputy County Attorney Magney last night, but made no recommendation regarding the holding of a county convention. The selection of delegates to the state convention was left to those populists who will attend the judicial convention to be held August 22. Only a small membership of the committee was present.

REAL ESTATE MEN'S PICNIC

Exchange Holds Annual Outing at Lake Manawa and Urges All Members to Attend.

The Real Estate exchange will hold its annual outing tomorrow at Lake Manawa. A special program of events has been arranged and the promoters of the picnic insure a good time to all who attend. A special car for the benefit of the picnicers will leave the Paxton hotel corner, Fourteenth and Franklin streets, at 1:30 p. m. for the scene of the frolic. Boat rides on the lake and a game of ball at 4 o'clock between two nines to be picked from the exchange, will be featured of the day. All the real estate men have been urged to go, take their families and their baskets properly equipped.

STICKNEY PROMISES TO HELP

President of Great Western Pledges Assistance in Completion of Auditorium.

DOES NOT NAME ANY DEFINITE SUM

Last Line to Enter Omaha Taking Lead in Enterprise-Directors Hope Other Railroads Will Follow.

The Chicago Great Western railway will help Omaha build the Auditorium. President A. B. Stickney so told a committee of business men who waited on him at the Millard hotel Thursday afternoon. No definite sum was mentioned, but it is believed the road will purchase $2,000 or $3,000 worth of stock, the president saying that he would name the amount later. This will be the first subscription toward the Auditorium made by a railroad. It is pledged by the chief officer of a line that has not yet established a terminus in the city and which has had a stiff legal battle to be assured of entrance over the Union Pacific bridge.

Now that the last transportation line to reach Omaha has been first with an Auditorium subscription, it is confidently expected that the other lines will respond with equal or exceeding generosity. Such is the hope held by the members of the executive committee of the Auditorium company. The committee that called upon President Stickney by appointment included the executive committee, and was composed of these well known business men: J. E. Baum, Charles H. Pickens, Frank J. Carpenter, F. E. Sanborn, Arthur Smith, F. P. Kirkendall, F. A. Nash, W. M. Glass, E. P. Peck, W. S. Wright, Frank B. Hochstetler, W. J. C. Kenyon and J. M. Gillan, assistant secretary of the Auditorium company.

Introduced by Kellogg.

Frank B. Kellogg, general counsel for the Great Western, introduced those who had not previously met President Stickney, J. E. Baum, Charles H. Pickens, Frank J. Carpenter, F. E. Sanborn, Arthur Smith, F. P. Kirkendall, F. A. Nash, W. M. Glass, E. P. Peck, W. S. Wright, Frank B. Hochstetler, W. J. C. Kenyon and J. M. Gillan, assistant secretary of the Auditorium company.

In replying the president said he was willing not only to make a definite pledge of support for the Auditorium, but was pleased to have the opportunity to show his good will toward Omahans. He had fully decided, he announced, to help the people of Omaha build what he characterized as a splendid public building. "I want it distinctly understood," said President Stickney, "that the Great Western is entering Omaha with the most friendly feeling. I have taken up the interests of Omaha in conference with the officers of the company, and they were all desirous of showing the people of this city that the Great Western proposes to take a lively interest in the welfare and prosperity of Omaha and the surrounding country. We want to do all that is fair and reasonable to promote good feeling and prosperity in this part of the country. Does Not Name Amount. "I am not prepared at this time to say what the exact amount of stock that we will take will be, but there is no question whatever about the subscription being forthcoming in the near future." President Stickney was shown a large picture of the Auditorium as it will appear when completed and was much pleased with it. He remarked, incidentally, that it would make a pretty fine station building if properly located.

The committee thanked the president for his generous treatment of the proposition and departed much pleased with the interview. The fact that the Great Western contributed a handsome amount to the Kansas City Auditorium leads to the belief that Omaha will be as liberally treated.

STRANGE FREAKS OF MEMORY

Incident of Poughkeepsie Man Recalled, Together With Parallel Case, by Chief.

The stranger stopping at the Morgan hotel in Poughkeepsie, N. Y., who totally lost his memory and who was identified from descriptions published in his case by Dr. Harry P. Cate of Lakewood, N. J., was in Omaha some months ago and yesterday Chief of Police Donahue recalled the incident. Cate called upon the chief to see about his baggage, which it seems he was having some trouble in getting located. An officer was sent out with the man and the baggage was found all right. "I remembered the man well," said the chief, "as soon as I saw his picture, but yesterday I could not recall the incident. I remember well now that he came to the office to see about his baggage. "This was the second case of the kind I remember of," said the chief. "The other was a Kansas City fireman named Evans, who had shipped some potatoes to Lincoln. Something went wrong and Evans started to Lincoln to see about the shipment. He never got there and the Pinkertons were put to work on the case. James McFarland, now superintendent of the western division of the Pinkertons, after eighteen months' search, located Evans in a hospital in Liverpool. On the road home with him Evans regained his memory and said he had no idea how he ever got to Liverpool."

CAT WOUNDS NOT SERIOUS

Injuries Sustained by Metcalf Infant Will not Necessitate Treatment at Pasture Institute.

The infant son of J. A. Metcalf, 257 Chicago street, who was bitten by a cat Thursday morning, will not be taken to the Pasture Institute at Chicago for treatment. Physicians cauterized the wound and advised Mr. Metcalf that it was not necessary to take the boy away from home for treatment. The little fellow is getting along nicely and apparently feels no ill effects from the bite. Mr. Metcalf attempted to kill the cat by shooting it Thursday afternoon, but he does not know whether he was successful, as he failed to locate the body.

Committee Will Take Time.

The high school committee met yesterday morning in the office of the superintendent of instruction to discuss eligibles for the new position of instructor in domestic science. It was learned that the two foremost applicants have secured other places, and withdrawn their requests for positions. There is a long list of other applicants to choose from, but the committee decided to take time for investigation.

WILL ENLARGE UNION DEPOT

Union Pacific Prepares Plans for Reception of Chicago Great Western.

MORE SHED AND TRACK ROOM IS NEEDED

Step is Taken to Mean that Harriman Has No Hope of Beating Stickney in Appeal to Higher Court.

Plans are being prepared by the Union Pacific for increasing the track facilities at the Union station, now that the Chicago Great Western will run its passenger trains into that depot. The eight tracks now in place are scarcely adequate to handle the trains at certain periods of the day and heavy movements have taxed the tracks to their utmost. The plans at present are to add two passenger tracks and put in one more umbrella senger tracks to the south of the present shed. The large shed running north and south will be extended over the entire ten tracks. The placing of these new tracks will necessitate the moving of the fence between the freight and passenger tracks, and will encroach on the freight tracks, so that two of the upper tracks in the freight yards will have to be torn out.

Work on the additional tracks probably will be undertaken and finished this fall, as the necessity for them is almost immediate. It is inferred from these preparations by the Union Pacific that it has abandoned hope of ultimately shutting out the Great Western through its appeal from Judge Munger's decision. Where He is At. Charles Somers Young, at present manager of the general advertising department of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul, writes to The Bee from Chicago as follows: "What has become of that man who says 'It's cool in Colorado?' - The Omaha Bee, August 12. "That's the paper my friends read, and they're jarring me about this paragraph. In reply, beg to say the man is in Chicago, enjoying the lake breeze, with frequent trips to the delightful lake resorts of Wisconsin and Michigan. Incidentally, he is leading a different life, and sees no reason why mistakes should be tossed up to him."

CANNOT ATTEND THE REUNION

S. K. Greenleaf, Son of House of Jonathan Fagerbank, Must Miss Notable Family Gathering.

S. K. Greenleaf of the city clerk's office, as one of the vice presidents of "The Fairbanks Family of America, Incorporated," has received the annual invitation for the "home-coming week," or reunion of the family at Dedham, Mass.

At Dedham, Jonathan Fagerbank, from whom more than 5,000 families have sprung, built a house in 1835, shortly after coming from England. The homestead is still used for the meeting place of the family. This year the reunion will be from August 2 to 28, and will be attended by a number of the distinguished descendants, including Senator Fairbanks of Indiana, President Draper S. Andrews of the University of Illinois, Dr. Albert A. Shaw, editor of the Review of Reviews, and Josiah Quincy, ex-mayor of Boston.

The Omaha son of the stock cannot get away this summer to attend the reunion. This is only one of his genealogical trees. He has another rooted in his four-times great-grandfather, Captain Greenleaf, who fought the Massachusetts Indians in the 1650s.

MULTIPLICITY OF JENSENS

Alleged Relatives of Dead Man Still Presenting Themselves as the Right Heir.

Alleged relatives of the Jensen who died in Bellevue, Wash., and left an estate to be divided among heirs who proved their relationship, are still calling upon Chief of Police Donahue. Yesterday one man called, one wrote a letter from Council Bluffs and another from out in the state, each claiming to be a brother of the dead man and each claiming to have absolute proof of the fact. Inasmuch as the dead Jensen left only one brother it is believed that the right Jensen has not yet been found.
