A few hundred yards. The shower had passed. Then for the first time the Britisher gave the admittance of the defender a bad score. Without apparent reason it began to foot faster than Reliance, passed to leeward and drew away ahead and still to leeward. It looked for a moment as though it was going to show its heels to Reliance, but when it came about and the two boats met, admittance of Reliance was that while the challenger had been out-cutting it, Reliance had been out-pulling the challenger and had even increased its lead. The boats were nine miles from the starting line and Reliance had a lead of a quarter of a mile.

In a dropping wind the British boat twice slipped past Reliance to windward, but was losing ground in the windward trough, because Reliance sailed close to the wind.

Reliance Mile Ahead.

When four miles from the turn, at 1:45 both yachts started on a long leg out to sea. As they came about Reliance was a mile ahead. The wind had dropped to little better than a flat calm, and the racers were moving slowly. The yachts several times changed their headsails, but the race had degenerated into a drifting match and three and a half hours after the start it was evident that it could not be finished in the time limit. Reliance had steadily gained and was two miles ahead of its rival, when Shamrock III caught a little wind from the west and began cutting down the mark. Reliance went about when a mile away from the turn, and catching the westerly wind, hurried away for the mark at almost racing pace. The wind continued to freshen until it swept round the mark at 3:20, bearing a smart, north-west breeze and giving the first real exhibition of its speed.

The defender hauled on the wind for a close reach back to the finish line, saluted by the whistles of the big fleet. Shamrock III was coming on a fast clip to meet the returning defender, but it had been no farther than it was eight minutes after Reliance turned the mark before the racers met, going in opposite directions, indicating that Reliance's actual lead was sixteen minutes.

Just at that moment the regatta committee's flag displayed the signal, "The race is off," and Shamrock III came about and followed Reliance a short distance, Shamrock III never turned the mark. The racers were taken in tow of tugs, and the fleet, hurrying homeward, quickly dropped the mark.

Admirers of Reliance are jubilant because the American yacht, developed that in light air and rough waters it could show its heels to the challenger, and these were the conditions to be the severest test of the challenger's boat.

London is Disillusioned.

LONDON, Aug. 20.—Today's fiasco in the race for America's cup caused decided disappointment in London. The papers published hourly editions throughout the day. The first reports regarding the weather at Sandy Hook inclined the public to believe that Shamrock III had been out-cutting Reliance, but the news that Reliance had outcutted it in the drifting match was a complete disillusion.

Several papers had arranged to announce the progress and result of the contest by wireless, and had been waiting for the news in the streets in the hope that the wind would freshen and permit a finish, but early in the evening it became apparent that the race could not end in the time limit, and the crowds, covered, leaving only a few around the lighthouse in the hotel corridors to receive the final announcement that the race had been called off.

Blame it All on Breeze.

BELFAST, Aug. 20.—While Shamrock III's showing in its first race against Reliance is a great disappointment to the challenger's supporters here, none are willing to admit that it has not a good chance of winning the cup.

The clubhouse of the Royal Ulster Yacht club was crowded this afternoon and evening with members who eagerly scanned every bulletin and who agreed that the fluky breeze was alone responsible for the superior showing of Reliance.

The excitement in Belfast and elsewhere was intense during the progress of the race and the streets were filled with eager crowds. The universal sentiment is that Shamrock III is sure to reverse the positions when a fair and steady breeze is secured.

Glasgow Also Confident.

GLASGOW, Aug. 20.—Not since the contest between Thistle and Volunteer has there been such excitement over the America's cup races as prevailed here today. The streets were filled with crowds that blocked traffic, where the bulletins were showed.

Arrangements have been made for a colored torchlight service by which the results of the contests can be notified to the surrounding country. The announcement that today's race had been declared

A dispatch from Burgos to the Autonomes says Vasilko, thirty miles south of Burgos, and Unkovic and Potoskovo, are in flames and the sound of cannon can plainly be heard from the Bulgarian frontier.

Says Greeks Suffer Most.

ATHENS, Aug. 20.—M. Ralli, the premier and foreign minister has communicated to the representatives of the powers here, the gist of the reports made by Greek consuls in Macedonia in which it is said the Greek church schools, and 120 houses belonging to Greeks at Katchovo, have been blown up by dynamite and burned and a number of Greek subjects killed. M. Ralli appeals to the powers to suppress the excesses in Macedonia, from which he says the Greeks are greater sufferers than the Bulgarians and Turks.

Turkey to Have Free Hand.

VIENNA, Aug. 20.—Count Goluchowski had a long conference today with M. Studda, the Roumanian premier, on the Macedonian question. It is reported that Count Goluchowski declared that if Bulgaria went to war the powers would give Turkey a free hand.

King Peter of Serbia is said to have presided over a war council held at Belgrade today to discuss eventualities in the Balkans.

TENNIS DOWN TO THE FINALS

Middle West Championship Tournament Moves Rapidly to Its Finish.

HUNT MEETS FRANK EBERHARDT TODAY

Really Important Match of the Meeting in Singles Will Be Played on the Courts at 4 This Afternoon.

Today is the day in the middle west tennis tournament on the Field club courts. Play in both the singles and doubles has settled down to the final, and the match should be the best that has been played yet, if relative grades of play during the tournament will count. The greatest interest naturally is felt in the singles and everyone is busy figuring out who will win the match. Both Hunt and Frank Eberhardt have their followers, but the Hunt men are more sanguine than are the Eberhardt men in the Kansas. The manner in which Hunt defeated Fred Eberhardt Thursday afternoon somewhat disheartened the Kansas men, who believed that he simply have played even harder than he did. Hunt played just as well as he knew how in the match, but he was slightly off form and he showed it in half of his plays. He did not place the ball nearly so prettily or cleverly as he did in the match against Raymond, when he showed his true form. Eberhardt, on the other hand, was at his best and played a beautiful game, placing accurately and passing Hunt at the net often with smashes from the middle court. He did not smash as hard as Raymond did, but somehow Hunt let them get by him.

Fred Eberhardt is not supposed to be as good as his brother, Frank, but he outplayed him in both the morning and afternoon matches yesterday. Fred is a streaky player and yesterday was one of his good days. In the morning he played Frank Eberhardt 6-2, 4-6, 6-3, 6-4. If Fred did not play better than his usual game yesterday, which is very doubtful, Frank Eberhardt should certainly give Hunt a hard match this afternoon. The points for the match were:

Hunt	6	4	2	4	1	1	7
Eberhardt	2	4	4	2	5	4	3
Hunt	5	4	2	4	1	1	7
Eberhardt	3	4	2	4	4	4	3

Holland Plays Fast.

In the other match in the semi-finals Holland gave a fast game to the gallery by taking one set from Frank Eberhardt and almost outpointing him in the decisive set. In the first set Holland started out and played net and drove the balls through and down the sidelines. He smashed lob and backhand shots and hit the ball with the second set, he changed his tactics and played a slower game in the back court. The new manner of playing was much to Frank Eberhardt's liking, as the back court is his own game and he took the set readily enough. He then tried to resume his earlier method of play, but Eberhardt kept him back and won the set and the match. The score by points for the match is:

Frank Eberhardt	5	4	2	4	1	1	7
Holland	2	4	4	2	5	4	3
Frank Eberhardt	5	4	2	4	1	1	7
Holland	3	4	2	4	4	4	3

If Hunt wins out in the final match Saturday with Eberhardt will be a beautiful one, as Eberhardt is showing up elegantly in practice. He is playing a better game than he has in some time.

placings to more accurate and he smashes lob at the net somewhat harder and faster. In many ways his game is a great deal the same type as Hunt's, although he does not rely upon his placing quite so much as Hunt does, believing in smashing little more instead.

Dope for the Doubles.

In the doubles, as in the singles, the result of the semi-finals was no surprise and there is much speculation as to who will win out. It is the Eberhardt that ubiquitous name, against Holland and Eberhardt and team work. Holland and Eberhardt are net men in doubles, while the Kansas team plays mostly off form some and do not smash so much. One of their weak points is their lobbing, which they do with marked regularity and which Holland and Eberhardt simply kill when they meet.

Whichever of the teams wins the doubles in the final will probably defeat Eberhardt and Raymond for the championship for yesterday was the first time that they have been able to play together this year and they are, consequently very short of team work and will be greatly handicapped by that as well as by lack of practice since. Neither man has been playing tennis very much this year and Eberhardt in particular is short of practice, not having touched a racket until a month ago.

The final in the doubles are to be played at 10 o'clock in the afternoon. Every effort is being put forth by Groundsmen Flattery to have the courts in the best of condition and he already has them in as fine condition as any day courts in the country.

Expected Happened.

It was generally expected that Holland and Eberhardt would defeat Hunt and Dr. Sheldon in their matches and they did it. Hunt was off form in his own best and showed that he is unaccustomed to playing in doubles. Besides they had little team work, as they have never played together before with the exception of one or two practice matches and the regular tournament matches. The match between Eberhardt and Dr. Sheldon was purely a lobbing game and Dr. Sheldon did remarkably well with his lob in the face of a strong wind that carried the ball badly. Holland and Eberhardt played the ball at Dr. Sheldon and of the three, he was the first to make him do the greater part of the play, but in the second set they divided their returns with Hunt and were successful. If not a little more so, than with Sheldon.

The Galesburg team displayed great team work throughout the match and Eberhardt and Sheldon in smashing lob at the net, as did also Holland. Eberhardt did either Hunt or Sheldon do any smashing, but it actually counted a point for them when they did. The points for the match are:

Holland and Eberhardt	4	3	4	2	1	1	7
Hunt and Sheldon	1	4	2	4	4	4	3

Holland and Eberhardt 4-2, 4-3, 6-4, 6-3.

Hunt and Sheldon 1-4, 2-4, 4-6, 3-6.

Eberhardt Wins Two Sets.

After finishing their match against Blatherwick and Holbrook, Caldwell and Young started out during the morning with Fred and Frank Eberhardt, who took two straight sets and the match from them. The Eberhardt brothers were clearly the better team of the two, although the local team made a strong bid for the second set, taking three straight games when the score was 4-1 in favor of the Eberhardt team. It was then that Young and Caldwell smashed the ball from the back court and at the net for points time and time again. The Kansas team did not lob as they had done the day before and Frank Eberhardt stopped the local men when they began to lob by smashing the ball down the side line with persistent regularity.

Wednesday night Caldwell and Young began their set with Blatherwick and Holbrook in the second round of the doubles, and each team took one. In the first set Blatherwick and Holbrook ran away with their opponents, and then Caldwell and Young braced up and did some of the prettiest doubles playing seen during the tournament. Blatherwick showed the advantage of an underfoot in the back court in the deciding set in the morning and made some beautiful returns, which would have been impossible had he had to play with one hand.
