D. W. Frank, Inspector for Electric Light Company, the Victim.

WIFE SITS IN BUGGY AND WITNESSES IT

Had Ascended Pole to Fix a Light Which Needed Attention and in Some Manner Gets Full Current.

D. W. Frank of Omaha was instantly killed in South Omaha last night while attending to his duties as inspector for the electric light company. Frank lives at 2627 Decatur street, Omaba, and last evening, in company with his wife, drove to Bouth Omaha, as is his custom, to take up his duties. His wife was accompanying him on his rounds. At Eighteenth and Q streets a light was found which needed attention and Frank ascended the pole while his wife sat in the buggy and held the horse. Mrs. Frank states that she paid no particular attention to what was going on until she heard her husband scream, and looking up saw him hanging head down, tangled up in the electric light wire about fifteen feet above the ground. Frank uttered just one cry and then the body hung notioniess. She immediately gave the alarm but it was some minutes before any help had been instantaneous.

off one of them, which he he took hold of while working on the pole.

Frank had been in the employ of the electric light company for four years and was considered a careful and competent man. He was a member of Ancient Order of United Workmen lodge No. 159. He has no family except his wife, they having been married only about six weeks ago. In pleasant weather it has been the custom of his wife to accompany him on his rounds, as she did last night. Mrs. Frank is almost prostrated by the shock and requires the services of a physician.

M. W. A. PICNIC GREAT SUCCESS Log Rolling Association Has a Rousing Session in the Woods Near Papillion.

Tired with the pleasant weariness which follows a day well spent with enjoyment, the crowd of Modern Woodmen and Royal Neighbor picnickers returned to the union station yesterday evening from Papillion. The first section whistled for the depot at 7 o'clock and the second followed at 9:30 o'clock. Sixteen cars were required to carry the merrymakers from this city and South Omaha, and they were well crowded. In addition to these were other trains bringing Woodmen from various towns in the several counties of the jurisdiction. At Papillion a parade formed and marched to the picnic grounds, which were in a private grove and orchard at the outskirts of the town, the park having been made too muddy by the rains. C. G. Cousins Pass Through Enroute to Deadwood.

Theodore Roosevelt, ir., together with his cousins, George and Jack Roosevelt, passed through Omaha on their way to Deadwood, 8. D., last night. The party arrived over the Burlington from the east at 11:10 and departed over the same line at 11:20.

The boys were loaded down with enough | Kuhn & Co. firearms and ammunition to stock a small arsenal. There were shotguns for small game and rifles for deer, bear and anything on the order of large game which may come in their way. When asked where they intended to hunt, and what, they said they did not know just what part of the country would be chosen, and that they intended to shoot anything of a wild nature which chanced to show up. Owing to the fact that the young men were loaded with so much baggage it re-

West Omaha Improvers Determine to Own Quarters Wherein to Hold Sessions.

The meeting of the West Omaha Improvement club, held in the club's quarters at the corner of Forty-second and Dodge streets last night for the purpose of considering the advisability of leasing or purchasing new quarters for the organization, was very enthusiastic. There was only a fair attendance, but the lack of numbers was amply made up by the degree of enthuslasm shown in considering the questlon in hand.

The proposition to lease quarters for the oming year met with small favor. The general sentiment expressed was to the efcame, but the delay was immaterial, as an fect that a building should either be examination of the body after it was taken | bought or leased. Many Attend Picnic.

A great many of the members of the two Modern Woodmen camps in South Omaha, accompanied by friends, attended the annual picnic at Papillion yesterday. Those who were not able to get away in time to catch the special train drove out to the park where the picnic was being held. Livery men were kept busy all yesterday and last night supplying rigs for those desiring to attend the celebration. It is estimated that at least 500 people went from South Omaha alone.

Boy Breaks Arm.

Joseph Kraceck, who lives with his parents at Twentieth and U streets, fell from a tree in the yard at the home of Alfred Johnson, Nineteenth and S streets yesterday afternoon, and broke his left arm in two places. The boy is about 15 years of age and climbed the tree to secure a kite which had lodged in the higher branches. The limb on which the lad was standing broke and he fell to the ground, a distance of fifteen feet. A physician was called and the fracture was reduced.

Workmen Hold Reception. Last night the new Ancient Order of United Workmen temple at Twenty-fifth and M streets was turned over to the three local lodges by the contractors. There was a general reception and the entire building was brilliantly illuminated. After the stockholders had made a thorough inspection of the building it was accepted from the contractor. Some mino changes are to be made, but the building now belongs to the Workmen of South Omaha. While there was no set program, brief remarks were made by a number of the prominent members of the order and then those present were shown through the entire building. This building is now the best place for public meetings in the city as it is well lighted and ventilated Mollie Oistrom, the 2-year-old daughter of Harry Oistrom, living in the bottoms near the lowa end of the Douglas street bridge, in some manner secured a bottle containing about two ounces of carbolic acid yesterday afternoon. She removed the cork and poured the entire concents over her body. As it was some time before she could be brought across the bridge to the police station, the acid had time to act very affectively and the child was very badly burned. Police Surgeon Schleier, who attended the case, expressed the opinion that the patient would live, but said the case was very serious. The most of the acid took effect on the hips. Mr. Oistrom is employed as watchman by the Union Pacific Railroad company in the vicinity of the Douglas street bridge, having acted in that capacity for the last eighteen years.

As a result of the attention directed toward the right of the city to repair pavements at the expense of abutting property owners, it is likely that this plan will be put in vogue in a systematic manner at the beginning of next year. Repair districts will be created, contracts let for a term of years and compensation derived by levying special taxes. "So far as I can see, there is nothing to hinder the city from doing this," said City developments that will change the result. Attorney Wright. "The objection hereto fore held by contractors toward accepting warrants drawn on the special tax funds can be overcome, I think, by paying them from the general repair fund, which will be reimbursed by special taxes.
