Tom Fegley and A. C. Turner became involved in a quarrel with a colored man last evening on Broadway. When Patrolman Anderson interfered Fegley and Turner jumped on him. The omicer laid out Fegley in short order with his club and Turner started to get a brick with which to assault the officer. Anderson, however, beat Turner to the brick and succeeded in holding him and Fegley until the arrival of the patrol wagon. Fegley and Turner were booked for being drunk, disturbing the peace and resisting an officer.

Pottawattamies Put Up Too Swift

Game for Visiting County Officials

The Harrison county off this have among their number several good ball players, but nevertheless they went down in defeat before the Pottawattamies yesterday Two Days' Convention to Be Held in afternoon at Lake Manawa. The Harrison county men, 125 strong, headed by the Royal Highlanders' band of Logan, journeyed to Council Bluffs in a special train over the Illinois Central, reaching here at 3 p. m. They arrived fully confident of downing the Pottawattamies but despite their brillant dark green and red uniforms they were forced to return home acknowledging that they had met their Waterloo.

The game was, taking everything into consideration, a very fair exhibition of ball and was much enjoyed by the large crowd which filled the grandstand. In size and weight the Harrison braves easily outclassed the Pottawattamies but the up, down, in and out curves of Dr. Wyland of Underwood for the home team told the tale and brought defeat to the visitors.

The team of the Harrison county men was made up of the following: C. L. Huff, deputy county auditor; E. S. Garrison, clerk of the district court; H. L. Harvey, county recorder; D. W. Owens, deputy recorder, T. M. Adams, deputy treasurer, A. W. Blackburn, deputy clerk of the district court; A. J. Shinn, sheriff; G. W. Atkins, deputy auditor; D. E. Brainard, county surveyor.

Pottawattamie county was represented by Freeman L. Reed clerk of the district court; Tracy Rodwell, deputy clerk of the district court; Dr. Wyland, county physiclan, Underwood; Harry M. Brown, clerk of the superior court; Ed. Canning, former deputy sheriff; G. Baird, of the recorder's office; E. Smith, jr., of the recorder's office; Bill Nye, unattached; William Arnd, county treasurer.

work was a revelation to his friends. After the second inning his arm gave out and retired in favor of Dr. Wyland who pitched the rest of the game. Bill Nye was behind the bat and in consequence he has neveral sore spots on his hands and shins. For the visitors County Treasurer Harvey pitched for the first five innings and then made way for Deputy County Co Auditor Huff. Harvey's retirement from the hox was due to the fact that part of his rainment met with an accident and he was compelled to zeek a change. E. S. Sues for Heavy Damages.

Elizabeth Tjellisen, a young woman of this city, has brought suit in the district court against William C. Droge for $10,000 damages for alleged betrayal under promise of marriage. Miss Tjellisen alleges that the defendant, who is a member of the firm of Droge Bros., wholesale dealers in hay, and who is reputed to be quite wealthy, entered into a verbal marriage contract with her in January last. The plaintiff further alleges that not only did Droge fail to carry out his promise to marry her, but circulated reports defamatory to her character.

the William Cramp Ship and Engine uilding company. The maiden plunge of the formidable addition to the United States navy was witnessed by one of the largest and most distinguished assemblages that has ever gathered at Cramp's ship yards. More favorable weather could not have been desired, and the flag-bedecked sea fighter gliding down the ways greeted by the acclamations of thousands of spectators and the shill blast of the myraid of river craft was an inspiring scene.

Christened by Senator's Daughter. Under the towering prow of Pennsylvania was directed a platform from which 2,000 specially invited guests witnessed the launching. From the main stand rose a small platform upon which stood the christing party including Miss Cora L. Quay, daughter of United States Senator Quay, the ship's sponsor; Senators Quay and Penrose, Governor Pennypacker, Mayor Weaver, Rear Admiral Sigsbee, United States Navy, retired; Charles H. Cramp, In the main stand were assembled the kish minister of the United States, and Lieutenant Commander Sabry Bey and After the launching the guests were enter-

Speed is Twenty-two Knots The Pennsylvania is powered with a twinscrew, vertical, triple expansion engines and boilers of the Niclause type, which are required to develop a mean speed of twenty-two knots an hour for four hours. The engines are estimated to develop a collective indicated horsepower of 23,000.

(Copyright, 1903, by Press Publishing Co.) VIENNA, Aug. 22 .- (New York World Cablegram - Special Telegram.) - Frank Doeckel, a turner's apprentice, recently made a slighting remark about Archduchess Maria Valerie, the emperor's younger daughter. The remark was reported to the police and Doeckel was sentenced to prison for four months. His wife immediately appealed to the archduchess, who went to her father, the emperor. He immediately ordered, at her request, that Doeckel be released and at the same time gave peremptory orders to the police that lese majeste prosecutions are only to be pressed where an overt act has been com

PARIS, Aug. 22 .- (New York World Cablegram-Special Telegram.)-Senator Provost de Launay and Viscount de Kerguesac, the manager of the Nouvelle Republique, fought a duel over an article that appeared in the latter's paper. Since then the senator's father has admitted that he himself wrote the article. What the proper thing to do now is not known, for the code does not provide for such a contigency. At a duel since the one mentioned the antagonists exchanged four shots without damage, but one had a rib broken through the hugging that occurred at the reconciliation after the duel.
