GIBBONS STRONG FOR POPE

American Prelate a Popular Force at Rome, Says Dr. Halovitchiner.

OMAHA MAN THERE WHEN LEO DIED

He Also Remained Until Sarto's Election and Says Only Gibbons' Democracy Barred Him from the Vatican.

"I think I coincide with a great many who were in Rome at the time and watched deliberations as well as any outsider could when I say that Cardinal Gibbons was a more than a formidable candidate for the papacy if it had not been for his notable democratic proclivities, which it was assumed would deter him from submitting to the lifelong confinement within the Vatican walls," said Dr. E. Halovitchiner, who has just returned from a three months' trip abroad, during which he visited Germany, Switzerland, France, Italy and England.

"I was in Rome before the death of Pope Leo," said Dr. Halovitchiner, "and remained there until his successor, Pope Pius X, was elected, and being an American citizen, was deeply interested in watching the part played by Cardinal Gibbons. The cardinal was a big man throughout the grave deliberations and there was a tremendous sentiment in favor of him for pope, but that one barrier stood in the way. It was said, and justly so, I presume, that Cardinal Gibbons would never have been content to confine himself within the Vatican walls for the rest of his life, something which he would have had to do in order to have been elevated to that high station. At least, Catholics recognize that as an essential condition to the papacy so long as relations between the government of Italy and the Vatican are such as at present. The moment the pope leaves the Vatican walls, of course, he tacitly becomes a subject of the Quirinal and thereby throws himself upon the state for its protection; at that moment the great line of demarcation between the Vatican and the Quirinal is obliterated and new conditions established.

Gibbons' Influence Potent.
"While for this reason Cardinal Gibbons could not be elected pope, his influence and popularity never waned. It is generally known here, as well as there of

Acting Mayor Issues Pardon.

On Friday William Queenan, acting mayor, issued a pardon to John McNulty, Vail Horne and John O'Keefe. These men were sentenced Wednesday to the city jail for assaulting John Sexton of the chief of the police department at Cudahy's. McNulty and Horne each received a fifteen-day sentence and O'Keefe was given thirty days.

Yesterdays morning an attorney for the Cudahy company called the attention of Judge King to the law which recently went into effect regarding the issuing of pardons. He held that the mayor had power to pardon only those who are charged with violating city ordinances. As the men mentioned were sentenced for assault he holds that the acting mayor had no right to sign a pardon. When Judge King called the attention of Chief Briggs to the matter the chief started out at once to rearrest the men. He found Horne on Q street and sent him back to jail. The chief expects to arrest McNulty and O'Keefe tonight.

TALK OF LIGHT PROSPECTS

Grand View Improvement Club Spends an Evening in General Debate.

The Grand View Improvement club met last evening at its quarters on Fourth street, near Center, with a big attendance. Among those present were Frank Weaver, representing the Omaha Electric Light and Power company, and Councilman P. M. Back, from the First ward. The first question up was that of electric light, and it received an additional stimulus from the fact that the electric light at the corner of Center and Fourth streets had not been doing business since Monday night. As an evidence of good faith a telephone was hunted up somewhere in the neighborhood by the electric light representatives and after some delay the light was put in operation again for the first time for nearly a week.

THE OMAHA WATER COMPANY HAS FILED ITS ACCEPTANCE OF THE FRANCHISE RECENTLY GRANTED.

The action of the club at its last meeting, instructing the member of the council from the First ward to vote against the electric light proposition when the same came up before the council, was reconsidered. Mr. Weaver said the electric light company had not yet submitted a formal proposition to the city council, but would probably do so next Tuesday evening, and he asked that the club take no action until the matter is fairly before the council, nor until representatives of the company could be present at a meeting of the club and explain its position in the premises.

The matter of the improvement of Cedar street from Sixth to Eighth street was talked over and the suggestion that new sidewalks be placed on at least one side of that street was urgently pressed. Councilman Back said he had been all over the ward and saw its necessities and would do the best he could to hasten or improve improvements in the matter of crosswalks, sidewalks and grading. The city is practically without funds to do much work, as it seemed to be the determination of the preceding council to hamper the ## Rheumatism Is Not a Skin Disease.

Most people have an idea that Rheumatism is contracted like a cold, that the damp, chilly air penetrates the muscles and joints and causes the terrible aches and pains, or that it is something like a skin disease to be rubbed away with liniments or drawn out with plasters; but Rheumatism originates in the blood and is caused by Urea, or Uric Acid, an irritating, corroding poison that settles in muscles, joints and nerves, producing inflammation and soreness and the sharp, cutting pains peculiar to this distressing disease.

Exposure to bad weather or sudden chilling of the body will hasten an attack of Rheumatism after the blood and system are in the right condition for it to develop, but have nothing to do with the real internal and not external.

Liniments, plasters and rubbing will sometimes reduce the inflammation and swelling and ease the pain for a time, but fail to relieve permanently because they do not reach the seat of the trouble. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism because it attacks it in the blood, and the Uric Acid poison is neutralized, the sluggish circulation stimulated and quickened, and soon the system is purified and cleansed, the aching muscles and joints are relieved of all irritating matter and a lasting cure effected.

S. S. S. is a harmless vegetable remedy, unequalled as a blood purifier and an invigorating, pleasant tonic. Book on Rheumatism will be mailed free.
