Shamrock's Worst Defeat.

But within fifteen minutes the defender was showing its heels to the challenger the high school, was increased from $30 to someral of the Department of California in reached Reliance rounded it twenty min-

In the five times the boats have met this was by far the worst beating Shamrock III full strength and will be fully clothed, has had in windward work. The interest after that was as to whether Reliance would be able to reach the finish line in time to score the race.

The racers waited about Sandy Hook lightship until 10:45, when Navigator signalled that the starting line would be shifted and the race postponed until later in the day. After running five miles south from the lightship Navigator signalled a windward and leeward course.

From east northeast a five-knot wind was blowing. The easterly gale had left a long, heavy sea running and as the yachts jockeyed about the starting line they lifted their long bows high out of the water on top of the swell and pounded the sea into a froth.

Captain Wringe Wins Point.

For the first time in the series Captain Wringe of Shamrock III cleverly out-generaled the redoubtable Captain Barr in the preliminary jockeying. Five minutes before he start Captain Barr held the windward berth, then both ran away from the line, Shamrock leading. Two minutes before the starting gun Shamrock headed up into the wind, tacked, forced Reliance to do the same, and both ran for the line, Reliance leading. They reached it before the starting gun and Reliance had to run along the lee side of it to await the gun. Shamrock reached the line as the gun sounded, and not having to sheer off, secured the weather nosition It was a trick which Captain Barr had worked often but never with better finaness or more satisfactory results. The official starting time of both yachts was 11:45:26. The first tack, five minutes after crossing the line, put Shamrock III ahead, but under the lee bow of Bellance. Captain Wringe gave his boat a good full and the way it began to walk away from the defender made it look as though it had found itself at last. But this was for only a few minutes. When he began to pinch into the wind it was apparent that Reliance was outpointing the challenger and altogether making better work of it.

They held on one tack, east, southeast, for nearly an hour. During that time the defender worked up to windward a good quarter of a mile. When Reliance tacked Shamrock III refused to follow. so Barr put his craft on the port tack again. This placed Reliance a mile north of Shamrock III.

Wind Helps Reliance.

Fifteen minutes later the wind suddenly shifted to the northeast and placed the American boat that distance dead to windward, not half of which it had actually earned. From that time Reliance gained steadily

The yachts could now head within two points of their course. They held the tack for twenty minutes and then made short hitches in which Reliance steadily got the better of it. When off Long Beach at 1:45, the defender was two miles ahead. having added the second mile by literally outpointing the challenger and at the same time maintaining equal speed. The mark was then in plain view and the wind was softening. After a long board of shore, Rellance made several short hitches which brought it to the turn.

The challenger's cause was absolutely hopeless when the defender rounded the Tacoma, from mark. The British boat was more than
