Captain Barr attempted to make a hitch off shore but Shamrock would not follow and he took Reliance around again to keep the challenger company. Meanwhile Reliance had steadily gained and when at 3:10 both boats headed off to the mark six miles away, Reliance was a good mile ahead and gaining. Heeling to a freshening wind and jumping into a rising sea, which at times threw their long bows high out of water, to come down with a splash that sent miniature clouds of foam flying from under their powerful shoulders, the boats were making a pretty spectacle of it. They were gaining in speed with every mile and Reliance whirled about the mark and lowering stretches of canvas broke and bellied out from its spinnaker pole and over its les bow. The homeward stretch had begun. The boats were timed at the turn as follows: Reliance, 3:40:35; Shamrock, 3:51:45. Reliance had gained eleven minutes and three seconds in the thresh to windward, and, barring accidents, the victory was

Sin Thomas made New York Yacht club, inviting the club to a brave effort and deserved better luck. select San Francisco harbor as the next C. Oliver Iselin. President New York Yacht Club, New York City.—Dear Sir: On behalf of the state of California and the city of San Francisco, the California promotion committee respectfully suggests to the New York Yacht club that the next international race for the chellenge cup beheld in San Francisco bay. The assurance of brisk winds—average velocity June, thirteen miles per hour; July, thirteen miles per hour; July, thirteen miles per hour; July, thirteen miles per hour; suguest, twelve miles per hour—deep and safe waters on the largest land-locked harbor in the world, with 46 square miles of water surface, insures a safe and exciting contest, which could be viewed from beginning to end by spectators upon the land. The open scean course outside the harbor offers similar advantages. The fact that there is no rain during the summer months is an additional feature.

If the competing yachts should be brought through the Suez canal the long trip would arouse the greatest interest in this intercourse for the defense of America's cup:

national event. With the contest on the Pacific coast other nations would undoubtedly be led to compete for America's cup. This committee believes that in view of the facts presented the course in San Francisco harbor is worthy of your earnest consideration and we will be giad to meet you in any steps to reach the end desired. This invitation is endorsed by the San Francisco Yacht club.

London Accepts Inevitable.

LONDON, Sept. 3.-The final defeat of Sir Thomas Lipton's cup challenger, Shamrock III, was received in London with absolute listlessness. Most of the afternoon papers published a special eddition announcing the result, but the announcement had already been discounted by the dispatches giving the progress of the race. The consensus of opinion is that Sir Thomas Lipton has done everything that time and money can accomplish and widespread sympathy for him is shown. The chief hope expressed on the street is that Canada will enter the lists next year and succeed where the mother country has failed. It seems improbable that in view of the failure of Shamrock III another challenger will soon be be dispatched from Burke Resents "Meer.

James Burks and his partner were engaged in repairing a roof at Twenty-first and Charles attreets yesterday morning and Burke built a fire on the curb stone to facilitate the heating of the material being used to make the repairs. Officer Thomas notified Burke that the building of the fire was in violation of the ordinances and asked him to extinguish it. Burke, the officer says, grew very indignant at what he termed "interference of an officer" and demanded to know Thomas name and number that he might report him to the mayor. Finding he could not do anything but arrest Burke, the officer had him taken to the station and he was required to put up a cash bond in the sum of $19 for his appearance this morning.

Labor Day at Plattamouth.

Labor day will be fittingly celebrated in Plattsmouth and the citizens of that city have been busy for some time with preparations. As the union men of Omaha are free to go where they choose, it is the expectation that a considerable number of them will attend the Plattsmouth celebration, and the town is ready for that contingency. Invitations have been extended and a reduction of railway fares secured. The celebration is to begin with a parade at it o'clock followed by various contests and by two ball games. Speakers have been secured to discuss union principles, and in the evening a ball concludes the day.

Told His Real Name.

Ed Hill, when taken to the station last night charged with being drunk, told Desk Sergeant Marchail that he wanted him to be sure and get his name right so he could secure his property without any difficulty in the morning. The last time Hill was in jail he was booked as John Doe, and it required most of the day on which he was released for him to get his possessions which had been taken from his pockets the previous night. Captain Mostyn usked him why he did not give his name the last time he was in and he replied that he was too drunk and did not know it himself.
