LEWIS-LAMAR IS INDICTED]

Former Omaha Advertising Agent Turns Up Before Eastern Grand Jury.

SOMETHING OF HIS CAREER WHILE HERE

Judge Day, Dr. Stone and Edward Haymaker Relate Interesting Things of Man Who Asked Morgan for a Million.

David Lamar, who lived in Omaha at one time under the name of David H. Lewis, has been indicted by the grand jury of Monmouth county, N. J., for an assault on his former coachman, James McMahon, at Long Branch July 9 last. Two others who were said to have been employed by Lewis to "do" the coachman, have also been arrested. They are Joe Brown and William Delaney, who are said to be bad citizens. An indictment for conspiracy had been expected, but the jury went further and charged Lamar with participation. He pleaded not guilty and was bound over to the district court under bonds of $5,000.

Lamar or Lewis, as he then styled himself, was in this city for about six months and had an office in the New York Life building. He was an advertising solicitor and always deep in some scheme with seven figures, yet always in poor circum-

Judge Day of the district court went east about a year ago to identify the man in New York. He had begun legal proceedings to prevent the formation of the Northern Securities company and through a man named Hodge had also instituted suit against the United States Steel corporation. "It was thought in the east," said Judge Day, "that he was attempting to hold up the financiers interested in these propositions, and in fact they told me that he had seen J. Pierpont Morgan and told him that for $1,000,000 he would drop the procedings against the Northern Securities mpany. I easily identified the man at the race track. I knew him first in this city when I acted as his attorney in a small suit over some office furniture. I also made out the papers for him in another transaction and it was in this way, I having witnessed his signature, that they knew that I had some acquaintance with the Lamar, or Lewis, had an extensive acquaintance in Omaha. Dr. R. M. Stone, who made his acquaintance, professionally,

"I was glad to read of his being indicted. This man Lamar was an advertising solicitor or agent of some kind. While in Omaha he went under the name of David H. Lewis. He was a smooth chap and always had plenty of money, but would not pay his bills. He was here during the year 1890. In January and March of that year I treated both Lamar and his wife, for which services I was never paid. Lamar boarded at the Merrian hotel and I am not sure that he paid his bill in full there.

"My bill was for $55 and he represented to me he was a well-to-do man and I trusted him. Don't know how he represented himself to others. He was a high fiyer and always had money." The Rees Printing company still cherishes the memory of Lewis, for he is still on its books for work done in printing advertising blotters and other work. Edward Haymaker of the company also is his creditor in a personal matter for some $50.

Another Scheme Shown Up. Many people in Omaha are paying from 15c to 50c more for having their prescriptions filled than is necessary, simply because the article called for is written on a prescription blank by a physician. For the stance-if a PRESCRIPTION calling for a bottle of GUDE'S PEPTO MANGAN is taken to some drug store, the MANAGERS of which are posting as the ACME OF HONESTY, the owner of the PRESCRIPTION is promptly told by the said MANAGER that it will cost $1.00 to have it FILLED, while if that SAME PEPSON had gone to that SAME MANAGER and asked for that SAME PREPARATION without THAT PRESCRIPTION, and offered $1.00 is PAYMENT OF SAME, he would, with GREAT GUSTO AND WISE LOOKS, be handed back 15c, with the reply "WE CUT THE PRICE." We wish it 25c thirtly understood that we have ONLY ONE PRICE TO EVERTONE, whether the article wanted is on a PRESCRIPTION BLANK or a SILVER PLATTER.

Clothing

Bo many people ask why it is possible for Hayden Bros. to sell the finest and most up-to-date clothing for the same price others ask for ordinary made up stuff. The answer is easy, when you think of it. Hayden's carry the biggest stock, bought for cash, from the best tailors on earth. The best tailors confine their garments to Hayden's because Hayden's buy the largest quantity and pay cash for the goods.

When a young man has a suit of Hart, Schaffner & Mark clothing he don't ask any one's opinion—he knows he has the best make of clothing—he knows the material is superior in every way—he knows the tailoring represents the highest art of human ingenuity.

While Haydens will show any make of clothing that others may have, you can only find the highest and best in everything that goes to make a strictly up-to-date suit at Hayden's. Where else can you find such makes as Hart, Schaffner & Marx's hand tallored clothing? Why not have the best when the actual cost is no greater?
