be it remembered, there are given-in-honor affairs. And then, too, it can hardly be expected that the bevy of young women who were introduced last season can hold the title or privileges of debutantes very much longer. In fact, there is already beginning to be talk of a coming-out reception for one of the girls who "finished" last spring, while several others will cer-tainly be introduced this season.

As for the Country club, it is generally conceded that the season out there is over, and there is little prospect of any revival of interest before the closing night, when, of course, there will be a crush, as usual.

Mr. Harry Drake Gibbs, who used to circulate socially in Omaha on occasional visits in past years, spent a few days in the city last week renewing old acquaintanceship. Mr. Gibbs has given up his restdence in Buffalo, and is now on the instructional staff of the University of Oregon. The only noticeable change in his personal appearance is caused by a Vandyke beard he is sporting, confessedly to make himself look more professorial. He says the beard is two years old, but it does not show its age.

Mrs. William E. Annin, the widow of the popular "Billy," passed through Omaha Lowe three, Mr. F. A. Brogan two, Mr. last week on her way to Washington. By the death of her husband Mrs. Annin and her children have been left largely on their own resources, and she is anxious to secure a suitable position in one of the government departments. It is needless to say she found plenty of sympathy and encour-agement among old-time friends who used to know her in the girlhood period when she figured prominently in local society as Mins Paddock.
