to keep above suspicion, because there is too much reason to believe the companies are, some of them at least, organized in part for the express purpose of preying on the indians. Nor do I think that Mr. Brosius casts any imputations on persons in higher positions. No one is more interested in clearing the skirts of appointed officials of fraud and corruption than those who appointed them and this he sought. Inspectors Should Be Above Suspicion

Inspectors Should Be Above Suspicton

I would like to make one comment on the closing passage in your letter in which you say that "inspectors and other officials should have respect and confidence until a clear case shall be made against them." The inspector should be above suspicion and where an inspector accepts the hospitality of the man he is sent to inspect, thus taking a bribe in his favor, listens only or chiefly to one side, or favors his congressional backer in any way, he is not above suspicion. I would not, therefore, put that sentence as you do, but would say that such officials should be accorded confidence so long as they are clearly honest and impartial in their investigations. A man who is subject to serious misgivings in this respect should be removed at once no matter who is his backer, for he is no longer fit for his position.

I beg to refterate my assurance of confidence in your administration, but think that the important subject matter of Mr. Brosius communication is a hundred times more important than the question of the courtesies, much as I trust I value these.

Thanking you for the valuable information that you have kindly imparted, I remain, your obedient servant.

INVASION OF FELD COUNTRY Salvation Army Will Attempt Conversion of Breathitt

County.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 6.-A deputation of Pittsburg Salvationists, under the leadership of Staff Captain White, will leave Wednesday for the feud district of Kentucky and undertake the work of reforming the foudists. The objective point will be Breathitt county. The party will be made up, outside of a few of the officers in the work in this city, of members of the local army, who volunteer to give their time to the work, and it is likely by the time the party is ready to start next week there will be quite a formidable array of workers in the party.

The reception which the members of the army will receive in the countles to be invaded is a matter of grave doubt to many interested in army work, but those who are to send him out of the country and thus going seem to have no fear of the manner in which they will be treated.

Commission Appointed to Draft Treaty Which is Acceptable.

AMENDMENT TO CONSTITUTION TALKED

Excitement Caused by Report That

Panama Delegation in Congress
Has Withdrawn and Started for Home.

BOGOTA, Tuesday, Sept. 1.—(Delayed in Transmission.)—The senate has appointed a commission to prepare a bill authorizing the government to negotiate a canni treaty without violating the constitution, but the government has not presented to congress a message, which is necessary, asking for reforms in the, constitution to meet the wishes of the United States regarding tribunals, the sovereign control of the canal tribunals, the sovereign control of the canal strip and the 100-year lease.

The general feeling is favorable to miration for the noble and sincere policy pursued by the United States and hopes that the canal will be opened by them. He says he regrets that he was obliged to oppose the Hay-Herran treaty as being a violation of the laws and the constitution, but he will work strongly for a canal treaty satisfactory to both countries. Senor Obaldia, who has decided to support the canal treaty, has been appointed governor of Panama. He will leave for his post tomorrow. The government insists on congress reconsidering the matter of the Panama canal treaty. General Sarria has been appointed military commander of the Isthmus of Panama.

It has developed that Minister Beaupre at Bogota failed to receive dispatches sent to him by the State department between July 21 and August 16. At this time, when the United States government is anxious to mmunicate frequently with Mr. Beaupre, this interruption is annoying and Dr. Herran has asked the proper officials in Co-

Fernandez, who was spoken of some time ago as a possible presidential candidate, has been offered a European legation. It is believed that the government is anxious keep him out of the presidential contest. Advices received here from Bogota say that a stormy session was recently held in the house of representatives when the scandalous proceedings arising out of the erratic conduct of General Cobos, July 25, came up for discussion. The representatives for the Department of Panama complained bitterly that the isthmus was being exploited as a colony and that all the high officials were appointed from other departments, Ricardo Arango being the only governer appointed from the isthmus

It is believed here that it was the fear of a secession movement which led to the appointment of Senor Abaldia as governor of Panama, with, it is understood, authority to negotiate on the canal question. General Sarria, who has been appointed military governor of Panama, is an inhmian at heart, having lived twenty years in Panama. Both Governor Obaldia and General Sarria are ardent partisans of the canal and friends of the United States.

Miss Rush is by long odds the queen of all the Lady Holyroods who have had the part. She is doing her part even better than she did last season, when she made her characterization of the siry husband-hunter popular in spite of her inability to sing. Miss Risley is a Dolores compared to whom it were a sin to mention Corinne in the same week. She has the piquancy and charm of youth, whereas Corinne was blase, if not passe; she can sing, she can dance and she can move with grace across the stage, and no 'black-eyed senorita" need ever feel offended if anyone tells her she looks like Greta Risley. Miss Merritt is a spirited Angela, with a good voice and the ability to use it. Robert E. Graham, the original Gilfain, is with the company again this season, and is making the part more and more his own. And he resembles a United States senator in his appearance as well as in his grammatical lapses. Mr. Ryley's Tweedlepunch is an exquisite bit of comedy work. Mr. Phillips is fairly good as Lord Abercoed, but he gives his song to Dolores a dolorous pitch that is a triffe painful. He might put a little life in it and still preserve the tempo. And the sextet, which is the backbone of 'Florodora's" popularity, it has improved with age and is sung better and dressed better this year than ever. The chorus is strong; not only is it good to look at, but it is good to listen to, for the members, both large as could have been accommodated at the Boyd, but it was discriminating, and gave the bright spots its unstinted commendation. Two performances of Elmer Walters' thriller, "The Millionaire Tramp," drew two packed houses at the Krug yesterday. The piece is of the genuine melodramatic type, with a little variation in the formation of the hero and the villain. In neither is the departure sufficiently startling to shake the faith of the followers of this sort of dramatic entertainment. Whatever may be lacking in the way of herolan or deep, dark villainy, is more than compensated for in the element of comedy with which the piece abounds. DELINEAT and its issuance answers squarely the question of supremacy among the magazines for woman and the home. In your selection of a magazine you may choose from two classes—those you need and those you read for recreation—or else you take THE DELINEATOR and combine both. If the word "necessary" is susceptible of a superlative, THE DELINEATOR is beyond all question the "most necessary" of all the magazines published for Woman.

Nine hundred thousand families proved this to be so last month; and each month brings its new thousands of members into the ever growing DELINEATOR FAMILY.

Among the fashions it is the "most necessary" because it is all the fashion magazines in one, with their mistakes eliminated, their exaggerations corrected, and the really successful novelties stamped with the seal of authoritative approval, for if it is pictured in THE DELINEATOR it is "good form." It is equally the "most necessary" in the Nursery, in the Sewing-Room, in the Kitchen, throughout the whole house and out-of-doors, in city and in country. The partial list of contents below can only hint at the interest underlying every line.

The Evolution of a Club Woman, by Agnes Surbridge, begins in this number. It is an autobiography and is the predicted success of the year. J.C. Hemment, the world-famed camera expert, begins one of the most remarkable series of photographic articles ever presented. They relate to his personal adventures at home and in foreign lands. The Silent Partner, by Lynn Roby Meekins; A Florida Cracker, by Virginia Frazer Boyle, are prominent among the fiction features, while the departments are fuller than usual of good things, with especial interest centering in the children's pages.

Contractor Drake Deal res There Was No the shells. This design, so submitted, was Overcharge for Elk City Bridge.

Commissioners Agree to Let the Pler Tubes Be Made Shorter Without Reduction in Price to Contractor.

Robert Z. Drake of the Standard Bridge company returned yesterday morning, and by appointment met County Commissioner Accompanied by County Surveyor Edquist, they left immediately to inspect the bridge over the Eikhorn river near Elk City which was reported seriously damaged by the late high water, Commissioner O'Keeffe and Mr. Drake returned together late last evening, neither of them bearing any scars or other evidence of warrare on the road. Regarding the charge made Saturday by Commissioner O'Keeffe that the bridge had not been built according to the contract and that the plers were only twenty-three feet long instead of being twenty-eight feet long, as called for by the contract, Mr. Drake said: "The order for the Elk City bridge was placed with me August 18, 1900, and at that time was given for a 200-foot span, with tubes twenty-eight feet long from the grade line to the bottom of the tubes.

"Subsequent to the placing of this order with me there was considerable agitation and the county was asked to grant a franchise for an electric road proposed to be built to Fremont, and which as then projected would run over the Military road and across the Elkhorn river on the bridge ordered of me on August 18, 1909.

"The bridge as ordered at this time did not have sufficient capacity to carry electrie cars, and after considerable discussion between members of the board and myself I finally submitted, on January 19, 1901, a proposition to modify the order of August 18, 1900, and increase the capacity of the Elk City bridge over the Elkhorn river, at the same time submitting a modified design with the increased capacity for such bridge.
