Fully Thirteen Thousand Visit the Grounds During Afternoon

and Evening. If the weather clerk will call at the administration booth at the street fair and carnival grounds the management will grant him any favor he may ask in return for the beautiful weather he provided for the great show yesterday. With weather that could not be excelled and the Eagles as a stellar attraction, the attendance at the carnival yesterday reached the 13,000 mark and as no account is kept of the admissions by coupon or season tickets, it may have been closer to 15,000. In any case it was the biggest crowd by all odds of the week so far and the grounds were simply packed with a jolly, fun seeking crowd.

GRAND JURY ENDS ITS LABORS Number of Indictments Returned, Several of Which Were Not Made Public.

The district court grand jury completed its labors yesterday afternoon after being in session sinc. Tuesday of last week and adjourned. A number of indiotments were reported, several of which, owing to the defendants not being in custody, were not made public. Before adjourning the grand jury inspected the county and city jails and reported that it found them both in a sanitary condition and properly kept in all respects. This is the first time for several sessions of court that the grand jury has returned a favorable report on the city jail. The indictments made public were as fol-

ATTACK VALIDITY OF FIRE ESCAPE LAW

Court Allows Son Liberty to Attend Funeral of Mother Who Died on Hearing of His Conviction for Larceny.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) DES MOINES, Sept. 10 - (Special.) - Chairman Spence of the republican state committee today announced conferences to be held in three of the districts of the state, where the republican county chairmen are to meet with the chairman of the state committee and other members of the committee and with the chief of the speakers' bureau. At these district conferences there will be a general exchange of views on the work of the coming campaign. These conferences have been held at the beginning of the campaigns for several years and were found to be very valuable. The dates announced are: Sixth district, Ottumwa. Thursday, September 17; Eighth district, Creston, Friday, September 18; Ninth dis-

Chairman Jackson of the democratic state committee arrived in this city today and commenced work at democratic headquarters. There will be no special work done by the democrats at this time and no district conferences will be held. "It is too early to begin," said Mr. Jackson today. There is no interest in the campaign and no use in making any fight at this time Mr. Sullivan, the candidate for governor, will deliver some addresses this month and that will be all that is to be done."

Attack on Fire Escape Law.

An effort is being made to have the new Iowa law requiring fire escapes on all buildings three stories high declared invalid because of alleged irregularities in its passage. The law is attacked as a part of the defense in suits for damages aggregating $300,000 on account of the deaths in the Clifton house fire in Cedar Rapids last winter. Senator Dowell of this city, the author of the law, declares that the law cannot be successfully attacked on the ground that it was not passed and that the ecord is clear as to the manner in which the law was passed. At the same time it is missioner, in whose hands the enforcement of the law lies, to secure important amendments to the law. As a result of the law fire escapes have been placed on hundreds of buildings in Iowa and in this city scores of buildings that were entirely without protection of this kind have since been supplied. The bill was passed unanimously by DAVENPORT, Ia., Sept. 10.-(Special relegram.)-The second day of the trial in which the sons of Pauline Fraissenet, the housekeeper for W. Fred Parker, the millionaire artist and traveler, seek to secure possession of his fortune, was marked by several sensational features, the chief of which was the testimony given by Mrs. Fraissenet when she took the witness chair. She testified that the eccentric artist did not believe in regulation weddings, and that by agreement between them a supper to which they jointly issued invitations about fifteen years ago was in celebration of their marriage. The supper assembled about a score of their friends at the country home of Parker at Florence, Neb., where he died last year. The evidence of several persons showed that he had acknowledged their two children as his sons.
