BRINGS FIRST OF FEEDERS Great Western Will Have Daily Train and Burlington Expects

Larger Shipments.

The Chicago Great Western handled its first train of feeders Thursday and expects to have a train load regularly now every day. Officials of the road say that land sales for town sites along the new road are large and before long they will have several lively little towns to draw from. The Burlington officials report the cattle shipments light, as all the stockmen are holding their cattle to see the outcome of the grain crop. "However, we think the crop will not be hurt to any extent now, as the last few cold nights did not bring any frost," said one official, "and we expoot the shipments to pick up surprisingly
