

CONDITION OF OMAHA'S TRADE

Large Number of Fall Buyers Arrived Last Week and Placed Heavy Orders. VERY FEW IMPORTANT PRICE CHANGES.

Confidence in Future Business Seems to Be Much Better Than It Was a Short Time Ago and Everyone Expects Prosperous Winter.

The business situation in Omaha and tributary territory is very satisfactory. Merchants here are buying very freely and the outlook for the future is also very encouraging.

Wholesale grocers report the demand for their line of goods as being very brisk and trade last week was considerably better than it was the week before.

The sugar market is in the same position it was a week ago so far as quotations are concerned. Refiners report, however, an increased demand for their product.

There were fully as many dry goods merchants in the city last week as arrived the week before and their orders were very liberal.

Local hardware men report their stocks of goods more complete than ever. It seems that a large number of the manufacturers who have been in the city for some time are beginning to catch up and it looks now as though the supply would come in.

It is not so short on hardware. The general impression is that the demand for hardware is good and that the manufacturers are beginning to catch up.

There is no longer much prospect of frost-free weather going much beyond $1.00 per bushel at wholesale. The market for fruit during the last few days for canning purposes has been very satisfactory.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—COFFEE.—The market for futures opened steady at unchanged prices. The market closed steady at the following: No. 1, 15 1/2; No. 2, 15; No. 3, 14 1/2.
