NOLAN DIES FROM LOCKJAW Injury at First Considered Trivial and at One Time Was Considered Healed. Charles Nolan died yesterday afternoon at his home, 1201 Fifth avenue, from lockiaw. His death was indirectly due to the flood of two weeks ago. The day following the heavy rain Nolan started to clean off the mud from the sidewalk in front of his residence, which had been swept over it by the overflow from Indian creek. He was in his bare feet and in some maner slipped and fell. In falling the big toe of his right foot became wedged between two planks of the sidewalk and the nail was torn off.

The injury, while painful, was not considered serious or dangerous, and, in fact, last Thursday morning the injury was completely healed. Thursday night, however, signs of locklaw commenced to make their appearance and despite all that medical skill could do resulted in Nolan's death yesterday afternoon. That locklaw did not set in until two weeks after the injury is considered by physicians as something very unusual.

SULLIVAN TALKS IN IOWA Democratic Candidate for Governor Opens Campaign in Hawk-

DENISON, Ia., Sept. 12.-Hon. Jerry Sullivan, the democratic candidate for governor, was greeted by a good-sized crowd here this afternoon when he delivered his first formal address of the campaign.

The address had been carefully prepared and dealt almost entirely with the tariff and trust questions. Governor Cummins was taken severely to task for not standing for his former attitude on the tariff question, and addresses delivered by the governor a year ago and in 1901 quoted from to show that he had changed his position.

Mr. Sullivan's address was devoted largely to a denunciation of the laws enacted by the republican party in regulating tariff duties. He declared tariff is a "tribute levied upon thrift and industry to support and maintain a few in wealth and idleness," Upon the financial question he said: y say to you that the money questic settled and wish to keep from your mind it reference to it. It may and may not a settled, depending upon the point of lew from which you view it.

The democracy ever has been and ever ill be in favor of a stable and sound curncy. It is as much opposed to a trust in one as it is to a trust in the products f labor. Of what value would your land a if it were not for the medium of exhange?

Prices will be enhanced, business will sveloped, progress made in all lines as medium of exchange keeps pace wi the medium of exchange keeps pace with the growth and development of industries and trade. This has ever been the policy of the democratic party, and ever will be.

LONDON, Sept. 12 -- (New York World Cablegram-Special Telegram.)-One of the most amazing cases of double life ever investigated has just been laid bare before the London recorder, where William Harvey, a working carpenter, was charged with bigamy, having wedded five years ago a girl named Mary Dentry, his wife being alive. Harvey, after a long courtship, won the girl, who is 12 years his junior, by explaining that he was a widower, with a grown up son and daughter, and that if he married again he would lose certain properties. Therefore the girl was persunded to keep the union a secret. They lived in a room less than a quarter of a mile from Harvey's legitimate home, to which he returned every night at 10:30 sharp, as he said, to prevent his son and daughter becoming suspicious. For five years this arrangement lasted. He had three children by the Dentry girl visitors to the county fair. The order is ascribed to the initiative of Emperor William, whose opinion of what ought to go into the gallery has several times diverged from that of the municipal art commission and Herr von Schudi, director of the gallery. For instance, the commission recently bought Kampf's "Two Sisters" of this sea-

"I did, your majesty," replied Hern Kampf. Director von Tschudi wanted the gallery to have a Whistler and had arranged to buy his "Nocturne No. 3 St. Marks," but the city commission in this case refused to support Herr von Tschudi, because, it is said, the emperor suggested that the picture was not needed.
