Brief Sketches Are Given in Order That Those Who Are Nominated May Be Known by Voters.

That the voters may get an intelligent Idea as to some of the men who have presented themselves for favors at the hands of the republican county convention this fall the following list of brief sketches of careers has been arranged. As will seen the candidates are dealt with in groups according to the respective offices they are seeking:

Clerk of the Court.

D. M. Havorly has served two full terms as county clerk of Douglas county. He was born in Albany county, New York, in 1845 and moved with his family to Winnebago, Ill., when 12 years old. Wisconsin university, where he completed the ancient classical course, also taking a special course in mathematics. The position of professor of mathematics at the Whitewater State Normal school being made vacant, it was tendered to and accepted by Mr. Stoddart and held until the opportunity to work his way through law school was made certain by the offer of the position of assistant clerk of the supreme court at Madison, Wis. After graduating from the law university, a partnership was formed with his fellow student. E. G. McGilton, at present lieutenant governor of this state, and they opened a law office in Omaha. His friends claim for Mr. Stoddart especial qualification for the office of county judge by reason of his judicial mind, and his capacity for careful attention to detail necessarily incident to the duties of a probate judge. Mr. Stoddart has been a resident of the Ninth ward for over sixteen years. He has always taken an active interest as a citizen in polities but has not been a seeker after office. County Assessor.

William G. Shriver was born in Greene County, Pennsylvania, of German parentage, and after graduating from the "Greens County Common School" and later from Duff's Commercial college, Pittsburg, he came to Omaha in 1881. He immediately went into the real estate and loan business and has continued in it up to the present. Mr. Shriver is now the president of the Pennsylvania society of Omaha, after having been its secretary for eighteen years. He is a member of the Omaha Real Estate Exchange, but recently declined another election as its secretary, having already served twelve yearly terms.
