Tabitha Home Advisory Board Gets Back at Committee Which Re-, cently Investigated the Home.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Sept. 28.—(Special.)—Chief Justice Sullivan, candidate for the supreme now "apprehensive" about the committee calling upon him for that $25 which he the fact that it is easy to see a sinister promised to pay toward helping out the motive. There can be no doubt, it is party, because this afternoon the judge asserted, that the charity organization dewas called before the populist committee sired to control the home. In conclusion that has just opened up headquarters in it is claimed the committee made no writthis city. If the populists falled to get the wherewithal, the judge's friends believe he will escape. It is supposed the populists called in the judge just for this purpose, as his report filed with the secretary of state of his expenses for securing the nomination simply stated that he had spent nothing, but had promised to give $25 to the committee when it was called for and he was "apprehensive that it would be Populists have their headquarters at 1828 street and the democrats are grinding away at Omaha. Whether this division of the fusionists was due to the fact that two heads is better than one or whether would produce more harmony around headquarters is not stated. Chairman Webber will have charge of the populists with J. R. Farris as secretary, while the democrats are looked after by C. B. Scott of Kearney, who did the business last year.

The headquarters were opened in Omaha in an effort to keep the few of the party in line there and the Lincoln end of the business was opened with the purpose of Bullivan to see the boys and talk it up. Some applications have come to the fusionists for speakers, but Judge Sullivan said this morning that it was not his purpose to do any talking, that he was bending his efforts to carry the republican Third ward of Columbus.

In the meantime the republicans of this county are getting busy and have opened headquarters at the Lindell hotel, merely as a place to congregate, as there is absolutely no hope of any fusions coming first Governor's Children Kept In.

The children of Governor and Mrs. Mickey are leading strenuous lives these days because they are their parents' children. Since the attempt was made to kidnap one of them last week none of the children are permitted to leave the yard under close watch al! day, Governor Mickey is firmly of the opinion that it was a real attempt at kidnaping and he has implicit faith in the story of the trusty at the penitentiary that the plot was hatched to serve and therefore would have no object in securing the good will of the governor by telling such a story.

The police are at work on the case and they believe they have a clue that might the greater frontage will be on Tenth lead to an arrest. They say that the man who carried the child away had a rig hitched in the neighborhood and that they arrangement would throw the side entrance know from what livery stable it was hired, They have a description of this man, but whether they intend to arrest him or whether he is in town they will not say. The children are unable to give an accurate the City Charity association in making its investigation of the Tabitha home today attacked the report of the committee. This board consists of Dr. Balley, who for fitteen years has been the home physician; Rev. R. A. White a daily visitor at the home, and a bookkeeper. The reply of this board to the report of the investigating committee takes exceptions to the claim that the institution is not up to the standard of charitable homes and points out many improvements that have been made recently in the house and its conduct. It charges also that the offensive part of the committee report, relating to the food supply, was ordered out out by the president of the investigating committee, but for some reason was not cut out. The report also states that many other improvements contemplated w.li have to be postponed because of the interference of the charity association.

The charge that cheap help is employed is resented. The help is furnished by children who have grown up in the home, and it is claimed this is more loyal and effic ent than any that could be procured. A doubal is entered to the charge that the inmates are sometimes scantily clothed. A large storeroom with plenty of clothing was shown the members of the committee. Dr. Balley says the sanitation of the home is above the average of such institutions, and the conclusion of the committee to the contrary is warmly attacked. The cost of medicines is but 9 cents per capita, and there has been but one death during the year-a baby, brought there in a bad state of health. The committee was made aware of all these facts, but ignored them. The charge that the school work is neglacted is vigorously controverted. School is in session most of the year and none of school age are kept out continuously Evenings are spent in study and well qualified teachers employed. There are no more obedient and tractable children, the committee asserts, than can be found here, and the report to the contrary is vigorously assailed. It is based, it is said, on could not maintain discipline. The assertion is made that this man Wiese often left the children's backs bloody and to this by this same train, No. 116. day some of them carry his marks. They did not report this treatment to the superbecause they were not tattlers and it was some time before the head of promptly suppressed. This reign of terror did not exist before he came, it is claimed, and has not existed since.

The investigating committee is rebuked because it had not a word of protest ily and took $31 in money from a pocket against Wiese's tale of going into a young woman's sleeping apartment, upsetting her ploye ever on the place. No Chance for Immorality.

It is insisted that a sufficient apology for the slanderous statement about the lack of watch to prevent immorality in the dormitories could not be made. There are five adult supervisors. The boys' and girls' dormitories are on different floors, and as twenty-five are in each the opportunity for immorality is practically none at all.

No boy over 14 is held if he desires to go, and children are placed out with great care. Other parts of the report are answered in similar style. All moneys received are accounted for. The demand was made that Mr. Heiner do away with the old board and substitute a new one, the bench on the fusion ticket, probably is not selections to be made with his assistance. This is declared to be so unjust and beside ten charges upon which evidence might be adduced, that there was extreme prejudice when the investigation was begun, that hearsay evidence was admitted, that none of the evidence was read to the managers, as promised, that it refused to examine witnesses for the home. It is asserted the committee is practically ignorant of the home, that they believed its enemies and that one told Mr. and Mrs. Heiner: "We don't believe you folks out here." Justice from such a committee was impossible.

Mining Deel at Home

The latest in financial affairs came to light in police court this morning when I became known that a gigantic financial scheme was on foot at the Home of the Friendless to corner a certain amount of mining stock to the end that the inmates might get rich quick. From the meager information that come forth it appears that Miss Caroline Blodgett, an inmate of the home, was the head and front of the corporation and as fast as the inmates conducting the rest of the campaign from got their hands on the shekels they were here. Lee Herdman went down with Judge to deposit them with her and when they got enough on deposit she was to turn over to them the mining stock.

Mrs. Ragelin, a blind autoharpist, invested $37 in stock, and then incidentally had Miss Blodgett arrested for taking $4 from her purse, After this arrest the biind woman saw a light and she talked about the mining deal and wondered why she falled to get her stock certificate. She dismissed the $4 deal and was told that she had falled to pay in a sufficient amount of money to get her stock. All parties quit good friends.

Federal Building Plans

All Lincoln is rejoicing today because another step has been taken in the direction of that new postoffice. Custodian L. L. Lindsey of the government building received this morning the plans of the building from J. L. Taylor, the supervising after dark and the young ones are kept architect. The new structure will be erected at Tenth and P street, and will face Tenth street. The plans received merly cover the floor space and give no idea of the outward appearance of the building. The plans were changed alightly by Mr. there. This trusty has only a short time | Lindsey, and will be returned to Washington tomorrow

The plans apparently contemplate a building 90x156 feet, outside dimensions. They are so drawn that they clearly indicate that street. The only other corner they would fit would be Ninth and P streets, but this opposite the Lincoln hotel, and it is not thought this was in contemplation

It is said today that ten of the smaller fry had sold out, and that the organisation had made contracts with the farmers who had supplied the little dealers. The contract specifies that those selling out shall not enter the milk business inside of two years. It is reported that one who had sold out to the trust had already made arrangements whereby he was to go into partnership with another dualer, and that war with the trust would

ASSIGNMENTS ANNOUNCED BY BISHOP HOWE POPULAR IN ENGLAND Nebraskan Comes in for Laudations by the Press of Sheffield.

The transfer of Church Howe, known from one end of Nebraska to the other, gram.)-The following are the appointments from the position of United States consul of ministers of the north Nebraska confer- at Sheffield, England, to that of consulgeneral at Antwerp, called for a good deal of comment in the Sheffield papers. From the tone of these comments it is evident that in his three years' stay in Sheffield the Nebraskan has made many friends Priest; Craig and Alder Grove, A. J. among the English who join in congratulating him up his promotion.

> The rumor which has gained currency during the past few days that Major Church Howe, who for three years has held the position of American consul in Shef-field, was shortly to leave the city, turns out to be only too accurate, as the major yesterday received official notification of his promotion to the consul-generalship of Antwerp. The news will be received with considerable regret by the large circle of people with whom his duties have brough people with whom his duties have brought him into contact, but at the same time hearty congratulations will be extended to him on his very substantial preferment. Up to the present time political influence has had its weight in the appointment of Americans to consular positions, just as is the case in European countries, but President Roosevelt has recently signified his intention of reorganizing the consular service, weeding out the unsuitable men and promoting to the higher positions those promoting to the higher positions those who had done good work as consuls. Major Church Howe's fine record in Sheffield has shown that he possesses all the qualities pecessary to his position, and it is a strong feibute to the esteem in which he is held by his government that under the new regime he should have been promoted to so important a post as that which has been rendered vacant by death at Antwerp. The congul-generalship of that city ranks inferior to those of London, Paris and Berlin only, and it will readily be realized that the sdvance is a very big one. Until he receives his papers the major will not know the date on which he will leave Sheffield for the sphere of his new duties, but he has received intimation that he is to be succeeded here by Mr. Charles N. Daniels of Connecticut.

Major Church Howe, who comes from Auburn, Neb., has now been six years in the consular service. His earlier days were spent in the west, where he devoted himself to railroad building, farming and the like. It was after his retirement from business that President McKinley offered him the post of consul at Palermo, Italy. He was there from 1897 to 1900, during the time of the Spanish-American war. ness in vogue in my own country, he said in the course of a conversation which a Sheffield Daily Independent representative had with him last night at his residence. Brookside House, "and they have proved very satisfactory."

Major Church Howe has appreciated Sheffield even as Sheffield has appreciated him." Ilke your city." he said to our representative, "and I would not leave it for any other place in Great Britain. I like the Sheffield people, too. I never met kinderhearted individuals, and I go away with considerable regret. So far as my new position is concerned, however, it is a much more important one than that I have held here: in fact, the United States does for with Sheffield. And there is the consult general in a country. Referring to the increase in exports from Sheffield to the states, the major said that increasingly large quantities of steel were ahipped to the United States, despite the fact that his country is the largest steel producing country in the world. "I think the extraordinary amount of building in progress will to some extent explain it," he said. "I was in New York a few weeks ago, and I saw several twenty-story buildings in course of erection, which ware then simply steel skeletons. We put up buildings in course of erection, which ware then simply steel skeletons. We put up buildings in America a trifte more expeditiously than you do in Sheffield," he added. "It seems to be a matter of years here." On the question of cutiery, the consul spoke of the holding which the best known Sheffield makes still retain in the states as elsewhere. The great hotels all have Sheffield cutiery in preference to any other. It is just an ineradicable feeling. "Why, when I was a boy," he said, "we used to hang our stockings up at Christmas, and I remember that one year I found in mine a knife marked "Rodgers," whillst my !vulhor received a knife while was American. My brother was so disgusted that he fluing lia across the room."

Some time ago 'President Roosevelt announced his determination to reform the United States consular service by only appointing men whose fitness for the posts had been proved, and by promoting only those consuls who had done good work. The Indians who are sent here cannot stand the climate, and every such Indian coming here develops tuberculosis no matter in how good health he arrives here, and every one of them either dies or goes out with the disease permanently fixed on him.
