CORN CONDITIONS FAVORABLE According to the Weather Bureau the Crop Has Not Been Much Damaged.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29 .- The weather bureau's weekly crop bulletin:

The principal corn states have experienced weather conditions exceptionally favorable for maturing late corn, and while frosts have been quite general over the central and eastern portions of the corn belt, no material damage is indicated.

Probably less than 20 per cent of the crop in lowa is unmatured, and while the proportion yet exposed to injury in South Dakota, Minnesota and Wisconsin is greater, the immature will make good feed. Farther south only a very small part of the crop is still soft. Cutting is general in all sections, and some new corn has been marketed in Southern Kansas.

While the conditions have been favorable for threshing spring wheat in the spring wheat region, reports of dampness of grain in shock, as a result of previous rains, continues. Harvest is now completed on the North Pacific coast and threshing has advanced.

With reportal sessonable temperature over ureau's weekly crop bulletin:

North Pacific coast and threshing has advanced.

With general seasonable temperature over the entire cotton belt, a large part of the cotton crop has already been gathered. Cool nights and the very general prevalence of drought in the central districts have been detrimental and rust and shedding continue to be extensively reported. On the whole the crop has suffered deterioration, especially in the central and western portlons of the belt.

Plowing for fall seeding has made favorable progress in the Atlantic coast districts and in the states of the upper Mississippi and Missouri valleys, but in the Ohlo valley, southern states and the western portlons of Kansas and Nebraska the soil has been too dry for this work.
