views on fiscal reform he would, therefore, deal with that subject alone, not introducing any allen theme. "What is it?" the premier asked, "that has brought this topic into exceptional There are those who would prominence? attribute the importance it has attained to that great speech delivered by a great man, Mr. Chamberlain, in May last. but something more is required to account for a phenomenon unparalleled in the presonce of any man I am now addressing."

Mr. Balfour attributed this prominence the fact that the country was in closer touch with the colonies as a result of the late war and representatives of the ministers in the colonies had brought before the empire the question of tariff reform Also because a long time prior to the development of the present controversy there had been great uneastness among all parties as to the condition of British trade in relation to the trade of the world.

Canadian Effort Caused Threats.

Mr. Chamberlain's speech would not have had the effect it did if it had not fallen on prepared ground, and if Canada's effort to give preference to the mother country had not brought threats from at least one foreign country in retallation. This had brought home to many minds the helplessness of Great Britain under such circumstances to meet a situation so dangerous

The last sixty years, continued Mr. Balfour, had been filled with refutations of the prophecies made by the great tariff re formers. He believed that the reforms of 1846 were necessary at the time, but every year of the last thirty had contradicted the prophecies of the reformers.

The premier paid a tribute to Cobden who, he said, had an idea, but he did not foresee the developments of the last half century, which had made free trade an empty names and a vain force. For fifty years England, without making a sign had watched the wall of hostile tariffs growing up and dividing nation from nation. He

LIFE OF SYNDICATE EXTENDED

Association Converting United States Steel Bonds to Stock to Be Continued.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1 .-- The syndicate organized to convert $200,000,000 of United States Steel 7 per cent preferred stock into per cent sinking fund bonds expired today, according to the original terms, but by consent of a great majority of its members, has been extended to July 1, 1904. Withdrawals from the syndicate, according to a leading member of the Steel corporation, have been very small.

The terms of the agreement between the Steel corporation and the syndicate call for a distribution of between $35,000,000 and $40,000,000 on bonds to members of the syndicate. This distribution was made in large part today. It is possible that some statement concerning the proportion of with drawals will be made in a few days. The sum of $5,000,000 was paid to J. P. Morgan & Co. today as syndicate managers. This represents a call for 25 per cent of the $20,000,000 cash to be paid for a lump sum of bonds taken by the syndicate at par-
