

STICKNEY BUYS MORE LAND

Add Five Lots on South Nineteenth Street to Great Western's Tract.

NEEDS THEM TO PERFECT SWITCH SYSTEM

Purchase of This Property Means Removal of Whole Brick Row of Flats on Mason Street.

President Stickney of the Chicago Great Western has concluded negotiations for purchase of five lots on South Nineteenth street, between Pierce and Mason, which in all amounts to about five lots.

This additional ground is necessary in order that where the stub switches leave the main tracks the track has to be curved and this necessitates the cutting off of the corner of certain lots. All the ground which has been purchased includes every place where these curves occur and helps to square out the whole amount of property now owned by the Great Western in this locality.

First of all the ground will have to be cleared and this will necessitate the moving of about eighty buildings and the demolition of thirty-two smaller sheds. Included in the number of buildings to be moved is a row of brick flats at Nineteenth and Mason streets. All this will require considerable time and actual operations will not be expected to begin for almost two months.

To Fortify Rates.

NEW OFFICERS AND NEW NAME

Retail Merchants of State Conclude Session—Adopt Resolution on Micky.

The annual convention of the Retail Grocers' and General Merchants' association of Nebraska concluded its sitting in Patterson hall with the busiest meeting of the session.

The election of officers was most harmonious and all were selected by acclamation. O. C. Thompson of Blair declining to serve longer as president, J. Yungblut of Lincoln was elected as his successor.

Whereas, a bill for an act relating to exemption had passed both the senate and house of representatives of the state of Nebraska, and whereas, said bill provided for a reasonable protection for the retail merchant from the dealer and the fraud, and was a measure favorable to the honest man, and would if enacted into law have greatly eliminated that undesirable class of citizens commonly known as "chiselers" and "hoaxers" and whereas, Governor Micky has seen fit to aid and abet dishonestly by vetoing Senate File No. 7, when the merchants had every reason to believe that a pious citizen could not do otherwise than to give his assent to a bill up to the faith that he professes; therefore, he is resolved, that we, the retail merchants of Nebraska in annual convention assembled, do hereby petition the governor to rescind and call upon all business men to do likewise, and ask their assistance to retire Mr. Micky as soon as possible, so that he never will have again a chance to tramp under foot the merchant's rights; and he further resolved, that copies of these resolutions be sent to the governor and given to the public press.

CARRIES STEEL IN HIS EYE

Gustav Widegartner, a Citizen of Eustis, Neb., Hero of Phenomenal Experience.

Gustav Widegartner of Eustis, Neb., is the hero of one of the most remarkable experiences which could befall even a hunter. He has had removed from his eye the steel breech pin and screw of a breech-loading shotgun, weighing one and one-fourth ounces, after carrying it there for a year and four months.

In June, 1922, Mr. Widegartner was out shooting and his gun failed to perform its regular functions, the result of which was that the portion mentioned flew out and lodged just back of the hunter's eye. But, strangest thing of all, Mr. Widegartner didn't know just exactly what had happened. He knew he had been wounded and suffered intense pain. He went to a country doctor some time afterward and complained of a pain back of his eye.

"I believe there is something in there," said he.

"Oh, no there isn't; it's nothing but an exposed bone," dogmatically asserted the sapient practitioner of medicine.

But the "exposed bone" never quit hurting and at times Mr. Widegartner suffered intense agony. This week he came to the Methodist hospital in Omaha and submitted his case to Dr. Harold Gifford, who extracted the steel breech pin and screw, weighing an ounce and a quarter, from the eye. The accident destroyed the eyesight, but the operation saved the patient's life, and he feels that he has cause for great thanksgiving.

THREAT HAS PROMPT EFFECT

City Clerk's Plan to Call on Sheriff Brings Supervisors to Time.

The threat of the city clerk's department to invoke the aid of the sheriff in bringing recalcitrant supervisors of registration to time had its effect and half a dozen were waiting to qualify when the doors were opened at the city hall yesterday. More came later in the forenoon, each pleading, urgently to be allowed to walk in the paths of peace and liberty. Their prayer was answered.

The meeting was for the general purpose of looking over the exhibits and the collection of sheep, fudge, oranges and other exhibits for the exposition and all were shown to be in a very encouraging state of progress.

WOMAN'S CLUB IN POLITICS

Members Announce Intention to Mix in School Board Election.

NUMEROUS CANDIDATES IN THE FIELD Not Very Large Number Get Filled, However, and Chairman Covell Serves Warning Notice for All.

The Omaha Women's club will take a hand in the school board election. Indications point to no lack of candidates for the school board who will file with Chairman Covell of the republican city committee on or before Tuesday. Reports are to the effect that the woods are full of men who think they would make efficient members of the Board of Education. A count reveals an even dozen who "positively refused to accept the nomination," although there are but five places to be filled.

The members whose terms expire are President Theodore Johnson, Morris Levy, James W. Maynard, J. J. Smith and Fred Stubbendorf. Of these it is said that only Levy and Stubbendorf will insist on retiring. "Men who would be candidates are holding back to determine whether or not there will be much competition," said Chairman Covell. "There seems to be a disinclination to pay the $25 filing fee that is necessary in order to defray the expenses of ward primaries. Nevertheless, the committee will proceed as outlined by the new rules. Provided only five candidates file, they will be declared the nominees and there will be no cost, less than five means that the committee will fill the vacancies; more than five, that we will have primaries. Tuesday is the last day for filings."

Women's Club Takes a Hand.

The Women's club has declared its intention of playing a hand in the school board election this fall. Last year this organization did not materially figure in the affair. This letter, signed by Charlotte M. E. Adams, Henrietta I. Smith and Lona W. McGilton, has been received by the chairman of the republican and democratic committees: As the educational committee of the Omaha Women's club, we desire to state to the voters of Omaha through the chairman of the central committee the policy of the organization regarding the selection of candidates for the Board of Education. As the Omaha Women's club is strictly nonpartisan, having in view a judicious management of the public schools and the highest moral and intellectual training of the school children of this district, our duty will be to examine each and every name presented by any political party to the voters at the coming election and select therefrom, regardless of party or faction, candidates whose reputation for moral character and business qualifications will bear the most careful investigation to whom we shall give our influence and support. So far as the democrats are concerned, they will nominate their candidates at a convention to be held Saturday evening in Jacksonian hall. City delegates to the board of the sixth ward and supreme president of the Royal Abolites; H. B. Boyles, the business college man who lives in the Eighth; Dr. Millard Langfeldt of the Ninth; M. E. Adams, Henrietta I. Smith and Lona W. McGilton, the wholesale hardware man of the Seventh ward; John L. McCague of the Eighth ward; Carl Jarl, a Bohemian of the Fourth ward, who runs a mechanical repair shop on Sixteenth street; James Cameron, also of the Fourth, a plumber, and David Cole, the commission man, of the First ward.

DISASTROUS WEEK ON HOGS

Radical Slump in Prices at South Omaha Makes the Market Slow. This has been a disastrous week for farmers who had hogs to sell, and especially for the shippers who paid last week's prices and failed to get them on the market before the break. The slump in prices started Tuesday with a decline at South Omaha amounting to about 10 to 12 cents. That was followed Wednesday by a decline of nearly 15 cents. Thursday, however, was the worst day of all, when there was a break of 20 to 25 cents. This made a total loss of about 50 cents in three days. Yesterday the market held about steady, but the fact was noticeable that packers were not at all anxious for the hogs at the prices asked, and the policy seemed to be simply to buy enough for their immediate requirements. This sensational drop has of course cost
