Much litigation is promised over the presnt condition of the live stock market by those stockmen who owe for their herds. it will mean the ruin of many men who have large cattle interests if they are comof these, as outlined by a South Omaha dealer yesterday, to force the holders of the obligation to foreclose and thus start what will be a long suit in the courts. By the time the cases are settled the stockmen hope to have the trust broken and better prices prevailing.

The Bertillon system of measuring criminals and prisoners is to be adopted by the police department of Lincoln. That the other towns of the west which have not yet adopted this system might be tended the national convention of prison authorities at Louisville, Ky., this week, returning home last night. It was the hope of the chief that all those who attended the convention and who had the system in their towns might unite in getting others to adopt it. Omaha, Leavenworth, Kansas City and St. Joseph, of the nearby cities have the system in vogue and it was to keep pace with them and in order to co-operate with them in the arrest of criminals that the chief will install the system here.

Governor Goes to Dedication.

Governor Mickey returned this morning from Beaver City, where yesterday afternoon he addressed the people who were attending the Furnas county fair. He talked of Nebraska crops and farm lands, how to raise boys and girls and good citisenship. The governor reported a most excellent fair and a good crowd in attendance. He will go to Wahoo this evening to assist in the dedication of the new Lutheran college there tomorrow.

RECEIVES ARTILLERY CORPS

President Greets Visitors at Elaborate Reception at White House. INSPECTS MEN AND ACCOUTREMENTS

British Guests Are Accompanied to Executive Mansion by Boston Company and Minutemen of Washington.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10 .- President and Mrs. Roosevelt this afternoon gave an elaborate reception in the White House to the Honorable Artillery corps of London, the Ancient and Honorable Artillery company of Boston and the Minute Men of this city. Invited to meet the guests of honor were the most prominent officers of the government and the leading members of Washington society.

Shortly before 4 o'clock the two visiting organizations under escort of the Minute Men, and headed by the Ancient and Honorable Artillery band, marched from the Arlington hotel to the entrance of the cast terrace of the White House. There the organizations separated, the Boston company and the Minute Men passing through the terrace entrance and lining up on the lawn immediately east of the south front to the White House. The Honorable Artillery corps of London entered the White House grounds at the southeast gate and marched along the driveway to a point directly facing the south porch of the White House. There Lord Denbigh, the mmander of the corps, formed his men in parade, facing the White House. It was a brilliant spectacle, the handsome uniforms of the visitors showing splendidly against the dark green of the lawn and foliage of the grounds.

Interested in Corps.

After chatting a minute President Roosevelt, accompanied by Lord Denbigh and his adjutant and Colonel Simons and Commander Cowles, made a careful inspection of both ranks of the corps, the president manifesting interest in the uniforms and equipment of the men. The visitors were ceived by the president and Mrs. Roosevelt, members of the cabinet and the ladies who accompanied them and the other guests who had been invited to meet the artillerymen. The London corps was followed by the members of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery company of Boston and the Minute Men, each being warmly greeted by the president.

After the guests had been received and had assembled in the East room, they passed through the main corridor to the state dining room, where a buffet luncheor
