O'KEEFE MAKES CHARGE

Declares Opponents in Bridge Case "Stole Plans and Specifications"
CONTRADICTS CONTRACTOR DRAKE
Denies that He Has Job to Construct County Bridges Because of Recent Supreme Court Decision.

The famous Elkhorn bridge muddle furnished more history yesterday, when Commissioner O'Keefe, at the regular session of the county board, made the broad charge that the parties who are opposing him in his effort to get at the facts in connection with the breakdown of the bridge had "stolen the plans and specifications they could nowhere be found."

Drake is Heard. Following the reception of this report, a representative of the firm which has the contract for building the county bridges was heard.

Discharge the Crew. It having been alleged that the gang of laborers under the supervision of James Batten, doing the repair work on the county road, was not doing as much work by one-half as either of the four machines which are similarly employed, the gang was ordered discharged.

AT THE PLAYHOUSES.

"We Are Kings" at the Boyd. Mr. Walker Whiteside and his supporting company in "We Are Kings," a satirical comedy in a prologue and three acts, by Lieutenant Gordon Keen. The cast:

IN THE PROLOGUE Sir Henry Baskin (Prologue) London (Record) Mr. Mitchell Gustavus Venner (Prologue) sailor and somewhat of a Freeloader) Mr. Whiteside James Hicks (Prologue) Mr. Lander Harold Hawk (Prologue) Mr. Clifford Jack Durgan (Prologue) Mr. Hammond Walter (Prologue) Mr. Williams

In writing "We Are Kings" Lieutenant Gordon Keen came dangerously near producing a "shocker." In fact, so narrowly did he skim the line that the element of open bouffé almost, his play would stand upright as a downright "thriller."

Briefly, the story is that of a young man who would rather be a sailor than a newspaper reporter, but who wants to be a novelist. Poverty sends him forth on an assignment to a German principality, for a London newspaper. Here his resemblance to the reigning monarch, who is a brute, enables conspirators to substitute him for the king.

THE VALUE OF CHARCOAL. Few People Know How Useful It is in Preserving Health and Beauty.

Charcoal is a remedy that the more you take of it the better; it is not a drug at all, but simply absorbs the gases and impurities always present in the stomach and intestines and carries them out of the system.
