

COLLEGE SETTLEMENT OPEN

Indications Point to Most Successful Year in Its History.

NEW FRIENDS ARE COMING TO ITS AID

Effort Being Made to Raise Funds to Secure Proffered Gift from Rockefeller to the State University.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, Oct. 11.—(Special.)—College Settlement opened last Thursday evening for the year's work under circumstances more favorable than ever before in the history of the work. Over 100 pupils and parents and friends were present to give their moral encouragement to the undertaking. The evening was spent in a social way, a program of music being interspersed with a tableaux given by the children of the neighborhood of the settlement, and games indulged in by all. Punch was served.

The rooms of the house were tastefully decorated and everything possible was done to make the rooms attractive to both pupils and visitors. The opening was entirely informal, there being no speaking from any one. President Prevey and Mrs. Prevey and their assistant, together with several of the young people of the neighborhood, received the guests and showed them over the house and pointed out the many improvements that had been made during the summer. The next day the pupils reported for their classes.

Every branch of the work is receiving its share of attention and has pupils greatly in excess of last year or any previous year. Both the reading room and the game room are open each evening and will continue so throughout the winter. The Young Men's Christian association of the settlement will furnish a teacher each evening for the game room from among its members and the Young Women's Christian association is supplying the reading room with a teacher from among its members. Soon there will be started a class in cooking and a class of book-keeping by the instructor. The latter class will be taught by the instructor from the university. Before this class is started, however, it will be necessary for the settlement management to raise some more funds in order to better equip the room in the basement which has been set apart for this purpose. It is not doubted that this will be an easy matter, because so far the success of the settlement has been beyond all expectations. An instructor for the cooking school has already been engaged and her work will begin in a very few days.

Success is Assured. This is the second year of the settlement in its new home and the interest being taken in the work as shown by the interest at the opening and since leads the management to believe that it will be the most successful year of its existence. When the management first elected to build on the present site there was some objection because it was felt by some that the location was not fitted for such work. Even with its one year there this belief has proven to have been groundless. C. E. Prevey, who is at the head of the work, said: "Everything points to a most successful year in its history. The neighborhood did not understand what it all meant and the impression that ours was merely a school for poor young people who could not afford to attend other schools worked against us to a great extent. This prejudice is not here now. The people understand thoroughly what we are doing and are consequently receiving much help and encouragement and many more pupils. Our night schools furnish an excellent opportunity for those who have not the time to attend day schools to improve their minds and during the winter we expect to enroll a large number of new pupils. Young people whose labor keeps them busy during the day."

Several prominent speakers will address the pupils during the winter and debates that will occur weekly are expected to create much interest. After Rockefeller Gift. The work of getting together that $25,323.25 in order for the university to be in a position to ask Mr. Rockefeller for the $50,000 which he has so generously promised, has begun in earnest and the individual donations are not sufficiently large to create comment. The first real active canvassing was done among the business men of Lincoln last week and in one day between $60 and $700 was secured. This, however, came from a large number of people, while individual donations being smaller than was expected. It is said that $10,000 has already been pledged, with practically no soliciting having been done. This came from close friends of the institution and the alumni.

After the work has been thoroughly started in Lincoln an organized effort will be started out in the state. The money has to be raised by the first of next January and the committee realizes that it will take some work to get it. If sufficient money is raised to secure the Rockefeller gift it will be used to erect a religious and social building, something badly needed at the university. Secretary Weyer of the committee said he felt sure the needed sum would be raised in plenty of time.

Escaped Convict Captured. Simon, the convict who escaped from the penitentiary some weeks ago, is under arrest at El Paso, Tex., and Officer Wagner of the penitentiary left for that place this afternoon to accompany him. Simon was sent to prison from Lancaster county for assault with intent to do great bodily injury.

JUST ONE DAY How the Coffee Crank Compromises His Health. Some people say: "Coffee don't hurt me," and then say: "Anybody I only drink one cup a day."

If coffee really don't hurt, why not drink more? There is but one answer and that is coffee does hurt them and they know it. When they drink it once a day they compromise with their enemies. There are people who use a cup of coffee a day who will put in bed, if the habit is continued.

"Although warned by physicians to let coffee alone, I have always been so fond of it that I continued to use it," confessed an Ohio lady. "I compromised with myself and drank just one cup every morning until about six weeks ago."

"All the time I was drinking coffee I had heart trouble that grew steadily worse and finally I had such alarming sensations in my head (sometimes causing me to fall down) that I at last took my doctor's advice and quit coffee and began to use Postum Coffee in its place."

"The results have been all that the doctor hoped for. I have not only had my craving for coffee and enjoy my good Postum just as well, but my heart trouble has ceased and I feel better in every way than I have. I have no more dizzy spells in my head. I feel better in every way and consider myself a very fortunate woman to have found the true coffee substitute. Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich."

"Look in each package for a copy of the famous little book, 'The Road to Wellville.'" and had only one more year to serve of his term. Shortly after his escape an attempt was made to kidnap a child of Governor Mickey, and it was reported that Simon was suspected. The officers, however, placed no faith in the story.

LUTHER ACADEMY CELEBRATES

Twentieth Anniversary of Founding Observed in Appropriate Manner.

WATFORD, Neb., Oct. 11.—(Special.)—Luther academy has entered upon a new era of progress and usefulness by the erection of a $15,000 college building. The Nebraska conference of the Lutheran Augustana Synod of North America that owns and maintains this institution has its fall meeting here. Saturday and Sunday were set apart for the celebration of the twentieth anniversary of the founding of the school and the dedication of the new building. A fine and interesting Luther league program was carried out yesterday forenoon. The features of this program were the address of welcome by Rev. J. J. Johnson; a speech, "American Ideals," by C. S. Nelson of St. Louis; speech, "The Swedish American," by W. A. Peterson of Oakland; "Congratulations to Luther Academy," by Superintendent Eric Larson, Holmdel; Luther and league address by Rev. C. A. Randolph, pastor, and Rev. Hult of Swedenborg. Music was rendered by representatives from Mead, Wahoo and York and by the Tabor quartette, Wahoo. Dinner was served free on the college grounds.

The twentieth anniversary program was rendered in the afternoon. The speakers were Rev. C. A. Swenson of Lincoln, Kansas, and Dr. M. Noyd of Chicago. Dr. Swenson spoke of the underlying principles of education and held the audience for an hour and a half. Dr. Noyd spoke for the Lutheran church in this country and of the great number of churches and schools which have been the first fruits of the Luther academy. A tender vote of thanks by the audience. Dr. S. M. Hill, the second president, was recognized in a similar manner. Prof. O. J. Johnson, who is the president now in charge, presided at these meetings.

Last evening a concert was rendered at the college chapel by the faculty of the School of Music, assisted by Mr. A. Lansing of Omaha. There was a great concourse of people at all of these programs and at the afternoon concert there were over 2,000 in attendance. At the concert there was not even standing room left.

SIDNEY, Neb., Oct. 11.—(Special Telegram.)—The first and third squadrons of the Tenth United States cavalry, comprising troops A, B, D, E, K, L and M, headquarters, staff and band, in command of Captain Greason, 450 men and twenty-three officers and about 600 head of horses, reached here yesterday and camped north of the Union Pacific stock yards at retreat. They played half a dozen excellent selections and all wound up with dress parade. Hundreds of people from the city and surrounding country visited the camp. In the evening the citizens entertained the officers with a dance at the hotel. The troops left this afternoon with all camp equipment and three trains for Fort Riley, Kan., to participate in the army maneuvers. On the return here about November 1 the citizens will again entertain in royal style and give a ball and banquet.

Drowned in Salt Creek.

ASHLAND, Neb., Oct. 11.—(Special.)—The lifeless body of Andy Johnson, an eccentric old Swede and a character about town for many years, was found in Salt creek this morning at 7:30 o'clock by Charles Marsh. Johnson started for his home last night at 11:30 o'clock and was seen walking home by several people. The path to Johnson's house runs close to the east bank of Salt creek. The bruised condition of the man's left temple indicated that he fell, face downward, from the embankment, which is about ten feet high, into the creek. His cap was blown off and he was underbrush and a few feet below his body was scattered in water about four feet deep. The watch found on his person had stopped ticking at 8:35 o'clock, presumably the time that he drowned.

Seriously Hurt by Train.

ASHLAND, Neb., Oct. 11.—(Special.)—Two men, whose names could not be obtained, were thrown from a carriage on Fourth street this morning about 3 o'clock. RUSSIA REPUUDIATES TREATY

Minister of that Country to China Declares Convention Has Lapsed.

NOT BOUND TO EVACUATE MANCHURIA

Abandoned Agreement Only Thing Which Required Russia to Leave Chinese Provinces—Troops of Care Near Peking.

YOKOHAMA, Oct. 11.—Baron von Rosen, the Russian minister to Japan, is still awaiting instructions from his government in the matter of negotiations now proceeding between Japan and Russia. A Russian minister to China, the Balkan military district is reported to have arrived at Feng-Chien-Ting, about 150 miles north of Peking, and ninety miles from the Russian frontier. M. Lessar, Russian minister to China, has announced that the Manchurian convention has lapsed.

The Manchurian convention between Russia and China was signed April 8, 1902, and according to it, the evacuation of the three Manchurian provinces were to be carried out in three consecutive periods of six months from the signing of the convention. A note from Lessar, was appended to the convention regarding the fact that the Chinese government, notwithstanding the assurances given it, violate any provision of the convention, the Russian government will not hold itself bound either by the terms of the Manchurian agreement or by the declarations previously made in connection with the evacuation of Manchuria to repudiate any responsibility and consequences that might arise therefrom.

China was to be permitted to maintain whatever force she thought necessary in Manchuria after the evacuation. Russia agreed that if the Manchurian convention was not renewed, the Chinese would be free to evacuate New Chwang at the time this restoration was made. The allies turned over Tien Tsin to the Chinese August 15 of last year. The convention was to have been ratified within three months, but this has not been done. Last month M. Lessar, in his note to the Chinese foreign board, promised to begin the evacuation of Manchuria October 8, provided China accepted several conditions which China refused to do, under pressure principally from Japan and Great Britain.

Butler County Fusionists.

DAVID CITY, Neb., Oct. 11.—(Special.)—The fusionists of Butler county held their convention in this city yesterday. The delegates met at the opera house and the public at the court house. Both conventions met in the forenoon and discussed temporary organizations. When they met in the afternoon all that was to be done was the nomination of the county ticket, as Chairman Walling of the populist convention said in his opening speech, the division of the spoils had been agreed upon some time ago and all each county had to do was the nomination of its end of the ticket. The following is the ticket nominated: County clerk, M. J. Bouse, democrat; Judge C. M. Skiles, democrat; superintendent, C. S. Shea, democrat; sheriff, T. J. Hinds, democrat; coroner, W. R. Sample, democrat; surveyor, M. M. Arlt, democrat; treasurer, J. C. Perry, populist; assessor, Charles Harris, populist; clerk of the district court, W. H. McGuffin, jr., populist. The democratic convention was well attended, the attendance at the populist convention was small. Several townships not being represented. The ticket nominated does not seem to be satisfactory to the fusion forces.

Talk is Not Cheap.

NORFOLK, Neb., Oct. 11.—(Special.)—Talking over the telephone wire between Norfolk and Stafford, Neb., cost a fellow named Pond just $22.50 the other day. Pond was about "seventeen sheets in the wind" when he entered the central office at Stafford. The manager was away and a staff took charge of things. But not for long. Pond took control, rang up Norfolk and talked incessantly for just two and one-half hours—between 11 a. m. and 1 p. m. when the wire was cut off. He called or switched on with just 33 telephones in Norfolk and all efforts to get him off the wire were fruitless. It is considered a record breaker in telephonic affairs.

Troops Finish Long March.

NORFOLK, Neb., Oct. 11.—(Special.)—The 60 colored soldiers of the Twenty-fifth Infantry, United States army, in charge of twenty white officers, finished their march across country from Fort Niobrara at Valentine to Norfolk, a distance of 170 miles. In just seventeen days, arriving here Saturday noon. The troops are en route to the encampment at Fort Riley and left Norfolk tonight over the Union Pacific. Saturday night the officers were entertained at the Elks' club rooms, and the band gave a concert at the auditorium. The troops were pretty fresh after their long march, which was a hard one in spots.

Slight Injury Proves Serious.

FAIRBURY, Neb., Oct. 11.—(Special.)—James Trumble, residing near Gretna, while cutting hay last week bruised the bridge of his nose on a mower handle. He paid no attention to the wound until this week, when blood poisoning set in and he is in a bad condition, one eye being swollen shut and his face badly swollen. Serious results may ensue from this slight injury.

Catholic Mission Ends.

As It Looks to German Eyes.

BERLIN, Oct. 11.—Russia and Japan act as though either would fight if the other should back immovably to the position taken up in the last exchange of communications. This is the actual situation as understood officially from reports received from the German embassy in St. Petersburg and the German legation at Tokio. Yet this mutual attitude with hostile preparations by both countries is still regarded here as a necessary and reasonable arrangement. Neither government has gone so far that it must fight or be humiliated, but either cabinet by a single step can put the other in that position. This delicate balance may, of course, be violently disturbed any day, though no ultimatum has yet been thrown on either scale.

Looks Like Speedy War.

LONDON, Oct. 11.—The correspondent of the Morning Post at the Foo, telegraphing October 10, says: "It is stated that the Japanese have decided to declare hostilities tomorrow on the expiration of their ultimatum to Russia. The Russian fleet has sailed from Port Arthur. It is reported that the Japanese are landing troops at Ysanphoo, Corea. There are strong indications that Germany favors hostilities on the ground that it would enable it to extend its sphere of influence in China."

Cholera and the Plague Have Broken Out among the Russians at New Chwang.

Another dispatch to the Morning Post from the Foo, dated October 10, 8:30 p. m., says: "The situation is unchanged. All quiet at Port Arthur. Hostilities are still believed to be imminent. It is asserted that the Russians have fixed Friday next for their commencement. There is an exodus of Chinese merchants from the Yalu valley. They are arriving at Changhai. The Daily Mail's correspondent at Shanghai telegraphs: Careful inquiries show that the only Japanese troops at Ysanphoo are on the small territory conceded to Japan in connection with railway building and their presence is therefore in accordance with treaty rights."

VESSELS DRIVEN ASHORE

station was one of the most heroic acts in the history of the surfmen on the Virginia coast. Capps, two miles from any other human being, and patrolling his stretch of 100 yards of shore in the roaring surf. Without a moment's consideration of his peril he was facing his stripped and plunged into the sea that was already a seething mass of wreckage from the barges and along a half-hour battle, single-handed and alone, brought the unconscious man ashore. He had not recovered his breath before he discovered through a rift in the foam and once more he went into the surf. This time his struggle was a harder one, but he eventually succeeded in saving the negro. Placing both men under the lee of a cliff he started back to the station to give the alarm. He saw the third negro in the waves and he plunged in and brought an unconscious man ashore. Capps did not cease his work until all three men had been cared for at the station, and at midnight he resumed his regular trick at patrolling the storm-swept coast.

Telegraph Lines Down.

While nothing new is reported in the way of wrecks on the coast, there is absolutely no method of securing information from the Virginia coast. The entire coast telegraph system is prostrated, and it will be some days before communication can be restored. The passenger steamer reported off the coast last night in a dangerous position is thought to be the Old Dominion steamship Hamilton, from New York Friday. Hamilton reached Norfolk at 4 o'clock this morning after a terrible experience in the sea. The steamer was not damaged to see worst extent and will continue its schedule, but the suffering of the passengers, particularly those in the steerage, was terrifying. Anchored off Virginia beach, with no signs of life aboard, are two large sailing barges. Both are slowly but surely dragging toward the beach and unless there is a further break in the force of the gale both may be wrecks before morning. What fate has befallen their crew is yet to develop. This afternoon two tramp steamers themselves battling head-on with the sea, passed within halting distance of both barges, but neither paused, and the supposition on shore is that the crews either have perished or were picked up by some stauncher craft.

Loss of Pleasure Resorts.

A tour of the coast today by the Associated Press correspondent revealed scenes of havoc in the path of the gale. At Ocean View the pleasure pier is a total wreck and the damage to the clubhouse, cottages and extensive bulkheads will run far into the thousands. The handsome new home of the Hampton Roads Yacht club is one of the worst sufferers, but all along the bay shore the damage is great. At Cape Henry the bay and ocean beach is covered with the wreckage from small craft and the mammoth double-decked pavilion is badly damaged. The loss at Virginia beach exceeds that of any other place hereabouts. The wide board walk, extending for two miles along the ocean front, is practically demolished, the portions left standing being in such a condition as to require rebuilding. Cottages are partly unroofed and porches washed away by the sea that threatened last night to engulf the entire resort.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Oct. 11.—The Susquehanna river continues to rise steadily at the rate of one-tenth of a foot every two hours today. Tonight it registers two feet above low water mark. It will have to rise two feet more to flood the roadway between here and the town of Kingstons, but already much of the lowlands on the west side is under water and residents are tonight preparing for the worst. Since Friday night last the flood in this city and vicinity has entailed many thousands of dollars worth of damage. The trolley car service, which was crippled for a time on the east side of the river was re-established today and no further trouble is expected unless the river should overflow the flats, which would interrupt the service between here and Kingstons, Plymouth, Wyoming, West Pittston and other surrounding towns.

Goods in Cellars Ruined.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 11.—Delaware avenue, which runs along the Delaware river in this city, was again flooded for a distance of two miles at high tide this afternoon. The water rose about six inches higher than it did at high tide yesterday. The water was so high that ferry boats were unable to enter their slips without doing damage and for several hours service between this city and Camden and Gloucester was suspended. The cellars of most of the houses along Delaware avenue in the flooded districts were filled with water and goods valued at many thousands of dollars were either entirely ruined or damaged. The water in the avenue receded with the tide, but it is feared that the next high tide will send the water up into the basements again, as the river is still far above normal. Much damage was done along both banks of the river all the way to Delaware bay. The flood did some damage in the League Island navy yard and flooded industrial establishments at Chester and other points.

Town Under Water.

BURLINGTON, N. J., Oct. 11.—This town is suffering from the worst flood in its history, approximately four-fifths of the place being under water, caused by the tremendous flood in the Delaware river. The high point of the town is only three feet above the flood and as the river is still rising it is feared that the situation will become more serious. The southern section of the town is flooded to a depth of from two to six feet and much of the surrounding country is also under water. In East Burlington it is estimated that 50 out of every 100 houses are inundated. Many families are in water, and some are still clinging to the roofs of their homes. The town is entirely cut off from communication except by telegraph and telephone and unless the water recedes soon there will be a general scarcity of food. The street running on the Camden and Atlantic division of the Pennsylvania railroad crosses through here. The water is rushing down the street so rapidly that people are unable to wading through the town in places where it is a difficult time of it. Buildings have become water-tight. The majority of the churches held no services today, the edifices being surrounded by water. The flood cut a new channel back of the Mount Holly bridge. Five persons were rescued from a floating house in the Delaware river today in sight of hundreds of onlookers. The building was a two-story frame structure from Florence, near here. It had been surrounded by water and its occupants sought refuge in the upper story. Without any warning it broke from its foundations and before the five persons could escape was carried into the Delaware river and down stream. A party of men met the house and took off shingles from the top of the house and rescued two children and the mother from the attic. They were landed here.

STICKNEY TO LOSE NO TIME

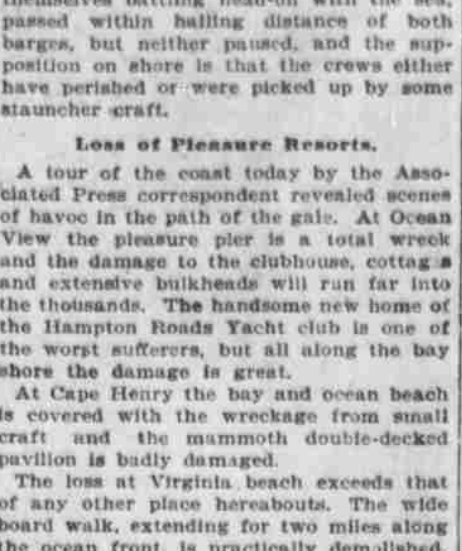

Intends to Get at Building Terminals as Soon as Possible Since Second Victory. Now that the Chicago Great Western has won the second fight to prevent its entrance into the city, assuming that it will be the ultimate victor in the Union Pacific skirmish, which is still hanging by a technical thread, it is understood that President Stickney intends losing no time in getting down to the actual work of constructing his terminals. As Judges Baxter and Dickinson have refused to grant the injunctions against the entrance of the Great Western—in
