Printing Vacating Ordinances.

Yesterday evening the official paper of the city printed ordinance No. 172, which pertains to the vacating of certain streets and the construction of a viaduct. This ordinance will have to be printed ten times before the council can consider it. Details of the ordinance have been printed before, but the first official publication did not occur yesterday. It will cost the city $10 for each publication of the ordinance, or $100 in all. Mr. Kenyon, general manager of the Union Stock Yards company, has agreed to pay the cost of the advertisement. In the cases of the gas company and the water company, the companies securing franchises, paid the cost of the advertisement. Until the district court hands down a decision in the case the judiciary committee of the council will not make a report on this ordinance.

Semi-Annual Meetings.

The semi-annual meeting of the joint car inspection bureau at South Omaha will be held at the Live Stock exchange on Wednesday. Reports of the officers will be presented showing the work of the association for the last six months. The master mechanics of the roads entering in South Omaha will be present, as well as the officials of the railroad department of the Union Stock Yards company. George Thompson, master mechanic of the Union Pacific, is president of the association and F. L. Corwin, superintendent of the Union Stock Yards Railroad company, is secretary.

Grade School Teachers' Meetings.

Superintendent McLean is well pleased with the result of the sixth grade teachers' meeting held last Friday. He says that a great deal of good was accomplished at this meeting and that the teachers became more conversant with their work on account of the discussion. It is the desire of Superintendent McLean to hold meetings of this sort every week or two and include one of the grades, one grade being taken at a time. In this way, he says, the teachers may become more familiar with the work and have an opportunity of talking over subjects with other teachers.

Big Sheep Market.

South Omaha is rapidly distancing all of the other Missouri river markets in the matter of receipts and the prices paid. South Omaha is second only in Chicago. Last week the sheep receipts here exceeded the combined receipts at St. Joseph, Kansas City and St. Louis by $4,000 head. The receipts at Kansas City were 9,000 behind South Omaha, while this city was only $2,000 lower than Chicago. It is predicted by sheep dealers that South Omaha will be the principal sheep market in the country, as it is most convenient for buyers and sellers.

Meeting of Federation Last Night Takes Steps to Further Arouse Public Interest in Work Under Way.

The Omaha Federation of Improvement clubs met last night at Court room No. 2, with a good attendance present, and Judge Slabaugh, president of the federation, in the chair.

President Slabaugh announced standing committees for the ensuing year as follows:

Way and Means—Talbot, Buchanan, Pope and Davis.
Press and Publicity—W. F. Johnson, Miss McCarty and Miss O'Brien.
Organization—Parsons, Davidson and Sanchez.
Improvements—Charles Johnson, Craig, Pierson.
Law and Municipal Government—E. F. Morearty, Blake and Day.
The chairman of these several committees, with the officers of the federation, will constitute the executive committee.

The special committee on street improvements, through Chairman Sanchez, submitted an informal verbal report indicating progress, and was continued.

The special committee on public schools submitted an informal report, which was in effect that the resolution of the club passed at the last meeting, relative to requesting the co-operation of the board in enlisting the school children in the matter of public improvements, and designating some special day in the spring for the discussion of civic improvements in the public schools, and stated that the resolution had been sent to the school board.

Plans for Mass Meeting.

The committee appointed to consider the project of a mass meeting in the interest of public improvements reported progress. Mr. Layman of St. Louis had been communicated with and signified his willingness to address the proposed mass meeting.

On October 21 or 22, and would bring with him a series of pictures showing the progressive stages of public improvements in St. Louis.

A motion prevailed that such a meeting be held on the evening of October 23, at a place to be hereafter designated. Committee was appointed to arrange for the meeting, and invitations were extended to city officials and members of different organizations to address the meeting briefly.

The club recommended the preparation of two ordinances, one looking to the suppression of the West method, and another for the planting of trees along the streets, similar to ordinances now prevailing in St. Louis, Minneapolis and Washington. These propositions were referred to the law committee, as was a legislative measure relative to authorizing the school board to take measures to the further beautifying of the school grounds.

A resolution was read from the Orchard

Hill Improvement club to the effect that the various improvement clubs of the city favor such legislation as will give the mayor and city council the right to create improvement districts. In order that improvements may be made on a reasonable showing made by the residents of the district, subject, however, to the protest of a majority of the people interested, upon thirty days' notice being duly given of the passage of such ordinance.

The club thereupon adjourned to October

20, when the matter of the proposed mass meeting will be further considered.

Chicago Witness Refuses to Answer for Fear of Incriminating Himself.

CHICAGO, Oct. 12.—James Watson, former president of the Porter brothers' company, refused to testify before Bankruptcy Referee Wean today regarding the rebates said to have been received from transportation companies in connection with the large commission business of that concern. Watson took the position that such testimony might incriminate him, as the giving or receiving of rebates is an offense against the laws. The question was finally submitted to the referee for an opinion.

Announcements of the Theaters.

Tonight "A Chinese Honeycomb," the most talked of musical comedy since "Flora-dora," opens at the Boyd for an engagement that is limited to tomorrow's matinee and night. The company presenting the piece is almost the same as the one that gave it at the Casino, New York, for almost a year and a half. Versatile John E. Henshaw heads the cast, which is composed in part of Stella Tracy, Toby Claude, W. H. Clarke, Charles Price, Francis Knight and Edwin Clark. The music of the comedy is very catchy and almost everyone who hears it finds the strains running through his head.

Some of the songs are "I Want to Be a Lady," "Roly Poly," "The A la Girl," "Twiddlely Biss," "The Official Mother-in-law," "Bite From the Plays," "There's a Little Street in Heaven That They Call Broadway."

So far as scenic environment is concerned patrons may expect a rich treat as the scenery is very elaborate.

The same thing may be said from a costume point. The scenes, as the title would imply, are laid in China, which is rich in Oriental coloring and elaborate architecture.

Despite the inclement weather last night

"Arizona" drew another large audience at the Krug theater. Mr. Thomas' beautiful American play has evidently lost none of its popularity here, for the present engagement promises to be its most successful one. There will be but one more matinee of "Arizona." Wednesday afternoon, when the best seats will be only 25 cents. The evening performance closes with the Wednesday engagement.
