SENATOR PLATT IN TROUBLE

Former Nebraska Girl Threatens to Sue Him for Breach of Promise.

SAYS SHE HAS INTERESTING LETTERS

Took Trip to Europe, She Alleges, at Senator's Expense Preparatory to Wedding Planned for This Fall.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—(Special Telegram.)—Miss Max Wood, a clerk in the money order division of the Postoffice department, left Washington for New York last Friday, accompanied by an attorney, with the avowed intention of preventing the marriage of Senator Thomas C. Platt to Mrs. Lillian T. Johnson, which it is announced will take place Thursday. The department clerk, it is asserted by her friends, expected that the senator would marry, but that she herself would occupy the place which the senator has announced will be filled by the Washington widow. Now Miss Wood intends either to prevent the wedding or to start a suit for damages based on breach of promise to wed.

According to the story which the post-office clerk told, she has been receiving attention from the senator for the last two years—first, ever since she was appointed to a position in the department through his influence. She has been in constant communication with him and exhibited many letters containing expressions of affection and frequently mentioned their approaching nuptials. It was understood that their wedding was to take place early this winter.

According to the report of Miss Wood last summer she received a letter from the senator reaffirming his love for her and enclosing a check for $1,000. He told her to take a trip to Europe and prepare herself to be the wife of a senator of the United States. The tour of Europe was made, and when she returned last week she read in the newspapers that the senator had announced his engagement to Mrs. Johnson. She straightway conferred with legal advisers and the trip to New York was made upon their advice.

It has been well known here in Washington that Senator Platt's sons have opposed his marriage, and it is hinted that they are working with Miss Wood to prevent it.

Miss Wood is highly educated, having received degrees in law. She is an orphan and was appointed from New York.

Miss Wood is well known in Omaha, where she spent some time a few years ago in the practice of law. She left here to go to Paris to pursue her study. She paid her last visit to Omaha about a year ago, attending the Ak-Sar-Ben ball.

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Oct. 13.—(Special.)—The agricultural department of the United States experiment station, conducted by the South Dakota Agricultural college at Brookings has made a shipment of 200 pounds of macaroni wheat to the secretary of agriculture at Salisbury, Rhodesia, South Africa.

The wheat was sent by express to Ocean View, where it will be forwarded by ocean express to Capetown, from which point it will be consigned to the British South African company, which will be instructed to forward it to Salisbury.

ARGENTINE AS IN TROUBLE

Angry Mobs Protest Against Proposed Candidates for President and Vice President.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—A large demonstration against the convention has been made, says a Herald dispatch from Buenos Ayres, Argentina, for the nomination of candidates for president and vice president, which will meet today. The convention is composed of the notable men of the republic and its opponents are of the general public.

Mobs in the streets indulged in attacks on the government and Senator Quintana, the official candidate. The protests will continue while the convention is assembled, although it is possible the public feeling may be headed and the convention abandoned. The agitation is increasing daily and there are indications of more violent demonstrations against Quintana.

In a collision between the mobs and the police several persons were injured.

REPORTS FLAGRANT FRAUDS

Agent of General Land Office Uncover Evil Practices in Montana.

SAYS LAND WAS SECURED UNLAWFULLY

Entries of Farming and Grazing Land Made Under Desert Land Act in Places Where Irrigation is Impossible.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—Special Agent Chadwick of the general land office has filed a report with the commissioner, recommending the withdrawal of land in the Great Falls (Mont.) land office from entry under the desert land laws. He says that the land is not desert in character and that the settlers secure abundant crops of hay and grain without irrigation. He says that many entries of land under the desert land law have been made. He said:

How the entry men could have made entry to the question as to whether the land required irrigation, I do not know. Many tracts have entered as desert, which are excellent farming and grazing land in character. Neither the letter nor the spirit of the desert land law is complied with. To get title is often the sole aim of the settler.

He says there are no streams in the region from which water can be taken for irrigation and that in order to comply with the law, witnesses were called in after snowmelt and finding water standing in furrows which had been plowed for the purpose they were able to say that they had seen "water on the land."

The order of withdrawal was made upon the strength of the report and it also contemplated a closer inspection of the proof in cases arising in the district in which entries have already been made.

GOSSIP ON COMMISSION ROW

Nuts Are Coming in from the Woods for Thanksgiving and Christmas.

The closed season for the various kinds of nuts is over, and the market hunter is bringing a supply and the commission men are not afraid to handle them. A lovely assortment was displayed Tuesday. The cleanest and freshest looking of the bunch were the California almonds. Beautiful. They are both soft shell and hard shell. The best of the nuts are refined. They are going to make a nice little rate to the grocers of from 15c to 15c according to the number taken. Later on we may expect the nuts from Spain, which are perhaps a little better in the soft shell grades. The nuts are not only talk to the other nuts in the sign language, for they come from Sicily. They are lovely this year, but only intend to sell for 10 or 12 cents, because there are yet plenty of old ones on hand. The new Brazil nuts and the Chile walnuts get on fine together and will mingle in many a nut sundae and caramel. The South American walnuts are jobbing at 12c to 12c, according to quality. Of the bleached and perhaps sweeter California walnuts, none are at for sale. The nuts are a lovely appetizer, so that new-comers will cash in at a 1 1/4 to 1 1/2 wholesale price. Texas is the birth-place of the pecans which have invaded the market. Something in the early life of these nuts has caused them to enclose themselves with a bitter shell of pessimism, but when this is penetrated they are found to be indeed likeable. For commercial purposes they are rated as mediums, large and gumbo and are marked to sell at from 10 to 15 cents. The new chestnuts which have been shipped this winter are very handsome and sound and will make a very pretty dining room picture framed with a bunch of raisins. Chestnuts are southerners and do a 14 to 15-cent wholesale business. Imported bluish-eyes chestnuts are the most desirable. The almonds will be in next week to return the stare of the curious with unblinking eyes. The black walnuts do not put on any side about foreign ancestors, but they get in the cake just the same.

Now is the busy season for the nuts as the grocers are stocking up for winter's business. The Thanksgiving and Christmas seasons will cut a big hole in the store and business will continue brisk all winter.

CUT DOWN THE STREET GANGS

City Officials Forced to Stop Much Repairing Because Funds Are Exhausted.

Fursuant to a request from Mayor Moore the board of public works yesterday reduced the number of men on its payroll to a minimum. This was done because most of the funds covering the expenses of the department have been exhausted. The street cleaning expenses were cut from $25,000 to $15,000. The inspectors, the entire force, were ordered relieved, and instructions given to discontinue all repair work on unpaved streets. Altogether about 100 men are thrown out of employment. The $2,000 appropriated by the council for repairs to streets and bridges caused by damage done by the heavy rains in August, has been exhausted, while the street cleaning fund scarcely will carry the reduced force through the present month. The sidewalk inspectors had been paid out of the general fund, which is used up. Plans for a number of crosswalks will have to be abandoned under the retrenchment. The unpaved streets are left in fairly good condition for the winter," said Chairman Rosewater. "Our fund for asphalt repairs will not enable more than half of the necessary work to be done and operations

ROSEBERY ON FREE TRADE

Declares It Life and Not Death of the British Empire.

QUESTIONS FACT OF FISCAL INQUIRY

Liberal Leader Replies to Chamberlain in speech Which Reflects the Prevailing Opinion of His Political Associates.

LONDON, Oct. 13.—Lord Rosebery spoke tonight at Sheffield, whether he went in order to definitely record his opposition to Mr. Chamberlain's fiscal policy. He was greeted with utmost enthusiasm about immense audience, which he held in rapid attention for an hour and a half.

His lordship delivered a characteristic speech of brilliant rhetorical denunciation of protection, interspersed with clever and acute criticisms of Mr. Chamberlain and the predicament in which he had placed the government.

The earl said he doubted if there had ever been a fiscal inquiry. The ministry had probably investigated, not the nation's commerce, but the constituencies. He deprecated a policy of retaliation which would land the empire in a contest with every nation in the civilized world, a contest to which Armageddon would be a friendly just. He held that free trade had not failed, but had been a great success. The tariff should be lowered and the government should tend to dislocate and probably dissolve the empire.

His lordship warned his hearers that they could not try such a policy and drop it if it failed. Protection once established could not be dropped and would bring in its train trusts, monopolies and probably corruption. If the country wanted to better itself, he continued, let it cultivate a scientific spirit and better education, and above all keep the universe for a reservoir of food and raw material.

Think Colonies Not Unprofitable. He ridiculed the idea that the colonies would cost not to establish new industries for the benefit of the United Kingdom. A fair and practical imperial tariff could not be devised and heaven protect them from the bad blood and jealousies that such an attempt would engender. He was very doubtful about the proposition that a fiscal should precede a political union. In any event what Mr. Chamberlain's friends ignored was that everything in the empire had been strong and successful because it was free and spontaneous. Lord Rosebery quoted Sir Wilfrid Laurier to the effect that not restricted trade, but the most absolute freedom, political and commercial, would succeed in building up the empire.

In conclusion, his lordship said that he could not forget the long agony with which the nation had passed from the protective system, which had brought it from the verge of famine and ruin into the better and freer conditions now prevailing. They could not risk this splendid result on a hazard of the political die. They could not leave the brilliant know under any circumstances of propaganda for the dark unknown. A storm of cheers greeted the earl's closing remarks.

PAWN CLOTHES THEY STEAL

Two Young Men Rob a Wardrobe and Get Thirty Days for Their Mischief.

Carl J. Bergquist, 208 Davenport, had about all his worldly possessions stolen last Saturday night. He had little but clothing, and after the raid had very little of that. He reported his loss to the police and Monday Bergquist's claim was found intact in an east tenth street pawnshop. Two young men, Charles Stark and Lee Johns, were picked up by the police on principle and were shortly after identified by the pawnshop proprietor as the two who had secured a loan on Bergquist's clothing. They were arraigned, and pleaded not guilty, but the evidence was so positive against them that Judge Berka gave both thirty days in the county jail to keep them out of temptation for that period at least. He said.

LOCATION OF NIGHT SCHOOLS

Kellom and Comenius Buildings Will Be Open After October 20.

Many inquiries are reaching the office of the superintendent of schools regarding the opening of the night schools. These schools will be located at the Kellom and Comenius buildings, at Twenty-third and Paul and Twenty-third and Williams streets, respectively, this year. They will be open on the evening of October 26 and sessions will last between the hours of 7:30 and 9:30. Arrangements for teachers, etc., have not been made and will not be until a day or so before the opening.

Automobile Breaks All Records.

WILLOUGHBY, O., Oct. 13.—F. B. Stearns of Cleveland, one of the automobilist staking his record in the endurance contest from New York to Pittsburgh, drove his twenty-four touring car today from Erie to this city in 11 hours and 15 minutes, which is three hours and thirteen minutes, which is said to break all records. The most of the other contestants have driven about half an hour behind Stearns.

ALMA, Neb., Oct. 13.—(Special Telegram.)—The rain which fell here yesterday morning, continuing all night and all day today. The ground is in fine shape and fall grain is doing well.

HOT BEVERAGES

What to Use in Place of Tea and Coffee.

Many drink tea and coffee against their better judgment, because they require a hot drink at meal time. They know that by the use of tea and coffee they are only drugging themselves but they struggle along and continue to use one or the other. To these people Postum is the only coffee that will help. For many people find well boiled Postum superior in flavor to coffee to say nothing of its great health restoring qualities. The effect upon those who leave off tea and coffee and take on Postum is very noticeable. The old ailments come, all such as heart trouble, kidney disease, nervousness and other ills soon disappear as if by magic. The Postum makes new red blood and this is shown in the rosy cheeks and clear complexion that replace the blotched sallow skin of the coffee drinker. A young school mite of Alma, Okla., says of Postum: "I have used it now for over a year and my complexion and general health show the change. Before that time I drank tea and coffee and my complexion was sallow and muddy. I also had almost constant dull headaches. Postum has helped me give up tea and coffee but hung onto them because I felt the need of a hot drink at meal times. "One day I heard Postum so well spoken of I decided to try it and I bless the day I did so. I dropped coffee and took up Postum and now my dull headaches have disappeared, my complexion is fresh and rosy, eyes bright and mind clear. I sleep well now and owe it all to using Postum in place of coffee."

The mission of the Young Ladies' Boarding House at the Alva Normal School has adopted Postum as a standard drink as she is positive the students study and get along better on Postum than on any other drink.

A lady, friend of mine had a son who was a frequent wreck due to his doctor said, to coffee. The lady tried Postum and the young man relished it so he drank it in preference to coffee and in a few weeks he was like an entirely new person. I know of a lady who gives her young man Postum. ### THINK CRABTREE IS INNOCENT

Superintendent Pearce and Others Do Not Believe Reports of Duplicitry.

Members of the Board of Education and officers of the school district of Omaha say that J. W. Crabtree, inspector of accredited high schools for the University of Nebraska, has never sought to use the influence of his position with them to secure the employment of teachers from his agency. That the inspector would be in a position to do so if he desired, the authorities here say they do not believe he is guilty of the coercion charged by W. D. Smith of St. Helena in a signed letter to The Bee. Superintendent Pearce said:

"It is true that Mr. Crabtree and Mr. Tompkins are not only in a teachers' employment bureau, but in a periodical called the Nebraska Teachers, and a publishing business as well. Mr. Crabtree, by virtue of his position as inspector of high schools, is in a position to grant favors to school boards if he so desires, but I have never heard that he used his influence as a club. The fact that scores of university graduates are being employed throughout the state without any connection with the agency would seem to indicate that the reports are false. As far as Omaha is concerned we have employed twenty or more university graduates as teachers since the Crabtree-Tompkins agency was started, and I think on one occasion only was the applicant recommended by the agency. The charges made by Mr. Smith are true it seems strange that I have not heard something about them from other school men in the state. Knowing the inspector as I do, I doubt the truth of the statements."

"Inspector Crabtree never has tried to use any influence over the committee in selecting teachers and never even suggested a name. It would be useless for him to try to influence the committee. He could not discredit the local high school even though he wanted to. As inspector of schools Mr. Crabtree examines and determines whether or not graduates may enter the State university, and the existing tests of scholarship. The standing of the local high school would prevent any imposition of this kind."

GERMANS SEND OVER FOR CORN

Raising Hogs Extensively and Look to Nebraska for Much of Their Feed.

Peter Hofeldt, chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, is in receipt of inquiries from heavy feeders of live stock in Germany, soliciting information as to the quality of the 1933 corn crop in this state. Mr. Hofeldt on his recent visit to Germany, his native home, was surprised to discover the extensive growth of the live stock industry, with especial reference to hogs, cattle and horses. Great care was observed in the rearing of hogs and in the effort to prepare them quickly for an early market. To the end they were fed on corn, the major portion of which is being purchased in this country. The introduction of the American hog into Germany has caused the Germans to attempt the rearing of the hog on large scales.

Cleanliness being regarded as an essential to the producing of a good market and ready sales, the more extensive breeders have housed their hogs in spacious brick buildings and from 100 to 200 hogs are fed in each of these. Corn is not cultivated to any extent in Germany and heavy pig manure is made in the United States. Mr. Hofeldt conferred with a number of the leading breeders while in Germany and is now in correspondence with them relative
