SULLIVAN PRESENTS PLEA

Certain that Democracy is the Only True Guide Star of Republic.

TARIFF AND TRUSTS HIS PRINCIPAL THEME

Takes a Few Shots at the Money Power in Parting—Hon. Lew T. Gorman Completes the Evening Program.

Democracy's candidate for governor of Iowa, Jeremiah B. Sullivan of Creston, was greeted last night on his initial public appearance in Council Bluffs with an audience which comfortably filled the lower floor of the opera house. The meeting could hardly be termed an enthusiastic one, although at times Mr. Sullivan was liberally applauded. There was quite a sprinkling of women in the audience and several were seated on the stage. Scattered through the audience were a goodly number of well known republicans. Of the seventy "vice presidents" appointed for the meeting by Chairman Miller of the county central committee but about fifteen put in an appearance and they were duly honored with seats on the stage. Former State Senator William Gronoweg acted as chairman and introduced the speakers.

Mr. Sullivan's address was substantially the same as he has delivered throughout the state since his nomination. He attacked the protective tariff, trusts and combines, the asset currency scheme, took a shot at what he termed the strenuousness of the home government and its attempt at imperialism abroad. Democracy, he insisted, was the sole steadfast defender of liberty and the champion of a liberty loving people.

In opening Mr. Sullivan said: "In what more noble task can a citizen engage than in presenting to his neighbors his conviction upon political questions or upon legislation which his government may be about to enact? While it is true that the prosperity of the country does not depend entirely upon statutory enactment, yet it goes without dispute that a great deal of the misery and unhappiness of a people can be traced to injudicious legislation. The splendid institutions of our country today are the outgrowth of this cautious and questioning vital affecting the development of the country. When a people ceases to take an interest in public matters, when they refuse to discuss with one another the important issues affecting their interests, then, indeed, are they passing away from the fundamental idea of a free government and are then permitting those who have not the interest of the body politic to govern and rule."

Strong on Salt.

As an illustration of the protective tariff being, as he termed, prohibitory, Mr. Sullivan referred to salt, which he designated as one of the prime necessities of life. He dwelt at length on salt saying among other things, that the duty on a barrel of salt at the present time is almost as much as the salt itself is worth and consequently, but little salt is imported, with the result that the producer has a monopoly of the home market at any price he wishes.
Turning from the tariff question, Mr. Sullivan took some shots at the Standard Oil people, J. Pierpont Morgan and the Steel trust and the Harvester Machine trust. After handling the trusts in vigorous manner he turned to the money question and spoke at some length on this. Referring to the Aldrich currency bill, he said that the enactment into law of the provisions of this bill would be ruinous to the prosperity of the country and would place additional powers in the hands of the national banks for the purpose of controlling the money of the country.

Then, striking out on another line, he claimed that democracy was the true and only friend of the laboring people and that while the laboring man was enjoying prosperity at present, he had not the republican party to thank for it.
Following Mr. Sullivan, Hon. Lew T.

Approve Ditch Appraisal.

The Board of Supervisors yesterday approved the report of Commissioners Hansen and Field, fixing the benefits to be assessed against the land in Potawatamie county affected by the Harrison-Potawatamie county drainage ditch. The board also practically decided to issue ten-year bonds, which will be payable in annual installments of principal and interest. The resolution providing for the issuance of the bonds will come before the board at its meeting this morning.

The supervisors yesterday morning visited the county poor farm near McClelland, on the line of the Great Western railroad, and inspected the buildings in course of construction. The walls of the main building and engine house are nearly completed and Contractor Wickham expects to have both buildings under roof before cold weather sets in. The total amount of the contract is between $10,000 and $20,000 and the architects' estimates call for the payment to Contractor Wickham for work to date of $6,000.

The board expects to complete its business this morning and adjourn.

Jury for District Court.

The following petit jury for the November term of district court in Council Bluffs was drawn yesterday as follows: Fred Blumer, C. G. Reese, Minden township; Peter Rief, Jr., Lewis township; William Stodgel, Rockford township; Peter Nelson, Henry Scott, Hazel Dell township; R. T. Ward, Boomer township; E. C. Bostwick, D. D. Hough, Greencreek township; J. P. Nelson, Neola township; Peter Danker, York township; N. G. Christensen, John A. Churchill, George F. Smith, T. A. Eaton, H. J. Palmer, Cliff Shearer, Thomas Berry, D. H. Klemmer, George Dalrymple, W. McFadden, H. J. DePries, C. C. Bump, V. E. Sillcott, Council Bluffs. The term will open November 4, with Judge Green on the bench, and the petit jury is summoned to appear November 12.

Laborer Drops Dead.

R. U. Scott, a laborer employed by Mark L. Williams, proprietor of the Broadway mills, dropped dead while at work yesterday afternoon. Scott was engaged in unloading a car of bran at the Northwestern yards when he suddenly pitched forward onto the top of the stack. The man working with him went to his assistance, but Scott was dead. Coroner Treyner was summoned and after examining the body decided that Scott had died from heart disease and that an insect was unnecessary. Scott was 45 years of age and with his family lived at 3201 West Broadway. His wife, two sons and four daughters survive him.

Changes in Cudahy Plants.

SIoux CITY, Ia., Oct. 15.—(Special Telegram.)—James H. Hale, who for eleven years has been superintendent of the Cudahy Packing company's plant, will go to Kansas City to take the superintendency of the same company's plant there at a largely increased salary. Mr. Hale came here from South Omaha and has made a fine record. He has been with the Cudahy company for twenty-one years. William Watson, assistant superintendent of the company's South Omaha plant, will succeed Mr. Hale in Sioux City.

Begins Heavy Damage Suit.

LOGAN, Ia., Oct. 15.—(Special.)—William Aisten, who owns large farms bordering on the Boyer river several miles north of Logan, has today brought suit for $10,000 by papers filed at the office of the clerk of the district court against the Logan Milling company for the alleged raising of the mill dam, which caused the river level to be raised, thereby flooding his lands and destroying crops. This is a test case and if Aisten is successful a number of other owners of damaged farms will bring suit.

DEMOCRATS OPEN CAMPAIGN

General Weaver and Ex-Governor Thomas Make the Principal Addresses.

COSTS MORE TO KEEP THE STATE WARDS

Des Moines Man Drops Dead in Street from Overexertion While Running to Catch a Street Car.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

DES MOINES, Oct. 15.—(Special.)—The democrats of this portion of the state got their political campaign started tonight with a meeting at the Auditorium, addressed by four speakers. They secured a fair audience, after much advertising, and the addresses were listened to attentively, since this is the first big rally held in this city for several years. C. O. Holley, a young lawyer of this city and a socialist, presided at the meeting. General James H. Weaver of Colfax spoke first, confining himself largely to state matters in a general way, referring to various local scandals and the increasing expense of the maintenance of the state. Ex-Governor C. S. Thomas of Colorado, who is here to appear before the supreme court tomorrow in the Portland Mining case, spoke briefly in relation to the present conditions of the democratic party. Judge M. J. Wade, congressman from the Second district, spoke at length and discussed the tariff and revenue and presented the view that the present tariff schedules are too high and that they are largely responsible for the existence of the trusts. H. C. Evans, democratic candidate for the house in this county, spoke on local and state issues, and took up the recent insurance matters in this state. The meeting was regarded as a first-class opening of the campaign on the democratic side, though there is as yet very little general interest in the campaign.

Report on Institutions.

The balance sheet of finances for the month of September shows that during the month there was paid out for the support of the state institutions and for all purposes in connection therewith the sum of $125,742.18, an increase of $4,083.32 over the corresponding month last year. There was an increase in the month of 196 at the state institutions. During the year there were increases as follows to the following totals in the classes of wards of the state: Increase of convicts, 19, a total of $21; Increase of inmates, 11, a total of 76; Increase of incorrigibles, 12, a total of 72; Increase of insane, 14, a total of 3,327.

Increase of Capital Stock.

The Coast Cypress and Railroad company of Muscatine gave notice to the secretary of state today of an increase of capital stock from $250,000 to $400,000. This is the company engaged in the southern lumber and logging trade under the direction of Ex-Congressman W. L. Roach of Muscatine and William Musser. The company is extending its lines in Arkansas.

The Western Stock company of Sioux City filed articles of incorporation today with $3,300 capital, by A. Goodside and others.

The Name of the Clinton Separator and Engine company has changed its name to the Lamb Boat and Engine company.

Died Chasing a Street Car.

W. N. Sheets, a resident of this city, 45 years old, died suddenly this morning under peculiar circumstances. He is day clerk at the Morgan house, and as he was a little late in getting out to the place where he usually takes a street car, he came down town he had to run several blocks. When within half a block of the street car he fell to the ground and died in a few minutes. He was a widower and lived with relatives. The doctors reported that there was nothing wrong with him beyond that his heart failed him from the exertion.

STUDENTS CHEER CLEVELAND

Makes Speech in Which He Says There is Still Room at the Top.

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—Ex-President Grover Cleveland was received with lusty cheers by the students of Armour institute today.

He made a speech in which he said:

I am a great stickler for higher education, but I want to tell you this: The opportunities today are greater than ever for boys to get a practical education—an industrial education—and I would rather my own boy grew up to build a great bridge like the Brooklyn bridge than to receive the highest honor that the people could bestow upon him.

I hate to hear persons talk in a pessimistic strain to the effect that the day of opportunity in this country has gone by and that the chances for a young man to rise by his own efforts have passed away. It is not true. There is room at the top and there always will be.
