

PUBLICITY

When properly directed brings fame and fortune to thousands of undertakers who otherwise are unknown to the world. The ability and experience required to successfully conduct a campaign of publicity comes only after years of labor and thought given to the work. It is not a matter of chance. It is a science. It is not a matter of chance. It is a science. It is not a matter of chance. It is a science.

Ability and experience necessary to plan a thoroughly successful campaign of publicity would be heartily handicapped if not associated with the ability to conduct the campaign of the work contemplated. For general advertising agents are in possession of the requirements that make a campaign successful, consequently those who are fully equipped are in constant demand. Their business grows with a swift and sure stride to competitors who are handicapped through lack of ability.

Among those who have been eminently successful, and who have followed the ladder step by step through the various stages of the business, is the Agency of Nelson, Chesman & Co., 1101 Broadway, New York, N. Y., who have been successful in securing the ability to plan a campaign of publicity backed with the industry, strength, and other accessories necessary to carry forward the work to perfect position.

Their success has been a result of their ability to plan a campaign of publicity backed with the industry, strength, and other accessories necessary to carry forward the work to perfect position.

Their success has been a result of their ability to plan a campaign of publicity backed with the industry, strength, and other accessories necessary to carry forward the work to perfect position.

Their success has been a result of their ability to plan a campaign of publicity backed with the industry, strength, and other accessories necessary to carry forward the work to perfect position.

Their success has been a result of their ability to plan a campaign of publicity backed with the industry, strength, and other accessories necessary to carry forward the work to perfect position.

Their success has been a result of their ability to plan a campaign of publicity backed with the industry, strength, and other accessories necessary to carry forward the work to perfect position.

Their success has been a result of their ability to plan a campaign of publicity backed with the industry, strength, and other accessories necessary to carry forward the work to perfect position.

Their success has been a result of their ability to plan a campaign of publicity backed with the industry, strength, and other accessories necessary to carry forward the work to perfect position.

Their success has been a result of their ability to plan a campaign of publicity backed with the industry, strength, and other accessories necessary to carry forward the work to perfect position.

Their success has been a result of their ability to plan a campaign of publicity backed with the industry, strength, and other accessories necessary to carry forward the work to perfect position.

Their success has been a result of their ability to plan a campaign of publicity backed with the industry, strength, and other accessories necessary to carry forward the work to perfect position.

Their success has been a result of their ability to plan a campaign of publicity backed with the industry, strength, and other accessories necessary to carry forward the work to perfect position.

Their success has been a result of their ability to plan a campaign of publicity backed with the industry, strength, and other accessories necessary to carry forward the work to perfect position.

Their success has been a result of their ability to plan a campaign of publicity backed with the industry, strength, and other accessories necessary to carry forward the work to perfect position.

Their success has been a result of their ability to plan a campaign of publicity backed with the industry, strength, and other accessories necessary to carry forward the work to perfect position.

Their success has been a result of their ability to plan a campaign of publicity backed with the industry, strength, and other accessories necessary to carry forward the work to perfect position.

Their success has been a result of their ability to plan a campaign of publicity backed with the industry, strength, and other accessories necessary to carry forward the work to perfect position.

Their success has been a result of their ability to plan a campaign of publicity backed with the industry, strength, and other accessories necessary to carry forward the work to perfect position.

Their success has been a result of their ability to plan a campaign of publicity backed with the industry, strength, and other accessories necessary to carry forward the work to perfect position.

Their success has been a result of their ability to plan a campaign of publicity backed with the industry, strength, and other accessories necessary to carry forward the work to perfect position.

Their success has been a result of their ability to plan a campaign of publicity backed with the industry, strength, and other accessories necessary to carry forward the work to perfect position.

LOCAL ASPECT OF STRIKE

Some Delay in Perishable Goods and Lack of Messenger.

MEN HERE ARE STILL AT WORK, HOWEVER

Pacific Express Company Free from Headlines in Omaha While Tied Up in Many Other Cities.

The strike among the employees of the Pacific Express company, although not affecting the territory assigned to Omaha, is a serious matter. As is known, the Pacific Express company is controlled by the Great Interior. The Western and Missouri Pacific trains came in from Kansas City and St. Louis Friday without messengers on them and a lot of men immediately sent to take their places. The messengers were placed on the several trains to these points, but when the trains returned yesterday they were again minus the messengers.

Orders have been received by the local officials not to accept any perishable goods for shipment and to send all money by mail to its destination, using government money orders.

The board of directors at its meeting held Friday in St. Louis refused to grant the demands of the men. Erastus Young, general auditor of the Union Pacific, attended the meeting. Besides President James E. McGee, of the Pacific Express company, C. G. Warner, of the Missouri Pacific, E. E. Pryor, of the Western and S. E. Schuyler, of the Missouri Pacific.

Messengers have been making from $50 to $60 per month, porters have been paid from $40 to $50 and the drivers from $30 to $40 per month. These employees demand an increase of 10 per cent.

The order not to accept perishable goods caused some little trouble Friday in the shipment of cream, but the order was rescinded late in the day and now the Nebraska lines are carrying whatever is offered. The Nebraska-John Creamery company was affected, but it is getting its cream all right now.

"Murray Creek did not get in Friday," said C. L. Porter, who has charge of the route, "and neither did Elkhor. Papihan we brought here in our wagons. The express company had ordered its agents to refuse perishable goods for fear there would be nobody on the trains to receive them. So we did not get our cream loaded at these places. But we had time to make an arrangement for the waterloo consignment and Mr. Patterson fixed it up so we got that cream. Everything is all right now."

The Fairmont Creamery company has had no difficulty in Nebraska, but has missed one day on the Western and was out of from its Iowa and Missouri supply. Saturday, according to the management, the cream arrived over that line without trouble.

Employees of the express company in this city say that they have practically no organization and that no action has been taken toward a strike. Some of them say they have no reason for striking.

Superintendent George D. Patterson of the Pacific Express company is out of town, having started Friday evening on a round of his district, which comprises Nebraska and Colorado. In regard to the strike situation Herbert F. Estes, local agent, said: "We have had no trouble here and expect none. The men have stood by the company nobly. About October 1 we called them together and asked them whether they would stay with the company or strike and they stayed."

"Our line is open for all kinds of business from Council Bluffs to Portland, Ore., and we hope to have the St. Louis and straightened out soon. It looks good, because the general manager has not asked us how many men we could spare him."

SUES FOR ALLEGED FRAUD
Parties File Action Against Omaha Loan and Trust Company in District Court.

Papers were filed by Bryce K. Arthur and Agnes H. Arthur in the district court today, asking a writ of attachment against the Omaha Loan and Trust company. The petition alleges fraud. It is stated that July 1, 1903, the plaintiffs executed and delivered to the defendant a note for $10,000, payable July 1, 1904, and a mortgage on certain real estate in Nance county, Nebraska.

It is alleged that the knowledge of the plaintiffs the defendant, July 20, 1903, assigned said note and mortgage to Mary R. Miller, and that not having knowledge or notice of said assignment and transfer, the plaintiffs, July 1, 1904, paid the defendant the sum of $10,000, the same to be applied on the above note and mortgage. It is further alleged that the defendant failed to apply this sum on the note and mortgage, but fraudulently retained said amount and appropriated the same to its own use.

For these reasons judgment in the sum of $10,000 with 7 per cent interest is asked by the plaintiffs and to secure the payment of this sum an attachment is requested.

SIGN NO CONTRACT OR BONDS
County Commissioners Make Van Court Wait Because of No Advertisement.

Putnam to call the county commissioners met in special session yesterday, and took up the matter of bids for the repair work on the county roads. The contract for this work had previously been awarded E. D. Van Court. Other contractors objected to this on the ground that the bids had not been advertised. The commissioners had not been advertised. The commissioners therefore refused to draw up a contract with Mr. Van Court or to approve his bid. At their session the commissioners rejected all bids and will advertise for bids, which must be handed to the commissioners before their regular meeting next Saturday.

Immune Italian Locked Up
Joe Chiffino, an Italian, otherwise known as the "Milkmaid man," who was sent to Lincoln, is back in the city. Officers Sanderson and Mansfield discovered him in the back lane last night, and he was arrested. He was found with a bundle of milk. The police are now investigating with a view to his removal. It is known how he secured the animal and how.

Deaths of Owen Vessels Oct. 16.
At New York—Arrived: Auguste Victoria, from Hamburg, Southampton and Cherbourg. Sailed: Seattle for Liverpool.

At Liverpool—Arrived: Germania, from New York via Queenstown. Sailed: Arabia, for New York.

At Queenstown—Arrived: Mayflower, from Liverpool and London. Sailed: At Merville—Sailed: Astoria, for New York. Sailed: Bavaria, for Montreal.

At London—Arrived: Australia, from San Francisco for Hamburg.

At Hamburg—Arrived: La Touraine, from New York.

At Hamburg—Arrived: Pennsylvania, from New York.

At Antwerp—Sailed: Memphis, for San Francisco.

At New York—Sailed: Prince Consort, for New York.

APATHY THE ONLY DANGER

Republicans Certain to Win if They Will Attend to the Voting.

"Apathy among republicans is the only thing that can beat us in Douglas county and in the Fourth judicial district this campaign," said W. A. Redick, nominee for judge of the district court in the First Ward Republican club last night. "I have noticed the apathy with apprehension and I fear the republicans are relying too much on a reunited party and suffering from over-confidence. While it is true that the party presents a solid front, yet we cannot elect our men if the voters stay at home. The first day's registration shows a gratifying ratio of republicans to democrats but it does not show half the number of republicans that it should. Every man should get out and register and remember to vote."

The meeting was held at the Lincoln hall at the corner of Sixth and Pierce streets. It was the first meeting of the First ward club since the convention and the evidence went to back up the statement of E. J. Cornish that the republicans would vote for and work for the straight through. Mr. Cornish gave up part of his remarks to words in favor of the judicial ticket. He said he had not found a single republican lawyer in the society who supported the so-called "non-partisan" patchwork. Statements by the democratic press that some of the republican candidates for the bench are incompetent are not without truth, Mr. Cornish declared, and he scored the candidates who, after trying for republican nominations, accepted nominations at the hands of an opposing party. In this guise, the speaker said, they attempt to injure the organization that has made them. He urged effective work this fall to strengthen the party for the future.

Police Judge Berke, candidate for reelection, said things never looked brighter for republicans in Douglas county. M. J. Kennard, nominee for county commissioner, promised to use the same case in the routine of ward workers for this campaign as was busy from the opening of the polls at noon until their closing at 7 o'clock, plugging for the "non-political" machine's slate. Much chagrin and disappointment was felt by the combine over the defeat of Willis. The results by wards were:

Police Judge Berke, candidate for reelection, said things never looked brighter for republicans in Douglas county. M. J. Kennard, nominee for county commissioner, promised to use the same case in the routine of ward workers for this campaign as was busy from the opening of the polls at noon until their closing at 7 o'clock, plugging for the "non-political" machine's slate. Much chagrin and disappointment was felt by the combine over the defeat of Willis. The results by wards were:

Police Judge Berke, candidate for reelection, said things never looked brighter for republicans in Douglas county. M. J. Kennard, nominee for county commissioner, promised to use the same case in the routine of ward workers for this campaign as was busy from the opening of the polls at noon until their closing at 7 o'clock, plugging for the "non-political" machine's slate. Much chagrin and disappointment was felt by the combine over the defeat of Willis. The results by wards were:

Police Judge Berke, candidate for reelection, said things never looked brighter for republicans in Douglas county. M. J. Kennard, nominee for county commissioner, promised to use the same case in the routine of ward workers for this campaign as was busy from the opening of the polls at noon until their closing at 7 o'clock, plugging for the "non-political" machine's slate. Much chagrin and disappointment was felt by the combine over the defeat of Willis. The results by wards were:

Police Judge Berke, candidate for reelection, said things never looked brighter for republicans in Douglas county. M. J. Kennard, nominee for county commissioner, promised to use the same case in the routine of ward workers for this campaign as was busy from the opening of the polls at noon until their closing at 7 o'clock, plugging for the "non-political" machine's slate. Much chagrin and disappointment was felt by the combine over the defeat of Willis. The results by wards were:

Police Judge Berke, candidate for reelection, said things never looked brighter for republicans in Douglas county. M. J. Kennard, nominee for county commissioner, promised to use the same case in the routine of ward workers for this campaign as was busy from the opening of the polls at noon until their closing at 7 o'clock, plugging for the "non-political" machine's slate. Much chagrin and disappointment was felt by the combine over the defeat of Willis. The results by wards were:

Police Judge Berke, candidate for reelection, said things never looked brighter for republicans in Douglas county. M. J. Kennard, nominee for county commissioner, promised to use the same case in the routine of ward workers for this campaign as was busy from the opening of the polls at noon until their closing at 7 o'clock, plugging for the "non-political" machine's slate. Much chagrin and disappointment was felt by the combine over the defeat of Willis. The results by wards were:

Police Judge Berke, candidate for reelection, said things never looked brighter for republicans in Douglas county. M. J. Kennard, nominee for county commissioner, promised to use the same case in the routine of ward workers for this campaign as was busy from the opening of the polls at noon until their closing at 7 o'clock, plugging for the "non-political" machine's slate. Much chagrin and disappointment was felt by the combine over the defeat of Willis. The results by wards were:

Police Judge Berke, candidate for reelection, said things never looked brighter for republicans in Douglas county. M. J. Kennard, nominee for county commissioner, promised to use the same case in the routine of ward workers for this campaign as was busy from the opening of the polls at noon until their closing at 7 o'clock, plugging for the "non-political" machine's slate. Much chagrin and disappointment was felt by the combine over the defeat of Willis. The results by wards were:

Police Judge Berke, candidate for reelection, said things never looked brighter for republicans in Douglas county. M. J. Kennard, nominee for county commissioner, promised to use the same case in the routine of ward workers for this campaign as was busy from the opening of the polls at noon until their closing at 7 o'clock, plugging for the "non-political" machine's slate. Much chagrin and disappointment was felt by the combine over the defeat of Willis. The results by wards were:

Police Judge Berke, candidate for reelection, said things never looked brighter for republicans in Douglas county. M. J. Kennard, nominee for county commissioner, promised to use the same case in the routine of ward workers for this campaign as was busy from the opening of the polls at noon until their closing at 7 o'clock, plugging for the "non-political" machine's slate. Much chagrin and disappointment was felt by the combine over the defeat of Willis. The results by wards were:

Police Judge Berke, candidate for reelection, said things never looked brighter for republicans in Douglas county. M. J. Kennard, nominee for county commissioner, promised to use the same case in the routine of ward workers for this campaign as was busy from the opening of the polls at noon until their closing at 7 o'clock, plugging for the "non-political" machine's slate. Much chagrin and disappointment was felt by the combine over the defeat of Willis. The results by wards were:

Police Judge Berke, candidate for reelection, said things never looked brighter for republicans in Douglas county. M. J. Kennard, nominee for county commissioner, promised to use the same case in the routine of ward workers for this campaign as was busy from the opening of the polls at noon until their closing at 7 o'clock, plugging for the "non-political" machine's slate. Much chagrin and disappointment was felt by the combine over the defeat of Willis. The results by wards were:

Police Judge Berke, candidate for reelection, said things never looked brighter for republicans in Douglas county. M. J. Kennard, nominee for county commissioner, promised to use the same case in the routine of ward workers for this campaign as was busy from the opening of the polls at noon until their closing at 7 o'clock, plugging for the "non-political" machine's slate. Much chagrin and disappointment was felt by the combine over the defeat of Willis. The results by wards were:

Police Judge Berke, candidate for reelection, said things never looked brighter for republicans in Douglas county. M. J. Kennard, nominee for county commissioner, promised to use the same case in the routine of ward workers for this campaign as was busy from the opening of the polls at noon until their closing at 7 o'clock, plugging for the "non-political" machine's slate. Much chagrin and disappointment was felt by the combine over the defeat of Willis. The results by wards were:

Police Judge Berke, candidate for reelection, said things never looked brighter for republicans in Douglas county. M. J. Kennard, nominee for county commissioner, promised to use the same case in the routine of ward workers for this campaign as was busy from the opening of the polls at noon until their closing at 7 o'clock, plugging for the "non-political" machine's slate. Much chagrin and disappointment was felt by the combine over the defeat of Willis. The results by wards were:

Police Judge Berke, candidate for reelection, said things never looked brighter for republicans in Douglas county. M. J. Kennard, nominee for county commissioner, promised to use the same case in the routine of ward workers for this campaign as was busy from the opening of the polls at noon until their closing at 7 o'clock, plugging for the "non-political" machine's slate. Much chagrin and disappointment was felt by the combine over the defeat of Willis. The results by wards were:

Police Judge Berke, candidate for reelection, said things never looked brighter for republicans in Douglas county. M. J. Kennard, nominee for county commissioner, promised to use the same case in the routine of ward workers for this campaign as was busy from the opening of the polls at noon until their closing at 7 o'clock, plugging for the "non-political" machine's slate. Much chagrin and disappointment was felt by the combine over the defeat of Willis. The results by wards were:

Police Judge Berke, candidate for reelection, said things never looked brighter for republicans in Douglas county. M. J. Kennard, nominee for county commissioner, promised to use the same case in the routine of ward workers for this campaign as was busy from the opening of the polls at noon until their closing at 7 o'clock, plugging for the "non-political" machine's slate. Much chagrin and disappointment was felt by the combine over the defeat of Willis. The results by wards were:

Police Judge Berke, candidate for reelection, said things never looked brighter for republicans in Douglas county. M. J. Kennard, nominee for county commissioner, promised to use the same case in the routine of ward workers for this campaign as was busy from the opening of the polls at noon until their closing at 7 o'clock, plugging for the "non-political" machine's slate. Much chagrin and disappointment was felt by the combine over the defeat of Willis. The results by wards were:

Police Judge Berke, candidate for reelection, said things never looked brighter for republicans in Douglas county. M. J. Kennard, nominee for county commissioner, promised to use the same case in the routine of ward workers for this campaign as was busy from the opening of the polls at noon until their closing at 7 o'clock, plugging for the "non-political" machine's slate. Much chagrin and disappointment was felt by the combine over the defeat of Willis. The results by wards were:

Police Judge Berke, candidate for reelection, said things never looked brighter for republicans in Douglas county. M. J. Kennard, nominee for county commissioner, promised to use the same case in the routine of ward workers for this campaign as was busy from the opening of the polls at noon until their closing at 7 o'clock, plugging for the "non-political" machine's slate. Much chagrin and disappointment was felt by the combine over the defeat of Willis. The results by wards were:

Police Judge Berke, candidate for reelection, said things never looked brighter for republicans in Douglas county. M. J. Kennard, nominee for county commissioner, promised to use the same case in the routine of ward workers for this campaign as was busy from the opening of the polls at noon until their closing at 7 o'clock, plugging for the "non-political" machine's slate. Much chagrin and disappointment was felt by the combine over the defeat of Willis. The results by wards were:

Police Judge Berke, candidate for reelection, said things never looked brighter for republicans in Douglas county. M. J. Kennard, nominee for county commissioner, promised to use the same case in the routine of ward workers for this campaign as was busy from the opening of the polls at noon until their closing at 7 o'clock, plugging for the "non-political" machine's slate. Much chagrin and disappointment was felt by the combine over the defeat of Willis. The results by wards were:

NOMINEES FOR SCHOOL BOARD

Pearse-Burgess Slate Goes Through, with Only One Exception.

LIGHT VOTE CAST IN EVERY WARD

Few Women Exercise the Privilege of Voting and the Affairs are Marked Only by Combines Activity.

Republican School Board Candidates. J. H. VANCE, Eighth Ward; H. K. KREIDER, Seventh Ward; TRIMBLE, JOHNSON, Sixth Ward; W. MAYNARD, Fifth Ward; JOHN L. McCAGUE, Fourth Ward; E. A. WILHELM, Third Ward.

The only one of the Pearce-Burgess slate candidates who failed to land a nomination for member of the Board of Education in the republican primaries Friday, John L. McCague of the Fourth ward was the man who broke over the deadline. The successful candidates, their wards and standings are indicated above. The number of votes by wards and the totals for each may be seen in the tabulation below. The slate managers had the political machinery of the school board well organized and also had money to spend.

Everything considered, a light vote was polled. The women did not exercise their privilege of the franchise as freely as was expected they would. For instance, in the First ward where a total of 134 votes were cast, but sixteen women voted and in the eighth ward where the total was 211 only twenty-two women took advantage of their suffrage.

Pearse and Burgess Busy.
Intense interest and strenuous activity were exercised in the primaries, chiefly by Superintendent Pearce and Secretary Burgess and their satellites, who were out in full force, distributing loads of green ballots,—"sample ballots"—doing what they could to perpetuate a "non-political" spirit of education. The use of the name of the school board in the routine of ward workers for this campaign was busy from the opening of the polls at noon until their closing at 7 o'clock, plugging for the "non-political" machine's slate. Much chagrin and disappointment was felt by the combine over the defeat of Willis. The results by wards were:

Police Judge Berke, candidate for reelection, said things never looked brighter for republicans in Douglas county. M. J. Kennard, nominee for county commissioner, promised to use the same case in the routine of ward workers for this campaign as was busy from the opening of the polls at noon until their closing at 7 o'clock, plugging for the "non-political" machine's slate. Much chagrin and disappointment was felt by the combine over the defeat of Willis. The results by wards were:

Police Judge Berke, candidate for reelection, said things never looked brighter for republicans in Douglas county. M. J. Kennard, nominee for county commissioner, promised to use the same case in the routine of ward workers for this campaign as was busy from the opening of the polls at noon until their closing at 7 o'clock, plugging for the "non-political" machine's slate. Much chagrin and disappointment was felt by the combine over the defeat of Willis. The results by wards were:

Police Judge Berke, candidate for reelection, said things never looked brighter for republicans in Douglas county. M. J. Kennard, nominee for county commissioner, promised to use the same case in the routine of ward workers for this campaign as was busy from the opening of the polls at noon until their closing at 7 o'clock, plugging for the "non-political" machine's slate. Much chagrin and disappointment was felt by the combine over the defeat of Willis. The results by wards were:

Police Judge Berke, candidate for reelection, said things never looked brighter for republicans in Douglas county. M. J. Kennard, nominee for county commissioner, promised to use the same case in the routine of ward workers for this campaign as was busy from the opening of the polls at noon until their closing at 7 o'clock, plugging for the "non-political" machine's slate. Much chagrin and disappointment was felt by the combine over the defeat of Willis. The results by wards were:

Police Judge Berke, candidate for reelection, said things never looked brighter for republicans in Douglas county. M. J. Kennard, nominee for county commissioner, promised to use the same case in the routine of ward workers for this campaign as was busy from the opening of the polls at noon until their closing at 7 o'clock, plugging for the "non-political" machine's slate. Much chagrin and disappointment was felt by the combine over the defeat of Willis. The results by wards were:

Police Judge Berke, candidate for reelection, said things never looked brighter for republicans in Douglas county. M. J. Kennard, nominee for county commissioner, promised to use the same case in the routine of ward workers for this campaign as was busy from the opening of the polls at noon until their closing at 7 o'clock, plugging for the "non-political" machine's slate. Much chagrin and disappointment was felt by the combine over the defeat of Willis. The results by wards were:

Police Judge Berke, candidate for reelection, said things never looked brighter for republicans in Douglas county. M. J. Kennard, nominee for county commissioner, promised to use the same case in the routine of ward workers for this campaign as was busy from the opening of the polls at noon until their closing at 7 o'clock, plugging for the "non-political" machine's slate. Much chagrin and disappointment was felt by the combine over the defeat of Willis. The results by wards were:

Police Judge Berke, candidate for reelection, said things never looked brighter for republicans in Douglas county. M. J. Kennard, nominee for county commissioner, promised to use the same case in the routine of ward workers for this campaign as was busy from the opening of the polls at noon until their closing at 7 o'clock, plugging for the "non-political" machine's slate. Much chagrin and disappointment was felt by the combine over the defeat of Willis. The results by wards were:

Police Judge Berke, candidate for reelection, said things never looked brighter for republicans in Douglas county. M. J. Kennard, nominee for county commissioner, promised to use the same case in the routine of ward workers for this campaign as was busy from the opening of the polls at noon until their closing at 7 o'clock, plugging for the "non-political" machine's slate. Much chagrin and disappointment was felt by the combine over the defeat of Willis. The results by wards were:

Police Judge Berke, candidate for reelection, said things never looked brighter for republicans in Douglas county. M. J. Kennard, nominee for county commissioner, promised to use the same case in the routine of ward workers for this campaign as was busy from the opening of the polls at noon until their closing at 7 o'clock, plugging for the "non-political" machine's slate. Much chagrin and disappointment was felt by the combine over the defeat of Willis. The results by wards were:

Police Judge Berke, candidate for reelection, said things never looked brighter for republicans in Douglas county. M. J. Kennard, nominee for county commissioner, promised to use the same case in the routine of ward workers for this campaign as was busy from the opening of the polls at noon until their closing at 7 o'clock, plugging for the "non-political" machine's slate. Much chagrin and disappointment was felt by the combine over the defeat of Willis. The results by wards were:

Police Judge Berke, candidate for reelection, said things never looked brighter for republicans in Douglas county. M. J. Kennard, nominee for county commissioner, promised to use the same case in the routine of ward workers for this campaign as was busy from the opening of the polls at noon until their closing at 7 o'clock, plugging for the "non-political" machine's slate. Much chagrin and disappointment was felt by the combine over the defeat of Willis. The results by wards were:

Police Judge Berke, candidate for reelection, said things never looked brighter for republicans in Douglas county. M. J. Kennard, nominee for county commissioner, promised to use the same case in the routine of ward workers for this campaign as was busy from the opening of the polls at noon until their closing at 7 o'clock, plugging for the "non-political" machine's slate. Much chagrin and disappointment was felt by the combine over the defeat of Willis. The results by wards were:

Police Judge Berke, candidate for reelection, said things never looked brighter for republicans in Douglas county. M. J. Kennard, nominee for county commissioner, promised to use the same case in the routine of ward workers for this campaign as was busy from the opening of the polls at noon until their closing at 7 o'clock, plugging for the "non-political" machine's slate. Much chagrin and disappointment was felt by the combine over the defeat of Willis. The results by wards were:

Police Judge Berke, candidate for reelection, said things never looked brighter for republicans in Douglas county. M. J. Kennard, nominee for county commissioner, promised to use the same case in the routine of ward workers for this campaign as was busy from the opening of the polls at noon until their closing at 7 o'clock, plugging for the "non-political" machine's slate. Much chagrin and disappointment was felt by the combine over the defeat of Willis. The results by wards were:

Police Judge Berke, candidate for reelection, said things never looked brighter for republicans in Douglas county. M. J. Kennard, nominee for county commissioner, promised to use the same case in the routine of ward workers for this campaign as was busy from the opening of the polls at noon until their closing at 7 o'clock, plugging for the "non-political" machine's slate. Much chagrin and disappointment was felt by the combine over the defeat of Willis. The results by wards were:

Police Judge Berke, candidate for reelection, said things never looked brighter for republicans in Douglas county. M. J. Kennard, nominee for county commissioner, promised to use the same case in the routine of ward workers for this campaign as was busy from the opening of the polls at noon until their closing at 7 o'clock, plugging for the "non-political" machine's slate. Much chagrin and disappointment was felt by the combine over the defeat of Willis. The results by wards were:

Police Judge Berke, candidate for reelection, said things never looked brighter for republicans in Douglas county. M. J. Kennard, nominee for county commissioner, promised to use the same case in the routine of ward workers for this campaign as was busy from the opening of the polls at noon until their closing at 7 o'clock, plugging for the "non-political" machine's slate. Much chagrin and disappointment was felt by the combine over the defeat of Willis. The results by wards were:

Police Judge Berke, candidate for reelection, said things never looked brighter for republicans in Douglas county. M. J. Kennard, nominee for county commissioner, promised to use the same case in the routine of ward workers for this campaign as was busy from the opening of the polls at noon until their closing at 7 o'clock, plugging for the "non-political" machine's slate. Much chagrin and disappointment was felt by the combine over the defeat of Willis. The results by wards were:

Police Judge Berke, candidate for reelection, said things never looked brighter for republicans in Douglas county. M. J. Kennard, nominee for county commissioner, promised to use the same case in the routine of ward workers for this campaign as was busy from the opening of the polls at noon until their closing at 7 o'clock, plugging for the "non-political" machine's slate. Much chagrin and disappointment was felt by the combine over the defeat of Willis. The results by wards were:

Police Judge Berke, candidate for reelection, said things never looked brighter for republicans in Douglas county. M. J. Kennard, nominee for county commissioner, promised to use the same case in the routine of ward workers for this campaign as was busy from the opening of the polls at noon until their closing at 7 o'clock, plugging for the "non-political" machine's slate. Much chagrin and disappointment was felt by the combine over the defeat of Willis. The results by wards were:

Police Judge Berke, candidate for reelection, said things never looked brighter for republicans in Douglas county. M. J. Kennard, nominee for county commissioner, promised to use the same case in the routine of ward workers for this campaign as was busy from the opening of the polls at noon until their closing at 7 o'clock, plugging for the "non-political" machine's slate. Much chagrin and disappointment was felt by the combine over the defeat of Willis. The results by wards were:

Police Judge Berke, candidate for reelection, said things never looked brighter for republicans in Douglas county. M. J. Kennard, nominee for county commissioner, promised to use the same case in the routine of ward workers for this campaign as was busy from the opening of the polls at noon until their closing at 7 o'clock, plugging for the "non-political" machine's slate. Much chagrin and disappointment was felt by the combine over the defeat of Willis. The results by wards were:

STREET LIGHTS AND WALKS

Omaha View Improvements Express Demands for Some City Revenues.

The Omaha View Improvement club met Friday night with a large attendance and President Callahan in the chair. The side-walks on Ohio street near Thirty-third were reported in an extremely bad condition and where any improvements had been made at all they were practically useless because of the adjacent sections of sidewalk being almost impassable. The club resolved to get after non-resident property owners to compel them or their agents to make sidewalk improvements along their property.

It was reported that the gasoline lamps along Ohio street from the railroad to Thirty-second street are not lighted half the time. Lights are badly needed at Thirty-third and Lake, Thirty-fourth and