

THE OMAHA DAILY BEE

R. ROSEWATER, EDITOR.

PUBLISHED EVERY MORNING.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION. Daily Bee (without Sunday), One Year, $4.00...

DELIVERED BY CARRIER. Daily Bee (without Sunday), per copy, 5c...

OFFICES. Omaha—The Bee Building, South Omaha—City Hall Building...

CORRESPONDENCE. Communications relative to news and editorial matter should be addressed: Omaha Bee, Editorial Department.

REMITTANCES. Remit by draft, express or postal order payable to The Bee Publishing Company.

STATEMENT OF CIRCULATION. State of Nebraska, Douglas County, ss. George B. Tschuck, secretary of The Bee Publishing Company...

Table with 2 columns: Date and Circulation figures. Rows include dates from 10/1 to 10/21 and total figures.

Net total sales, $52,744. Net average sales, $38,424.

Published by G. ROSEWATER, at the Omaha Bee Building, Omaha, Neb.

Second registration day tomorrow. Mark it down.

When the flour mills projected by President Stickney come to grind there will be a market for grain in Omaha.

The award in the Alaskan boundary arbitration looks pretty big. But just wait until the distinguished lawyers who argued the case present their bill.

Dowie threatens to keep the newspaper reporters out of his meetings. In doing this he is making sure of having reports of his meetings in the newspapers.

Tillman has not yet offered himself as a candidate for some elective office to vindicate his killing of Editor Gonales.

Colonel Bryan has been making several speeches to boost the Ohio campaign, but he has not yet said a word in Nebraska this year.

Good wine needs no bush. Candidates for the republican state judicial and county tickets do not have to hunt for certainties of eligibility and expressions of confidence in the highways and byways.

Commissioner Utz has been dispatched by the Commercial club to Kansas City to look after the railroads, but the traffic managers are not very seriously disturbed over the movements of the commissioner.

Now that the Chicago Great Western has secured its right-of-way, it is to be hoped that it will proceed with its promised improvements as rapidly as money invested in muscle, stone, brick, iron and mortar will permit.

Admit that the democrats put up some decent candidates on their county ticket, yet they have no right to expect republican votes when the republicans have nominated against them equally well reputed and better qualified men.

The only way for Canada to enforce its claims to the disputed Alaskan territory that has been awarded to the United States is to seek annexation into Uncle Sam's family.

The Indian summer weather will doubtless reduce the profits of the coal combine, but so long as the combine can raise and fix prices without restraint the consumer will have to make up for the shrinkage in consumption by increase of price.

San Francisco will show the bankers how to spend their money. It has previously practiced up on the Christian Endeavorers, Knights Templar and conventions of other national organizations supposed to be persuaded to let loose only with difficulty.

Omaha business men who are very much perturbed over the drastic provisions of the new revenue law and the prospective increase of taxes should place the responsibility where it belongs—upon the shoulders of the railroad lawyers and lobbyists who notoriously framed the obnoxious bill so as to legalize railroad tax shrinking.

The president's message convening congress specifies the ratification of the Cuban reciprocity treaty as the special purpose for the early meeting. When congress once comes together, however, there is nothing to prevent the two houses from taking up any measures they feel disposed to grapple with.

CANADIAN ANNEXATION TALK.

It will not be at all surprising if the decision of the Alaskan Boundary commission shall produce more or less interest in the subject of the annexation of Canada to the United States.

The very general feeling of dissatisfaction in Canada, probably more pronounced than the dispatches indicate, in regard to the boundary decision, is by no means unlikely to provoke a sentiment unfavorable to the imperialistic idea which has been paramount for the last few years.

It is not to be confidently assumed, however, that the drift or trend of Canadian sentiment will be in the direction of annexation to the United States. It will be rather toward independence—the establishment of a Canadian republic, for which that country is very much better prepared than were the American colonies and to the accomplishment of which it is probable the British government would make no very great resistance.

Some of the European correspondents assert that the eyes of Europe are upon the United States in regard to conditions in the far east. It is declared to be the opinion of old world diplomacy that the development of the American policy in the far east will have a crucial effect upon that complicated and dangerous situation.

We believe that it can be admitted without a single qualification that it is in the interest of the United States to see that nothing is done by Russia or any other European power that will militate against the interests of the commercial nations in China.

William A. Redick is a young man, born and raised in Omaha, where he has practiced law successfully for many years. He once held a responsible position as deputy under Judge Crouse, when the latter was collector of customs for this district, and he has also served as deputy in the county attorney's office.

Andrew G. Troup has lived in Omaha for more than twenty years, during which time he has achieved a wide and favorable acquaintance. He, too, has served as assistant to the county attorney, discharging his duties faithfully and efficiently.

It is intimated by a shrewd lawyer, who was a member of the last legislature, that the validity of the law providing for the erection of a new normal school for Nebraska under which the city of Kearney has secured the location after a competitive contest, is doubtful.

THE NEW REVENUE LAW.

The most sensitive part of a man's makeup is his stomach and next to that his pocketbook. The general impression prevails that the new revenue law will materially increase the tax burdens on the farmer, the merchant, the manufacturer and the banker.

The new revenue law contemplates the appraisal of all property whether tangible or intangible at its true value and its assessment for taxation at one-fifth of the appraisal.

The mere fact that under the new revenue law property of every description will have to be reported for assessment and appraised at full value does not necessarily signify that the amount of taxes levied upon the property returned will be greater than it was under the old revenue law.

The water in a soap bubble one foot in diameter is about one drop. A financial bubble of $100,000,000 may contain $20,000,000 water, $75,000,000 monopoly and $50,000,000 real value.

Let us hope the story of the boy telegraph operator who saved a train in Montana by telegraphing the news of an intended hold-up, when the chances were ninety-nine to one that he would be killed for doing so, is a true one.

During the last ten months no less than forty-four trusts with New Jersey charters have been placed in the hands of receivers, and, though they had an aggregate "authorized" capital of over $200,000,000 and had contrived to get trusted for more than $17,500,000, diligent searches have so far been able to discover among them all scarcely more than $1,500,000 of assets, which makes the lawyers and receivers wonder where they are going to get the money recently to lay out and bury the corpse.

The slack in the iron industry has started some 4,000 workers from the coke region around Pittsburgh in search of employment elsewhere. About half of them are returning to their former homes in Europe and carry each, it is said, from $200 to $500 in gold with them.

Jessie Cherry, the youngest member of the quartet of Cherry sisters, entertainers, who several years ago were quite a vogue, has just died at her home in Cedar Rapids, Ia.

ROUND ABOUT NEW YORK.

Ripples on the Current of Life in the Metropolis.

Mrs. Charles Perkins Gilman, a lecturer, in a recent address undertook to give New Yorkers information on a topic as perplexing as the age of Adam. Going back of the returns of the recent and remote floods she declared that woman was created before man.

A group of New York business men are convinced of their power to emulate the feat of Aaron and obtain water by striking a rock. If the government will co-operate with them they will undertake to establish the truth of their theory to the benefit of the city.

One of the features of the city campaign is the picturesque contests that five prominent young democrats are making for membership to the assembly, in districts that are overwhelmingly republican.

The Colorado national guard is being investigated for hoodlumism while it was preparing for a strike. It would be hard to say whether the strikers who resorted to violence of the millmen who hoodled would stand higher as anarchists.

The water in a soap bubble one foot in diameter is about one drop. A financial bubble of $100,000,000 may contain $20,000,000 water, $75,000,000 monopoly and $50,000,000 real value.

Let us hope the story of the boy telegraph operator who saved a train in Montana by telegraphing the news of an intended hold-up, when the chances were ninety-nine to one that he would be killed for doing so, is a true one.

During the last ten months no less than forty-four trusts with New Jersey charters have been placed in the hands of receivers, and, though they had an aggregate "authorized" capital of over $200,000,000 and had contrived to get trusted for more than $17,500,000, diligent searches have so far been able to discover among them all scarcely more than $1,500,000 of assets, which makes the lawyers and receivers wonder where they are going to get the money recently to lay out and bury the corpse.

The slack in the iron industry has started some 4,000 workers from the coke region around Pittsburgh in search of employment elsewhere. About half of them are returning to their former homes in Europe and carry each, it is said, from $200 to $500 in gold with them.

Jessie Cherry, the youngest member of the quartet of Cherry sisters, entertainers, who several years ago were quite a vogue, has just died at her home in Cedar Rapids, Ia.

ALASKAN BOUNDARY DECISION.

"Indianapolis Journal": The decision of the Alaskan boundary commission is not a triumph of American diplomacy, but simply an honest recognition of the justice of the American contention from the beginning of the dispute.

St. Paul Pioneer Press: In view of the fact that Canada has considerable land that is not in immediate danger of being put to practical use, it is difficult to understand why the Lady of the Snows should have become so excited over the prospect of not securing possession of a larger strip of Alaska.

Philadelphia Record: The decision in the Alaskan boundary contention is nothing more than fair and just. That such a decision has been procured at the hands of arbiters on both sides of the controversy who might have deferred or defeated agreement by standing out for self-interest is a matter of good augury.

Springfield Republican: While bitterly disappointed by the result of the Alaskan boundary arbitration, the Canadians have no real grievance because of England's part in the business, unless they go back thirty-five years to the time when Russia placed Alaska on the market.

New York Sun: It has been for a third of a century our understanding of the rights acquired by purchase from Russia. It has not been disputed until recently. It has rested upon what Americans have believed to be the only just interpretation of the terms of the treaty which defined, in 1825, the Russian possessions conveyed in 1867 to us.

"He's becoming a new suburban town now called Joneshurst." "Huh! What a commonplace name." "What a commonplace name!" Jones in the city will want to be known as "Mr. Jones of Joneshurst."—Philadelphia Press.

Mother—How often have I told you, Tommy, that you should never let the sun go down on your anger? Tommy—I can't help it, mother. I ain't no Joshua.—Yonkers Herald.

Miss Passy—It's funny that handkerchiefs always seem to be so popular as birthday gifts. Miss Apprey—Yes. I've got more than three dozen that were given to me. Miss Passy—How many? Miss Apprey—One on each birthday, eh?—Philadelphia Press.

"How do you account for the sudden epidemic of grafting in all departments of public service?" asked the reporter. "It's neither here nor there," replied the practical politician. "Hunting"

THE OLD RELIABLE

Absolutely Pure THERE IS NO SUBSTITUTE

out and exposing grafters is the latestfad—that's all.—Chicago Tribune.

They dug the bruised and battered form of the inventor out from under the ruins of his flying machine.

Like tides on a crescent sea beach When the moon is new and thin, Into our hearts high yearning, Come weeping and surging in, Come from the mystic ocean, Whose rim no foot has trod, Some of us call it longing, And others call it God.

A picnic frozen on duty. A mother stayed for her brood, Socrates drinking the hemlock, And Jesus on the cross, And millions, who, humble and nameless, The straight hard pathway trod; Some call it consecration, And others call it God.

Frank Wilcox Manager 208 S 15th St

Do You Want a crackin' good suit of clothes to put on now and wear right through the winter, and still be in good shape when you lay it aside in the spring for another season's wear?

DO YOU

Want a crackin' good suit of clothes to put on now and wear right through the winter, and still be in good shape when you lay it aside in the spring for another season's wear?

Want a crackin' good suit of clothes to put on now and wear right through the winter, and still be in good shape when you lay it aside in the spring for another season's wear?

Want a crackin' good suit of clothes to put on now and wear right through the winter, and still be in good shape when you lay it aside in the spring for another season's wear?

Want a crackin' good suit of clothes to put on now and wear right through the winter, and still be in good shape when you lay it aside in the spring for another season's wear?

Want a crackin' good suit of clothes to put on now and wear right through the winter, and still be in good shape when you lay it aside in the spring for another season's wear?

Want a crackin' good suit of clothes to put on now and wear right through the winter, and still be in good shape when you lay it aside in the spring for another season's wear?

Want a crackin' good suit of clothes to put on now and wear right through the winter, and still be in good shape when you lay it aside in the spring for another season's wear?