

CATTLE KILLED, BUT MEN LIVE

Strange Results Follow Collision of Two
B. & M. Freight Trains

SEVEN MEN HAVE REMARKABLE ESCAPES

Engine Plows Through Caboose
Where Men Are Sitting and Kills
Cattle in Cars on Ahead.

Seven trainmen narrowly escaped death yesterday morning as an early hour in a collision between two stock trains near Seymour road, on the B. & M. railroad.

Both trains were heavily loaded with stock. Each train upon reaching the summit of the hill in the vicinity of Seymour road put on a full head of steam and ran down the steep grade as fast as possible. In the endeavor to get a sufficient momentum to carry it up the steep grade ahead of it. The first train had made the run-down the hill and failed to acquire sufficient momentum to get up the hill on the other side. The train in the rear came down the hill with great speed and it appeared to the engineer that the train ahead of him was proceeding slowly up the steep grade ahead of him, but when it was too late to stop his train he saw that the train in front had come to a standstill.

Not a Man Killed.

The engine of the rear train smashed into the caboose and two men in the first train. And a most remarkable thing happened. In the caboose were seven men and with the exception of a slight bruise upon one of them not a single one was harmed. The engine continued to plow its way through the next two cattle cars, however, and cattle were killed in each of these cars. The caboose was literally smashed to pieces, and the engine was reduced to a bit of scrap iron, and yet through it all the seven passengers in the caboose escaped with slight bruises. Several head of cattle, however, in the stock cars ahead were killed.

Railroad men in speaking of this affair say it was one of the strangest things that ever came under their observation. They could not figure it out how the men in the caboose escaped instant death, while cattle in the cars ahead were killed.

Could Not Sleep for Coughing.

"In the winter of 1901 I contracted a severe cold and it resulted in pneumonia," says Mr. Bert Hatch of South Dayton, N. Y. "For five days and nights I could not sleep, was constantly coughing. Mr. J. J. Russell, knowing of my illness, sent me a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and in a short time it gave me relief, so that I could sleep, and two bottles of the remedy cured me. I had taken five different remedies, but could get no relief until I began using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Too much can not be said for such a medicine." When a druggist takes the liberty of sending a medicine to a friend you may know that the remedy sent is a good one.

Announcements of the Theaters.
This evening E. J. Kendall and his company will repeat "The Vagabond" at the Boyd. The success achieved by this comedy has been entirely deserved. It gives Mr. Kendall an excellent chance for the exhibition of the peculiar quiet style of comedy and humorous expression of which he is a master, and has as well some excellent opportunities for other actors.

On Wednesday afternoon and Wednesday evening "Buried at Sea," one of the new melodramas, will be presented. It is a powerful play, well written, and acted by a competent company.

The trend of five closely written acts of "Iris," the new play by the famous English playwright, A. W. Pinero, in which Virginia Harned is to appear under the direction of Charles Frohman at the Boyd Friday, Saturday, and Sunday, toward the according to common report, toward the everlasting varieties of life and retribution. From what is said of this much talked about play, it seems to be an accepted fact that it is without technical faults or inequalities of workmanship, while its episodes have the breath of life in other words, about as true to nature as it is possible for a playwright to create both his scenes and his characters. There are abundant reasons for entertaining the belief that Miss Harned will be given a generous welcome by the theatergoers, as generally by a natural desire to see this greatly discussed play. Seat sale opens at the box office today.

Harry Clay Blaney and his big company in "Across the Pacific" pleased another large audience at the Krug last night. The defense of the block house in the Philippines, with its galling gun and other realistic effects, makes a great hit. There will be only one more matinee of "Across the Pacific," Wednesday afternoon, when the price will be 25 cents for the best seats.

Reserved seats for Ward & Vokes, in their big musical comedy, "The Two Pinkas," at the Krug, November 5 and 6, will be placed on sale Thursday morning of this week.

CONDITIONS GENERALLY GOOD

Crop Results for Past Week Favorably Reported Along the Burlington Route.

The Burlington crop report for the week ending October 24 says that the weather in all territory has been very dry. In eastern Nebraska the days have been warm and the nights quite cool, with several very heavy frosts. All of the wheat seeding has been completed on the two eastern divisions and probably about the average acreage of wheat has been sown. On the western division in certain localities the seeding is practically completed, with an average acreage, and on the other parts of the division the ground has been too dry to plow a part of the time. On the eastern and southern ends of the Atlantic division about an average acreage of wheat has been sown. The recent dry weather has been very favorable for drying the corn and considerable husking already has been done. The yield of the corn crop is about as has been predicted for the last month. There is an abundance of rough feed in the country for the stock and the pastures and ranges are in good condition.

POWER FINDS NO DEVICES

Sheriff Declares He Could Locate No Gambling Outlets at the Diamond Saloon.

Additional developments in the gambling cases which have been before Judge Vinson at frequent intervals of late, were noted yesterday when Sheriff Power returned a search warrant, claiming that he could find no gambling paraphernalia at the Diamond saloon. Another new feature of this matter, the papers in which were entitled, the State of Nebraska against V. L. Chucovich, Pat Denison, A. C. May, Asa Blufford, Fred Summers, William Dalrymple, James Costen and Meyer Cohen, included the complaint of J. J. Dunn, who charges the defendants with being common gamblers. Each of the defendants gave bond in the sum of $50, with J. A. Sonnenberg as surety, and their trial is set for November 10.

BASE BURNER

and all we ask for them is $5.00 down and $5.00 per month, or the wholesale price for cash.

Mr. Douglas, 518 South 26th, who recently moved to Omaha from Philadelphia, called at our store to see a Base Burner. When he saw the Rochester, N. Y., Base Burner he asked the price and he would take it. He said he knew all about it and knew that there was no better made and that was as cheap as he could buy it in the east. Mrs. Cavenagh, 2117 South 19th, after she ordered a steel range last week said, "If this range proves to be as good as the Base Burner I bought of you four years ago I will be happy. The Base Burner is the best I ever used. We sell the best stoves sold in Omaha, and we make the easiest terms."
