GRAIN AND PRODUCE MARKET

Weakness in Wheat Caused by News of Lower Prices in Europe.

CORN PRICES RULE WEAK ON LIKE NEWS

Oats Market Follows Lead of Other Grains, Prices Being Lower, While Provision Prices Hold Steady.

CHICAGO, Nov. 1 -- Lower cables, favor The opening was weak, due to the poor showing or cables, large receipts in the northwest and southwest and layorable weather, December being off his pacto to the poor at Standard to the contract grant in the northwest and southwest and layorable weather, December being off his pacto to the at Standard to the mount in the Lecember option was especially wenk and had a declining tendency from the start. The persistent selling by the big operator caused many recent buyers to turn sellers and this fact aided the down turn. December declined to 19th and closed at 19th 19th, and flour were equal to 54.300 bushels. Minneapolis, Chicago and Duluth reported receipts of 1.33 cars against 37 cars last week.

Corn ruled weak, due largely to invercables and the bearish weekly government report. The market was also influenced by the weakness in wheat, which not only encouraged abort selling by provision interests, but brought out some liquidation by yesterday's buyers. The market received some support early from the good cash business of yesterady and on scattered reports of poor husking returns. After selling between $35.913/2, c and 41/2, December closed $453/2, lower at 43/2, Local receipts were 4/3 cars, with 51 of contract grade.

Local receipts were 4.4 cars, with 51 of contract grade.

Local receipts were 4.4 cars, with 51 of contract grade.

Longs were inclined to liquidate their holdings in oats, owing to the weakness in the cash article yesterday and to the liberal receipts. Weakness in wheat and corn was also a help in inducing freer offerings. Commission houses bought sparingly, but the demand was not sufficient to prevent a small loss. December closed the lower at 35c, after ranging between 37% and 35%. Local receipts were 315 cars.

Provisions held steady in the face of a larger run of hogs than had been expected and a decline of from 15 to 20 cents in prices at the yards. Covering by shorts on the big decline in contract stocks was the supporting feature. Packers were credited with selling, but the offerings were readily absorbed and prices showed little change. January pork and lard each closed a shade lower at $12.7% [12.30] and $15.5578. While ribs were 5c lower at $13.77%.

Poreign Financial. LONDON, Nov. 2.—Money was in better supply in the market today, the banks lending freely. Discounts were very firm on the purchase of $1,500,000 in gold in the open market yesterday for New York, together with increased fear that withdrawals from the Bank of England for the United States will result in a decline in the table of exchange and the expectation that the balance of the arrivals of gold from the Cape and Australia will be taken to America. on the Business on the Stock exchange was un-settled, owing to the disquieting far eastern news and to the demand for gold for Amer-ica causing talk of dear money and a higher bank rate. Consols, nevertheless, were firmer, after a dull opening. Home rails Home rails cheerful, the firmer, after a dull opening. Home rails were easy. Americans were cheerful, the engagement of gold for New York having a good effect on them. Union Pacific and Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe were the features. There was an indisposition, however, to operate in Americans because of the holiday in New York. The market closed firm.

PARIS: Nov. 3.—At the opening of the bourse today stocks were irregular, with a general reaction in prices. At the close the market was calmer. Rio Tintos lost 8f.

Arensen's feats of balancing are of such a remarkable nature that he creates wonderment and comment. Charles Dickson and his leading women in "Heart to Heart Talks" are scoring heavily also. They have some humorous dialogues and exhibit some cleanout and pleasing acting. These two features do not receive all the honors, however, for each act comes in for a share of the plaudits. The next matines will be given on Thursday.

Beats are selling rapidly for the Ward and Vokes engagement at the Krug theater Thursday and Friday nights. Despite the fact that Ward and Vokes are assisted by sixty people in the production of "A Pair of Pinks." the Krug theater popular prices will prevail during this engagement. A feature of Fred E. With the end of the year the notorious McDonald garbage contract, which for ten years has constituted a monopoly of garbage collection and disposal, will terminate. councilmen and other city officials are tryng to devise a new scheme for keeping the city clean and healthful in a more saisfactory way.

Some months ago the council requested City Engineer Rosewater to make a report on the garbage situation and to catimate the cost of an incinerator, or crematory, wherein the refuse might be destroyed. Since then the engineer has collected a lot of data from the experience of other cities, but he has not found time to compile the information. His conclusions, however, are in favor of a strictly municipal administration of the problem in order that all householders, regardless of means, may be treated ulike.

While there are no funds available to operate a system of collection wagons, it is said to be possible to set aside funds at the beginning of the year for the construction of a crematory.

Fix it by Ordinance.

"Under conditions that exist," says Councilman Nicholson, "I would be in favor of passing an ordinance fixing a dumping ground, requiring water-tight wagons and permitting anyone to engage in the garbage-hauling business who would pay a small Heense fee and furnish the proper bond. I would make failure to use the city dumping ground punishable not only by fines, but by taking away the license, and would let competition regulate the prices. "It is clear to me that the day of the garbage monopoly is over. We must either have the work done by the city government or permit independent firms and in dividuals to do it under the proper regulations."

VICTIM OF TIN-STAR POLICE Deadwood Barber Proves Easy Picking for Pair of Money Sharks.

Wash G. Cleyburn, a tonsorial artist, lately arrived from Deadwood, S. D., has reported to the police the operations of two confidence men, through and by whose machinations Mr. Cleyburn finds himself short three $5 bills and two $10 bills. Cleyburn told the police he had some to Omaha to visit relatives, but finding they had left the city, set out to have a good time by himself and to aid in forgetting his disappointment in not finding his relatives in the city, drank just a little. He drank enough to become very congenial and soon had several equally congenial companions traveling with him. One young fellow in particular impressed him-he was so jolly, spent his money lavishly, became extremely confidential and insisted on paying for all the drinks.

This young man, whose name Cleyburn told the police he had forgotten, easily in-gratiated himself into the good will of his traveling mate and when Cleyburn felt he was in too high a degree of conviviality, who should he trust, at his friend's suggestion, but his new found friend with his money for safekeeping until the effects of the liquor should wear off.

"I gave him all I had," said Cleyburn. "He took it and we went together to the a man dressed like an officer and wearing a star. He seemed to be particularly inpose.' My friend appeared to be very much frightened and shivered like a leaf. time looking like he wanted to run. 'Come, and my friend handed over my roll of money. The fellow dressed like an officer happy in the detection of what he said was a $20 counterfeit bill which he extracted from my roll. I was more surprised than panion, and he suggested that we run. We ran up onto the street and that's the last I have seen of my friend or the officer."

This is the second time within a mouth that a tin-star officer has worked his trick at the Union depot and the police will make a strenuous effort to capture him "redhanded." The first trick an old soldier enroute to San Francisco to enter the Old Soldiers' home was the victim and was robbed of $35.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy cured our little 4-year-old boy of croup in fifteen minutes. My wife and I have used this remedy in our family for the past five years, having tried many other kinds previous to that time, and can say that we consider it far superior to any other. We are never without it in our home .- Frank Hellyer, Ipava, Ill.

change is progressing rapidly. G. W. Wattles, who was appointed a committee of one at the Commercial club luncheon Monday to draft a constitution and bylaws for the proposed exchange, has been busy all day getting additional names for membership. Starting out in the morning with the avowed intention of closing the day with 100 names on his list, he had gained eight additions by midday, making the total sixty. A meeting of parties will be called in a few days and the exchange will then be organized. The minority of those who have agreed to take seats so far are grain men and the majority men of other business but this is according to the ideas of Mr. Stickney. The principal topic of conversation everywhere among business men has been the proposed exchange, which is to be the first step for setting up a grain market.

READY TO TALK OF BRIDGES County Commissioners Return from

county during the last week the county commissioners are now in a position to know where bridges and culverts are needed and it is expected that at their session Thursday the commissioners will take some definite action relative to the bridges which have been under consideration for some time.

The Elkhorn river is especially in nee of some bridges and the farmers near the town of Elkhorn are loud in their demands for better facilities for travel. It is expected that the commissioners also attempt to enjoin William Hopper, jr., from constructing a fence across an eldestablished highway just north of the town of Elkhorn. Mr. Hopper already has erected his fence, but since the road has been open for truffic for more than twenty years the commissioners claim that it has thereby become a public highway and that Mr. Hopper cannot legally build the fence, although it is on his own land.
