(From a Staff Correspondent.) Jackson is well known over the state and is particularly strong in his district. In the convention which nominated Judge Sedgwick he was the leader of the Barnes forces and throw them to Sedgwick at the right time to make him. He was the leader of the Barnes delegation this year and assisted greatly in the campaign that elected Barnes. While of course either Judge Barnes nor any of the other judges are saying a word, there is no question that Jackson stands high with the two republican members.

"The election of Judge Barnes by 10,000 plurality," said John L. Webster, vice presidential possibility, "means that Roosevelt will carry the state by at least 30,000 and that is a very conservative estimate. It means that Nebraska is a republican state safe and sound. I am gratified at the returns that have come in on the state ticket and at the election of Judge Barnes He is a hard worker and he will look into every detail of every case he is required to pass upon. He is recognized by the members of the bar of the entire state as a most able lawyer and judge."

"I am grateful to the people of Nebraska for their confidence in me as expressed by their votes. The result of the election shows that Nebraska is a republican state and that in the coming presidential election will roll up an old-time majority. I am grateful to the state central committee for the manner in which it conducted the campaign and in making such a clean fight." Chairman Weber of the populist committee was pleasantly joked during the day because he based his claims for Judge Suilivan's election on the wet weather, which was all that he had asked for. He said: "We lost because we couldn't get our ellows to line up."

Letton Succeeds Pound.

This morning Judge C. B. Letton of Fairbury was appointed a member of the supreme court commission, to take the place of Judge Roscoe Pound, who resigned some months ago to become dean of the law de-partment of the State university. Judge Letton is serving his second term as judge of the First district and his resignation was accepted by Governor Mickey this morning. He is conceded to be well qualified for the place and one of the braintest members of the bar. His friends predict that he will give a good account of himself as a member of the commission and that he will be heard from later.

The collection by popular subscription of the amount of money necessary to secure the gift of John D. Rockefeller for the erecon of the $100,000 building for the university, has received the approval of the Commercial club. At a meeting of the club this orning Chancellor Andrews told the memers that the university management was ery anxious to secure the religious building and that to raise the money he had started out with the popular subscription idea. The club at once adopted a resolution approving the project as making for the hiic welfare and recommended the plan o the hearty co-operation of the people.
