PRESIDENT'S ACT FOLLOWS PRECEDENT

Recognition of New Republic Only Manner in Which Disturbances Could Be Restrained and Treaty Rights Preserved.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.- The United States government has recognized the do SPANISH facto government of Panama. It was announced at the State department after the return of Secretary Hay from the cabinet meeting that instructions have been sent to United States Minister Beaupre at Bogots (assuming that he has not left the capital yet) and to Mr. Ehrman, the United States de facto government is recognized.

that existing concessions will not suffer. of the recent stirring events.

Position of United States. WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.-The secretary of state today made the following statement in regard to affairs on the isthmus of Panma:

The action of the president in the Panama matter is not only is the strictest accordance with the principles of justice and equity and in line with all of the best precedents of our public policy, but it was the only course he could have taken in compliance with our treaty rights and obligations. By our treaty, entered into with New Granada in the year 1846, New Granada in the year 1846, New Granada in the year 1846, New Granada in the year 1841, across the isthmus of Panma upon any mode of communication that now exist or that may be hereafter constructed shall be free and open to the government and citizens of the United States."

This is a right which we acquired by the treaty, not gratuitously conveyed, but in return for an important compensation, for in the came article the government of the United States guarantees "positively and efficaciously to New Granada, by the present stipulation, the perfect neutrality of the before mentioned isthmus with the view that the free transit from the view that the free transit from the other see may not be interrupted or embarrassed in any future time while this treaty exists, and in consequence the United States guarantee in the manner the rights of sovereignty and property which New Granada has and possesses over the said tarritory."

Quotes President Polk. The close connection thus created be-tween the two governments was well set forth by President Polk in his message transmitting the treaty to the senate. He

"The importance of the concession to the commercial and political interests of the United States cannot be overrated. The route by the isthmus of Pansma is the shortest between the two oceans and from the information here contained it would seem the most practical for a railroad or canal. The vast additions to our commerce which would result from such a communication, not only with out west coast of America, but with Asia and the Islands of the Pacific, are too obvious to require any detail. Such a passage would save us from a long and dangerous navigation of more than 1,000 miles around the Horn and render our communication with our own possessions on the northwest coast of America comparatively easy and speedy. The treaty to a foreign nation in which the United States will have no common interest with that nation. On the centurary, we are mure deeply and directly interested in the subject of the guarantee than New Granada herself or any other country." Granada herself or any other country.

Considerations Still More Important.

These considerations, the controlling nature of which were at once recognized so long ago, have become more and more important in every year that has chapsed since the treaty was written. Our acquisition of Hawali and the Philippines has given them a greatly enhanced value. The control in the interest of commerce and traffic of the whole civilized world of the means of undisturbed transit across the Isthmus of Pamma has become of transcendent importance to the United States.

The right to this control we have never disturbed transit across the Ishmus of Pamana has become of transcendent importarce to the United States.

The right to this control we have never forfeited by any laxity of our own either in the assertion of our rights or in the performance of our duty under the treaty.

In 1828 Mr. Everett assured the Peruvian minister that we should not hestiate to mointain the neutrality of the isthmus in the case of war between Peru and Colombia. In 1826 Colombia, which has always hean vigitant to avail itself of its privilege conferred by the treaty, expressed its expectation that in the event of war between Peru and Spain the United States would carry into effect the guarantes of neutrality. There have been few administraticas of the State department in which this treaty has not, either by the one side or the other, been used as a bards of more or less important demands. It was said by Mr. Pish in 1871 that the Department of State had reason to believe that an attack upon Colombian sovereignty in the istimus had on several occasions been averted by warning from this government. In 1886, When Colombia was under the menace of hostilities from Italy in the Cerceuti case, Mr. Bayard expressed the serious concern that the United States could not feel that a European power could resort to force against a sinter republic of this hemisphere
as to the sovereignty and uninterrupted use of a part of whose territory we are guaranters under the solemn faith of a treaty.

Colombia means to war. Of that I am certain. This government will find that it will have a series of complications on its hands not unlike that offered by the Indians when they interfere with the territorial aggression of this government, and it the trouble the Colombians will make will be similar to that of the Filipinos, with the conduct of the warfare far more difficult. I believe the administration will not have this matter to decide. It is a question for congress, and that body is not likely to shirk the responsibility.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 6 .- The twenty-second congress of the Protestant Episcopal Church of America came to a close today. The morning meeting had for its topic: 'Is it desirable to change the name of this church."
