NEBRASKA KEEPS WINNING

Cornhuskers Pile Up Thirty-Three Points Against Illinois Collegians.

MUDDY FIELD PREVENTS LARGER SCORE

Knox Scores Goal on a Place Kick, the Only Chance the Visitors Had During the Game.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, Nov. 7.—(Special Telegram.)—Nebraska university piled up six touchdowns against Knox college on the gridiron today and added one more game to the Cornhuskers' long string of victories. A field goal afforded the Galesburg collegians their only solace, for in all other departments they were hopelessly outmatched. Nebraska had an advantage of several pounds in the average weights and only a muddy field prevented Booth's pupils from running up one of the largest scores of the cornhuskers' season. The heavy footing made sprints around the ends almost an impossibility, and Nebraska was content to buck through the center or to smash the tackles and ends, their efforts resulting in steady advances toward the Knox goal.

The statistics of the game are overwhelmingly in the Cornhuskers' favor. In advancing the ball Nebraska plunged along for a total of 410 yards, while Knox could go but fifty, the latter including one dash of twenty-five yards by Captain Grogan on a fake punt. Returned kicks netted Nebraska 145 yards and Knox thirty-five. Penalties operated much more severely against Nebraska than Knox, the distances lost being forty and ten yards respectively. Knox was thrown back thirty-five yards in endeavoring to advance the ball, while Nebraska lost nine on the same account. Knox was able to make its distance on downs only once during the entire struggle, while Nebraska did not forfeit possession of the ball even once on downs.

The inability of Knox to run Nebraska's ends or to pierce the line, compelled them to punt continuously during the game, and much of the time Grogan and Benedict engaged in a punting duel, in which the Cornhusker kicker had the better of the exchange.

Nebraska's offense was too powerful for Knox to withstand and the Cornhuskers rushed the ball down the field and across the visitors' goal in three minutes of play. Thereafter it was only a question of the size of Nebraska's score. Booth sent in a substitute back field in the last half with satisfactory results, the new men equaling the record of the veteran backs by scoring three touchdowns during their half. Wilson was pulled back frequently from left end and was used to good advantage in carrying the ball. Captain Bender once skirted Knox's right end for thirty-five yards, the longest run of the game, while two runs of twenty-five yards each are credited to Benedict, Nebraska's right end.

The field goal by Captain Grogan of Knox was from the thirty-five-yard line after a fair catch and was one of the prettiest ever witnessed on the Nebraska gridiron. The lineup:

Yale Defeats Syracuse.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 7.—Yale defeated Syracuse at foot ball today by 39 to 6. Syracuse was not strong enough to threaten Yale's goal at any time and never came within range of the posts for a kick save once, when Schade made a long end run. Then the ball was called back and the play disallowed because of the holding in the Syracuse line. Yale displayed a lack of team work and the visitors' line was too light to withstand the onslaughts of the heavy Yale men.

Ohio Strong in Second Half.

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Nov. 7.—Michigan's regular team, after scoring 36 points on Ohio state university in the first half today, was held to no score in the second half, and was practically outplayed. Only the call of time saved Michigan's goal. Score: Michigan, 36; Ohio, 0.

Cornell and Lehigh Tie.

ITHACA, N. Y., Nov. 7.—Cornell and Lehigh played a tie game of foot ball here today, neither side scoring. Cornell showed much improvement over the game it played with Princeton last Saturday, but Lehigh was able to puncture its heavy line at will.

HARVARD HAS AN EASY GAME

Outclasses Pennsylvania in Every Respect, but Latter Scores on Fumble.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 7.—Harvard today defeated the University of Pennsylvania in their annual foot ball game, 17 to 10. Pennsylvania scored one touchdown in the first half and one in the second, while Harvard scored twice in the opening half and once in the final half.

Pennsylvania was outplayed at all points. The score does not show the marked superiority of the Harvard eleven. Only twice during the entire game were the Quakers able to hold the Crimson eleven for downs. Pennsylvania's defense was awfully weak, while their offence was smashed to pieces by the heavy Crimson forwards before the plays would get fairly under way. Eliminating the fumbles of Carl Marshall, the red and blue would never have been within striking distance of the Harvard goal, while the latter's total would have been at least 30. The lineup:

PRINCETON PLAYS POOR GAME

Defeats Lafayette by Score of Eleven to Nothing in Poor Exhibition.

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 7.—Princeton defeated Lafayette 11 to 0 in one of the poorest exhibitions of foot ball seen here this season. After the first touchdown, which was made during the first ten minutes of play, Princeton seemed unable to handle the heavier team and did not score until the last minutes of play, when Dewitt kicked a field goal from the forty-yard line. Lineup:

Scrubs Win a Game.

The West Omaha scrubs and the Hanscom Park team played Saturday afternoon, the former winning by the score of 25 to 0. Chicago Defeats Indians.

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—Chicago defeated Haskell Indians today, 17 to 11, but the kind of foot ball put up by the victors was not of an encouraging nature. Chicago's scores were made on straight foot ball, while F. Hauser gave Haskell five points by a field goal from placement, kicking from Chicago's forty-yard line.

TARKIO IS GAME, BUT LOSES

Missourians Play Fast Ball, but Creighton Plays Little Faster.

SCORE IS EIGHTEEN TO NOTHING

Visitors' Halfback is Seriously Injured, but He Stays on the Gridiron and Tries Hard to Win.

In a contest for foot ball honors yesterday afternoon the Creighton college eleven defeated the Tarkio eleven by a score of 18 to 0.

The game was the fiercest and most stubborn contest that has been witnessed in this city during the present foot ball season. Although the score does not indicate it, the two teams were pretty evenly matched and barring the two touchdowns made by Creighton during the first few moments of play, the game would have been quite even and in many respects very spectacular.

The tackling of the Tarkio players was much superior to that of Creighton. Repeated and costly fumbles during the first few minutes of play were very disastrous to Tarkio and had much to do in deciding the game. Captain Callahan for Creighton got in one of his quarterback runs during the first two minutes of play and made a touchdown. He came near being hurt as he was tackled near the uprights at the north end of the field, but aside from getting a good shaking up nothing came of it.

The feature of the contest was the grit of the Tarkio eleven. This was especially noticeable in the case of Laur, the left halfback for the visiting eleven. He was so seriously hurt near the end of the second half that he was unconscious for a time and no one was able to tell exactly how or where he was hurt. He finally came to and got on his feet, only to topple over again. But when he got up next time he permitted in playing and despite the combined efforts of his team mates and the coach he could not be got out of the game. He played until the end and it was largely owing to his condition that Creighton secured its last touchdown, as the play which Welch made was right through that portion of the line and just outside the end, a position where an opposing halfback is always on duty.

Wind Against Tarkio.

At the beginning Tarkio had the north end of the gridiron, with the wind opposing it. The kickoff was made to Creighton, who returned fifteen yards. McGovern and Welch were called upon to do some line bucking, and brought the ball gradually toward the opponent's goal line. Near the center of the field the Creighton team fumbled twice, but was able to retain the ball in each instance. After the ball had been placed in the center of the field Creighton was penalized five yards for having too many men behind the line. Following this little incident, Captain Callahan signaled for a quarterback play, and getting around the opposing forwards he skirted the entire field for a touchdown, amid the cheers of the large audience.

Creighton kicked goal, and the score was 6 to 0 in favor of Creighton at the end of two minutes' play.

On the next kick, Callahan sent the ball to Tarkio's goal line, and a return of five yards was made, but on the next play the visitors fumbled, and the ball passed to Creighton on its opponent's fifteen-yard line. For offside playing the Missourians were then penalized five yards. On the next two plays Creighton failed to make very much distance, but on the third play Welch found a hole in the line and went through for eight yards. This brought the ball to the two-yard line, and on the next play McGovern was pushed and pulled across for a touchdown.

Tarkio made the next kickoff to Welch, who returned five yards. By some good straight work by Kehoe, and consistent line bucking by the back field, Creighton was able to advance the ball to Tarkio's twelve-yard line, from where Callahan attempted a drop kick for a goal, but the kick was blocked just as Callahan fell on it, and time was called for the first half.

Missourians Brace Up.

Creighton was unable to do much during the last half, as the visitors took a decided brace, and it seemed for a time that they might score. The play was fast, and each side was penalized for offside play. After an exchange of punts the ball finally passed to Creighton on a return of fifteen yards made by Callahan from one of Stewart's long punts. The tackles were then called upon frequently, and Lamphier did valiant work, advancing the ball all the way from five to eight yards. Welch and Kehoe also were called upon repeatedly, and the ball was finally brought to the two-yard line, from where Lamphier was pushed over for the third and last touchdown, and from which Callahan kicked a goal.

There remained but a few moments of play, and during this brief period no scores were made, the game coming to a close with the ball in Tarkio's possession, and fifteen yards from its own goal line.

The two teams lined up at 3:30, as follows:

TARKIO.			CREIGHTON.
Moyle	L. E.	R. E.	Coad
Wiles	L. T.	R. T.	Lamphier
Moore	L. G.	R. G.	Delaney

Drake Wins from Cornell.

DES MOINES, Nov. 7.—(Special Telegram.)—Foot ball teams of Drake university and Cornell college met here today, and Drake won a decisive victory, 35 to 6. The game lacked spirit, and was no such game as was played the day before by high school teams. In the first half Cornell first scored, Cowin catching the ball on a fumble by Kintz, and carrying it for a touchdown, and Vanburen kicking goal. Then there was much hard work between the lines, and little progress was made until Burcham of Drake kicked and tied the score. In the second half the progress was slow until Burcham again kicked goal. On the kickoff Cornell made a safety, and added to the Drake score, and the game ended with Burcham trying for a place kick.

Heavier Team Wins.

GRINNELL, Ia., Nov. 7.—(Special Telegram.)—The Iowa State college foot ball team defeated Grinnell today by a score of 41 to 6. The game, though one-sided, was not devoid of spectacular plays. The visitors outweighed the home team twenty pounds to the man, and played a careful, hard game. Ames made their gains chiefly through the line, while Grinnell's were chiefly by end plays.

ONAWA, Ia., Nov. 7.—(Special.)—The Onawa high school foot ball team defeated the Tekamah, Neb., team here this afternoon by a score of 43 to 0. Twenty-five and twenty-minute halves were played. STUDENTS DEFEAT ALUMNI

Present High School Team Puts the Has-Beens Out of Business.

HARD TUSSLE IS REQUIRED, HOWEVER

Score is Six to Nothing and Game is Full of Ginger from the Beginning to the End.

The present high school foot ball team demonstrated its superiority over the alumni yesterday afternoon at Vinton street park by defeating the latter by a score of 6 to 0.

The alumni players, under command of "Gene" Tracy, the old high school halfback, exerted themselves to the utmost to prevent the students from scoring, but in the middle of the second half Burnett broke through the line and made a splendid run of thirty-five yards for a touchdown, his interference preventing any of the opposing team touching him.

The high school had the ball most of the time and kept it in its opponents' territory most of the game. Captain Thompson of the students was out of the game with an injured leg to insure his ability to play in the coming battle with Lincoln in Lincoln next Saturday. Putnam, Stein and Benson did most of the defensive work, frequently breaking through and tackling behind the line. Loftus did steady work in offense, sometimes being called upon twice and three times in succession as he was certain to cover the required ground. Burnett's runs were brilliant, but the was due mostly to his excellent interference. Stein made many fierce plunges and was always to be relied upon to gain.

On the alumni side the most conspicuous figure was Captain Tracy, who dashed through the lines for good gains almost at will. But not having played for two years his wind was poor and he could not be used often. Cathers and Fields held their part of the line very well and often stopped the high school rustlers. A crowd of 300 spectators witnessed the game.

Game is Called.

The game was called at 3:30 and the high school kicked to Tracy, who returned ten yards. On the first play Tracy, whose prowess was greatly respected by the high school team, executed a dashing run for twenty yards, being finally downed by Yodr. Drummy made five, Tracy five and Cathers failed to gain. Tracy bucked the line for six yards and Hughes for three. On the next play Loftus tackled Tracy three yards behind the line and then Pike punted to Loftus, who caught the ball outside the field. Stein covered first ten yards and then five, Loftus eight then twelve. The ball went careering up the field in the high school's hands until alumni's eight-yard line was reached, when the alumni held the high school for downs. The alumni punted and after this the ball alternated between the teams, each holding the other often for downs. The half ended with the ball on the alumni's twenty-five-yard line in the high school's possession.

At 4:30 the alumni kicked off and by good work by Stein, Burnett and Loftus the ball was placed on the alumni's thirty-five-yard line, from which place Burnett made a fine run through the line for a touchdown. Harry Putnam kicked goal against a strong wind. The high school kicked to Pike, who returned fifteen yards but the alumni were soon held for downs. The high school by good work forced the ball to the three-yard line, but lost on the following two downs. Yoder attempted a goal from the field but failed. The game then ended with the ball on the alumni's twenty-yard line. Score, 6 to 0. Line-up:

REDUCE CHURCH ALLOWANCES

Methodist Extension Society Finds that it Has Overdrawn Probable Revenue.

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 7.—During the final session of the general committee of the Church Extension society of the Methodist Episcopal church today a reduction of $60,645 was made in the authorized financial assistance for church build ng in the different conferences. Upon completing its work of authorization it found that it had exceeded its prospective funds for the coming twelve months by this sum. In reducing the allowances it was necessary to cut down the amounts promised a number of the conferences. As a rule the conferences reduced were those which had been granted substantial advances over last year, but this method did not prevail all through the work of equalizing the total amounts. Some of the wealthier conferences were cut down to sums somewhat less than those they received last year.

The total asked for church extension work this year is about $3,000 more than was asked by the committee in 1902. The committee concluded its work today and final adjournment was taken.
